LARCENY CHARGED

Woman Was Arraigned in Police Court Today

Anna Holveva was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on three counts of larceny. In two of the counts she was charged with the larceny of underwear and hosiery from the Lawrence Manufacturing Company. In the third count it was alleged that she stole yarn from the Bigelow Carpet Company.

Major E. J. Noyes conducted the case for the government and the defendant was represented by J. Joseph Hennessy. During the course of the testimony considerable of a personal nature was brought out, also the fact that she had married since she was arrested.

Anil Jones, overseer of the shirt press room of the Lawrence Manufacturing Co., was the first witness for the government. He identified ten pairs of drawers, 16 shirts and a number of pairs of stockings which he claimed were manufactured by the Lawrence company.

On cross-examination he testified that he did not know when the goods were stolen. The girl worked in one of his rooms, but has not been employed since June, 1908. He was positive that the shirts and drawers had been manufactured by the Lawrence company, but could not swear that other companies did not manufacture stockings similar to the ones offered as evidence.

Major E. J. Noyes testified that a week ago Monday night he went to the room of the defendant. In a trunk he found some underwear that he recognized as belonging to the Lawrence company.

The next day witness, accompanied by Special Officer John Regis, met the defendant in the yard of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. Through Mr. Regis, acting as interpreter, the woman said that she had been living with a man for four years, he having promised to marry her when they left Greece. She said that the man had brought the garments out of the mill and he had put them in her trunk.

GEO. G. KELLY'S WILL

Contested by Mattie Hatch of Manchester, N. H.

The probate court room was crowded with busy lawyers and their clients this morning when the regular session came on, but much of the business had to go over as only one judge put in an appearance. Judge Lawton is still on the famous Russell will case, while Judge McIntire was called away by the death of his sister. The business of two sessions, consequently, fell upon Judge Chamberlin of Plymouth county, who is substituting in Middlesex. Judge Chamberlin took up the business of the uncontested session first and the following wills were presented for probate:

Lillian Buckminster, Annie L. Richardson, Elizabeth McDaniels, Frances Norman and Mary E. Reid, all of Lowell.

The following administrations were granted: Ruth R. Grant, Isale Jalbert, Mary Brown and Owen Rogers, all of Lowell.

Kelly Will Case
Notice of a contest over the will of the late George G. Kelly, "Stonewall" Kelly of Dracut, was filed in the probate court this morning by John J. Pickman in behalf of Mattie Hatch of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Kelly died recently, leaving an estate of considerable value.

In the will the testator leaves his Dracut property to "Mary C. Leach of Exeter, N. H., daughter of my late wife." To Charles F. Butterfield of Antrim, N. H., he bequeathed $1000. To George Mossman of Westminster, $500; to George W. Greene, a cousin, $250; to John T. Greene, a cousin, $500; to Angelia V. Trull of Lowell, $250.

The residue of the estate is left to Mary C. Leach of Exeter and Charles E. Knowles of Pittsburg as executrix and executor respectively, with the recommendation that they be not obliged to furnish sureties.

The concluding clause in the will states that as the testator had given all his property in California to Alarno E. Mossman of Westminster, son of his late wife, prior to his death, he felt that no further bequest was necessary. The estate is said to amount to about $25,000.

It is understood that other heirs beside Mattie Hatch will be represented as contestants.

Stanley W. Qua appears for Mrs. Mary C. Leach in the case.

Expected in Salem When Simon B. Harris Becomes Chief

SALEM, Jan. 18.—It is expected that Simon B. Harris of Lowell will assume charge of the police department on Thursday. Mayor Howard will nominate Mr. Harris for city marshal at the meeting of the aldermen this evening and it is reasonably certain that a majority at least will confirm the nomination.

Mr. Harris is well known to many citizens here and is highly spoken of by all. Col. John W. Hart, for 25 years city marshal of this city, says Mr. Harris will make a splendid official. Police men stated last evening that they knew Mr. Harris and were satisfied that he would make a good executive officer.

All classes are aroused over the allegations made by Mayor Howard relative to the conditions in hotels that hold innholders' licenses. His direct statement that he saw a boy under the influence of liquor, however money was paid, for the purpose of purchasing liquor has deeply stirred the parents of Salem.

The license commissioners will hold a meeting in the city hall at 8 o'clock this evening to consider the charges made by the mayor. The license commissioners are greatly stirred over the situation and it is known that a majority at least will insist on a strict enforcement of the law.

Innholders Warned

Just before the recent municipal election the license commissioners, in response to numerous complaints, submitted requests to the several innholders not to sell liquor to men and women in apartments other than those regularly used for serving food. This request, said one of the commissioners last evening, was to give innholders an opportunity to live within the law.

Had the requests been heeded, says the commissioner, no opportunity would have been afforded the mayor or any one else to observe scenes depicted by Mayor Howard in his visitations Saturday night. It is known that the commissioners will not attempt at the meeting this evening to make further overtures to any one for obedience to provisions of the license law.

Never before was the tension between the liquor dealers and the license commissioners so tense as appears now to be the case. It is certain that something will develop during the coming 48 hours that will attract wide attention.

Defies the Mayor

Mayor Howard announced yesterday that he had made repeated visits to a hotel in the city and found men and women drinking and acting boisterously. On his second visit he says he saw women stationed in the dark at a second-story window to watch his actions. He described the conditions as disgraceful.

"I warned the proprietor," he adds, "and also that I would not stand for conditions found in this hotel, and would see that the law was executed."

To this, Mayor Howard says, the hotel man replied that he would do just as he wished; that he would sell liquor in any room in the house, and even in the chimney, and that the law protected him.

Mayor Howard, in his message to Joseph Samuels, says: "I am writing to call your attention to these facts in order that you and other members of the license board may take some action in regard to this house, which I consider is a menace to the city, demoralizing and disgusting, and should be corrected as quickly as possible."

In the district court yesterday a large number were convicted of drunkenness and fined. The partial opening of the 1st Saturday night and Sunday is said by the police to be accountable for the number of men and one woman who were arrested for drunkenness.

It is anticipated that there will be lively times under City Marshal Harris, if he is confirmed, for he has a long record for a faithful performance of his police duties in other places where he served with distinction.

LIFE OF A PIMPLE

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble

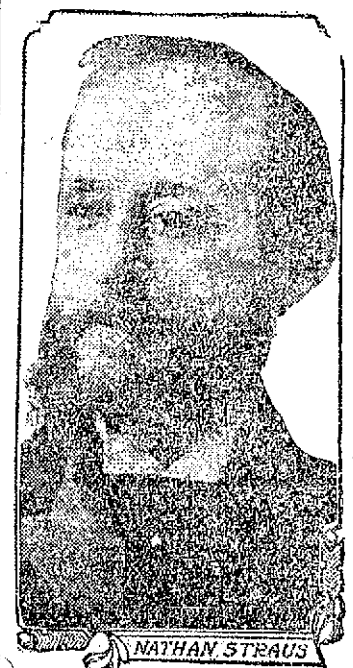

The dispensers of poslam, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Every one who has tried it knows that the fifty-cent box, on sale at Fells & Burdick's, Carter & Sherburne's, and all drug stores, is sufficient to cure the worst cases of eczema, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, tetters, blotches, scaly scalp, hives, barbers' and every other form of itch, including itching feet. Being flesh-colored and containing no grease, the presence of poslam on exposed surfaces, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of poslam, it can be had free of charge by mail of the Emergency Laboratories, 22 West Twenty-fifth street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion overnight, and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

NATHAN STRAUS

Philanthropist is Ill From Worry

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The serious illness of Nathan Straus, New York merchant and philanthropist, known throughout the United States and Europe for his milk charities, which have saved the lives of thousands of babies, was caused by his exertions in behalf of the tuberculosis preventorium at Lakewood N. J., of which he has been the most earnest supporter. The opposition manifested toward the preventorium by some of the residents of the famous resort was a great disappointment to Mr. Straus.

SUM OF $1,000,000

TO BE DIVIDED BETWEEN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 18.—Gifford Pinchot's policy in establishing forest reserves in the West has been greeted by the Western states themselves and the national forests have been declared to be bars to progress because they held large tracts of timber in a virgin state, denying to all the opportunity of development. But there is another side to the picture that is not generally understood. This is the revenue accruing to the states where the timber is grown when sales of reserve timber are made to lumbermen.

For example more than $1,000,000 will be divided between Oregon and Washington this year and will be used in building roads and schools throughout the two states as the result of sales of timber on government reserves. The forestry law provides that 25 per cent of the stumpage revenue shall go to the state where the forest is cut.

Last year sales from forest reserves in the two states aggregated $23,000,000 and the revenue to the two northwest states was over $5,000,000. Sales of reserve timber are constantly on the increase and this year proposals have been made for the purchase of over 650,000,000 feet. The average price for government stumpage this year is about $2 per thousand. Some cutting will be for more and some less but all will average about this figure. This means the usual 25 per cent, that comes to the two states will bring in a revenue of not less than $1,200,000 from sales already in sight. The total may be increased largely before the year is over.

With the coming years the timber sales from government reserves will largely increase, it is expected, and the consequent funds for state roads and schools will be much larger in future. As the money derived from these sales is of direct benefit to all the people of the states where the reserves lie, it cannot be said the location of large tracts of timber by the government that are withheld from private ownership are without benefit to the state.

PRES. MADRIZ

WANTS MEN WHO KILLED AMERICANS PUNISHED

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 18.—President Madriz has sent a message to the supreme court demanding the bringing to trial of all implicated in the "mineral" of justice which resulted in the shooting of the Americans, Grace and Cannon. "This is believed to indicate that prompt action will be taken against Sabonero Selva, the prominent attorney in the case; General Medina and possibly Zelaya. Medina is said to have documents exonerating himself and establishing Zelaya's responsibility.

Zelaya has been arrested in Leon, but General Medina is resisting arrest here. He has barricaded his home and has declared that he is ill and in no condition to be removed to jail.

Warrants have been issued for all the members of the court martial.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

The Liberal Party is Assured of a Majority

LONDON, Jan. 18.—At the conclusion of yesterday's polling in the general elections the parties stood as follows:

Unionists, 92.
Liberals, 77.
Laborites, 16.
Nationalists, 12.

Net gain for the unionists, 29. The government fared much better yesterday than their most ardent supporters expected. The unionists gained 19 seats, the liberals four and the laborites one, making a net gain for the unionists for the day of 14, one less than they gained at fewer elections on Saturday.

This practically assures the return of the liberal party with a fair majority, for among the places still to poll are those of Scotland and Wales, which are always solidly liberal.

There cannot be said to have been many surprises yesterday. Some expected that John Burns, president of the local government board, would be defeated in the Battersea division of Battersea and Clapham, but pessimism has been present in every election since Burns has been a candidate. He himself never had any doubt as to the result.

Other state officials who were successful in the fight for their seats were Augustus Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and C. E. Hobhouse, financial secretary to the treasury, in Bristol, and Dr. T. J. MacNamara, secretary to the admiralty, in Camberwell. Their majorities were considerably reduced.

Majorities Badly Cut

This happened all through the country, the huge majorities secured in 1906 showing big reductions in almost all cases. Indeed, many of the liberal seats became won by the grace of the landslide that year, have been sent back to private life.

Among them is Hamar Greenwood, a Canadian, who represented York and was considered a prominent candidate for high office. Another Canadian, Joseph Martineau, ex-prominent of British Columbia, was more successful, winning the seat for St. Pancras east.

Other prominent members defeated included L. G. Chiozza Money, the apostle of free trade, who lost his seat for North Paddington, and Will Crooks, the labor leader for Woodwich. Sir H. Ross, the liberal candidate for North Kensington, failed to get a majority, as did also Sir John Gorst, an ex-minister and at one time member of the fourth party, whose leading spirits were A. J. Balfour and Lord Randolph Churchill.

On the other side, Lord R. Cecil and G. Stewart Bowles, who ran as free trade unionists, failed in their attempt to oust Philip Snowden, the labor leader, and Sir Thomas Barclay, at Blackburn.

Doctors had much to do with the defeat of Claude Hay, who lost the Hammersmith seat. His opponent was Dr. C. Addison, a famous consulting surgeon. Hay, on the platform, made disparaging remarks about the profession and, as a result, the whole fraternity turned out to assist Dr. Addison.

Liberals also won back the adjoining constituency of Haggerston, which was represented by Hon. R. Guinness, unionist, who was defeated yesterday by H. G. Chancellor.

The unionist leaders who ran yesterday, including A. J. Balfour, A. Bonar Law, Walter Hume Long and Sir William Bull, Sir William being the only one to be defeated by engaging in a fist fight recently with a heckler at Hammersmith, hold their seats by increased majorities.

The naval question had a great effect in the dock yard ports. Portsmouth gave the unionists two gains, Admiral Lord Charles Bessborough and L. G. Paine, both being elected by huge votes, 15,771 and 13,392 respectively.

The polling was remarkably close, however, in many constituencies. H. B. Duke, the noted barrister, for example, won Exeter from the liberals by the narrow plurality of 25, while in the Leekhampton division of Camberwell, Henry Cubitt, a local man, secured a majority of more than 2000 in the recent election, retaining his seat by a large 100. One liberal retained his seat by a majority of 10.

The general view of yesterday's contests bears out the forecast. The north is solid for the government, the Midlands section, especially in the county of Birmingham, favors labor reform. The victory of the unionists at Walsall points to an extension of Joseph Chamberlain's influence.

Crowds Watch Returns

The metropolis, which after the elections, which all went in favor of the unionists, was expected to make a clean turnover, is displaying a remarkably slight variation in representation, although the liberals are not obtaining the majorities that they did in 1906.

The hope of the unionists lay in the home counties, West Chesham, Exeter, Colchester and Bradford all returned unionists. The area, however, is too restricted, lacking big industrial centers, to afford them any great chance of success.

With the exception of three constituencies, the results of all yesterday's polling were announced last night.

Great crowds gathered in all the main streets in London, particularly Fleet street and the Strand, where the results were shown in front of the newspaper offices. One of the newspapers, a liberal organ, adopted the novel and striking device of throwing a searchlight on Gladstone's statue in the Strand when the returns showed that the liberals were assured of victory.

In the music halls, theatres and other places of entertainment the results were announced during the evening to big audiences.

John Burns' Victory

Burns of Battersea comes back with flying colors. Although in the great landslide of 1906 he won by 1600 votes, his normal majority is about 200, and in yesterday's hard-fought battle he beat A. Shirley Bean, the unionist, by 555. The vote was: Burns 8340, Bean 7385.

Defeat has been predicted for "Honorable" John Burns during the past decade, and Mr. Burns and his friends were considerably frightened this year. Since the most picturesque figure in Westminster was sent to the house of commons by the enthusiastic support of the workmen, and so-called radicals, since he held positions of increased responsibility, he has gradually outgrown his old radical ideas.

John Burns of yesterday is a vastly different politician from the old John Burns who exhorted the workmen in Trafalgar square to rise against the police and the army, and is even said to be at heart a good Tory.

"Traitor" and "Renegade"

John Burns has so far outlived his former reputation that no man can honestly earn more than $2500 yearly that he holds a $10,000 position and is likely to be promoted to $25,000, although his style of living remains as modest as ever.

The "ear of Battersea," as some of the workmen call him, has not hesitated to stand against some of the demands upon the government of some of his old-time friends when he considered them unreasonable. He has opposed the unemployed, and has spoken plainly about the workmen's tendency toward improvidence and drink.

While he has gained the respect of all parties in parliament and is considered one of the ablest as well as one of the most interesting legislators, "traitor" and "renegade" are some of the mildest terms applied to him in the labor camp.

Threats to overthrow him have been louder this year than ever and his defeat was generally expected, but his engaging personality and his thorough canvass pulled him through.

John Burns, who is a prominent county councillor, made a strong tariff reform campaign and received much outside help, but "Honorable" John, in his familiar jacket and "bowler" (derby)—for he still wears the ministerial silk hat and black coat—has been seen everywhere, renewing acquaintance with his old followers.

Campaign in Battersea

Hundreds of motors, bedecked with the unionist colors, purple and yellow, filled the Battersea streets yesterday, taking voters to the polls. Long lines of them were drawn up outside the factories waiting for the workmen to come out.

John's placards in the windows outnumbered the Burns' 10 to 1. The socialist posters reminded the workmen that John Burns had said that each of them spent six shillings a week on drink. One of them accused him of taking soup which some owners should have had when he visited the bread line on the unemployment.

Another exhorted the voters to "turn the cutting hypocrite out." Still another represented him in a court suit, labeled "The Glided Poppyhead."

Bands of children paraded with Burns emblems on their banners, which said that under protection the father could have to rob the cat of its meat for his dinner.

The excitement in Battersea last night is greater than elsewhere in London. Unholy crowds surrounded the candidate's quarters until a late hour awaiting the news. The enthusiasm at the headquarters of the president of the local government board was intense when the result was received.

Excitement in Woolwich

Woolwich was another scene of excitement. At this place the labor leader, Will Crooks, had a dramatic reception on his return from Australia on the eve of the election. Crooks walked the streets followed by a great crowd.

He was cheered everywhere and frequently stopped and made impromptu speeches from the steps of houses. One of his addresses was delivered in front of the headquarters of his antagonist, Maj. W. A. Adam, unionist, who viewed the scene from a window.

Numbers of the residents of Woolwich employed at the works of Vickers Sons & Maxim at Erith, a few miles out, were brought to town in automobiles to vote. Crooks was beaten by 200 votes, whereas in the previous election he defeated Maj. Adam by 212.

The result was no surprise, for the government had turned out many laborers by reducing the work at Woolwich arsenal, and they and their friends were sworn to revenge.

Ten thousand Durham miners marched into Gateshead to oppose J. Johnson, the labor candidate for reelection, who has been against them on the eight-hour act.

On the way they attacked Marley Hill colliery, attacked the miners and threw the hocks and other effects down the shaft. Special police were drafted to prevent another riot at night.

MISS MILHOLLAND ARRESTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Miss Inez Milholland, who, since her failure to get into Harvard law school, has identified herself with the cause of woman suffrage and the striking shirtwaist operators in New York, was arrested last night after an encounter with the police in front of an East side factory. She was released on $500 bail.

ONE WOMAN DEAD

Two Missing and Three Others Injured at a Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—One woman is dead, two others are missing, and three are seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, as the result of a fire yesterday which destroyed the Hollingsworth apartments at 4313-4315 Walnut street, the fashionable section of West Philadelphia.

The dead woman is Mrs. Frances Evans of Baltimore, who died from the shock of being dragged from the burning building.

The bodies of Mrs. David C. Eaton and Mrs. S. L. Carpenter, the missing women, are believed to be buried in the ruins. Thomas Hollingsworth, a man, was also critically injured by falling from the roof of an adjoining building.

About twenty persons, mostly women, were in their rooms when the fire was first discovered. The frightened women were obliged to make their way down a fire escape in the rear of the building. Several of those who were in the front rooms had their escape cut off.

Mrs. Evans, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. S. King, was assisted from the burning building by the elevator boy and her daughter, but died of shock when she reached a neighboring house. Mrs. King was almost overcome with smoke and was slightly burned.

Mrs. Carpenter was a paralytic. Her nurse, Miss Elva Wirth made ineffectual efforts to assist her from the building, but was finally obliged to save her own life by climbing from a window to an adjoining house. It is believed that Mrs. Carpenter perished. Mrs. Eaton was in her room when the fire occurred and she has not since been seen.

LARGE INCREASE IN IMPORTS AND THE EXPORTS REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The monthly statement of imports and exports issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor today presents figures for the month of and the 12 months ending December, 1909, compared with like periods in 1908. The December imports were $138,742,292, an increase of $26,821,730 over those of December, 1908; exports, $171,662,197, a decrease of $17,166,110 compared with December, 1908. For the 12 months ending with December, 1909, the imports were $1,475,520,265, an increase of $359,145,188 over last year's exports $1,727,383,128, a decrease of $245,452,819 compared with last year. The excess of exports over imports in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, is $245,452,819, a decrease of $384,598,437 when compared with last year. Dutiable imports in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, were valued at $713,772,933, against $611,723,549 last year, an increase of $102,049,384; imports free of duty in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, $699,742,252 against $504,644,541 last year, an increase of $195,097,711. Dutiable imports during the months of December, 1909, were $61,058,022, against $56,015,567 in December, 1908, an increase of $5,042,455. December, 1909, $71,584,270, against $55,904,905 in December of last year. Imports are 50 millions greater than in the earlier high record year, 1907; exports are about 25 millions less than last year, and nearly 200 millions below 1907. The increase in imports occurs chiefly in manufacturers' materials, the decrease in exports covers chiefly foodstuffs, breadstuffs alone being more than 57 millions below 1908, and about 75 millions below 1907; meat and dairy products about 29 millions less than 1908, and about 44 millions less than 1907; and food animals 8 millions below 1908, and 17 millions below 1907.

MEN ARRESTED

They May be Charged With Arson

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Two men were arrested last night for responsibility for the fire of Sunday night on Seneca street in which Samuel Rensovsky and his wife, the latter with two children in her arms were badly injured in jumping. When it became known in Seneca street last night that David Wolger, who occupied a store on the street floor of the burned building, and Harris Margolsky were to be arrested, the officer had a hard struggle to land his men safely in the police station.

FRIGATE ENTERPRISE BURNED

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Fire, applied by her present owners, a junk concern, yesterday, destroyed the famous old frigate Enterprise. The Enterprise, which had previously been stripped of her fittings, was burned to secure the metal used in her construction. Her last duty was as the nautical training ship for Massachusetts.

DRESSING

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to someone else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-hair is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "32" Hair Tonic.

It is a most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "32" Hair Tonic is decided to banish dandruff, restore natural color when it has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "32" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scorn or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy. If it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular, two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall's Hair Tonic in Lowell only at our store—The Rexall Store, 67-69 Merrimack at Lowell, Mass.

Keep in the Open

CLOSE CONTESTS

Looked for in British Elections
to be Decided Today

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The radical coalition fought more on the defensive today than heretofore as of the 38 seats for which polling was in progress they held all but ten in the last parliament.

The front bench politicians whose fates were decided today were Winston Spencer Churchill for Dundee; Sydney C. Buxton for the Poplar division of Tower Hamlets; Walter Runciman for Dewsbury; Sir William Snowden Robson for South Shields; Liberals; and Alfred Lyttleton for St. Georges, Hanover square, the former conservative minister. All of these appeared certain of re-election. The representation for Bermondsey, where John Humphreys scored a sensational unionist victory in the by-election of October last, was also in the melting pot, and as Humphreys this time met an undivided opposition the seat quite likely has reverted to liberalism.

Immense interest attaches to the balloting at Liverpool where nine divisions are polling today. T. P. O'Connor, nationalist for the Scotland division, is regarded as invincible. F. E. Smith, tariff reform stalwart, was having a hard fight in the Wallon division while the unionists talk of defeating the Right Hon. J. E. B. Seeley, under secretary for the colonies in the Abercromby division.

With the exception of five seats London completed its election with fourteen contests today.

J. Kier Hardie, labor candidate for Morrhay Tydvil, was among the interesting personalities whose anxieties were over today.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Complete returns from yesterday's election for members of parliament make the standing of the parties as follows:

Government coalition: Liberals 79, laborites 17, Irish nationalists 16.

Opposition: Unionists 96, net unionist gain 30.

SUES FOR $20,000 $20,000 VERDICT

Woman Injured by Fall
on Sidewalk

HAVERHILL, Jan. 18.—Ellen J. Leighton of this city brought suit to recover $20,000 for injuries received in Lawrence last September when, as she was crossing the planks covering a sidewalk at the crossing of Meigs avenue, the planks tipped up, throwing her to the sidewalk, where she struck on her back and head.

She was picked up unconscious, brought to her home in this city and lay in a comatose condition for several weeks. The attending physicians consider her injuries permanent. One of her suits is against the city of Lawrence for $10,000 and a second suit for a similar amount is against the paving company that was building the sidewalks.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 18.—A jury in the supreme court after being out for six days, yesterday brought in a verdict for $20,000 in favor of Mrs. Frances Duryea against Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati, the father of the Duchess of Manchester, and M. C. Armour, William C. Herron and Daniel B. Meecham, all New York brokers, and Adelaide H. Brown, executrix of the estate of Archer Brown.

The action was originally brought by William Duryea, a New York clubman, who alleged that $20,000 worth of stocks he had purchased were worthless. He got a verdict of $16,000, which was set aside. Mr. Duryea died and his widow continued the action.

Angelo Mazza of this city has sued the city of Haverhill to recover $10,000 for the loss of his left eye. Mazza was an employee of the water works and while at work relaying pipes near Dustin square last September a piece of a steel chisel broke off and struck him in the left eye, destroying the sight.

Two other suits instituted yesterday follow the double burning accident on Rose avenue March 1, 1909, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Quimby were fatally burned. The suits are brought against the Boston Mutual Life Insurance company by Charles A. Quimby, administrator of the estate of his father and mother and each is for $600, the amount of the policies. The life insurance company is said to have refused to pay the death benefits.

Two local accident cases were entered yesterday in the civil list of the local district court, one by Barney Prenack, who sues a box company following the loss of two fingers in a machine, for which he asks $1000 and the other against a counter company for $500 in behalf of David J. Martin, who wants damages for the loss of three fingers in a machine, the accidents having occurred in August and March last year.

BOSTON RECLUSE

Portland Child

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.—The "Mrs." Julia A. Tuttle, to whom George Silver, a Boston suicide, left two letters, proves to be Miss Julia A. Tuttle, a 12-year-old Portland girl, who lives at 120 Forest avenue. She is made the recipient of his property, funds in four Boston banks to the amount of $7550.

Mr. Silver visited Portland last summer and met the child and took a great fancy to her. Her mother is an invalid, and he asked permission to help on the expenses and also fitted her out with fine garments. He remarked that he had been exceedingly homesick since his wife died. During his visit he treated her as a father would his daughter.

There is an idea that she reminded him of a little daughter he lost.

BANK TELLER ARRESTED

RACING MAN DEAD

GIRL STRIKERS

Them Fairly

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Striking shirt waisters were today inclined to believe that the arrest of Miss Inez Milholland, the famous graduate, who has been aiding them in their struggle would help rather than harm their cause. They claim that Miss Milholland was unjustly apprehended and cite Mayor Gaynor's opposition, expressed to two of their number who called on him yesterday, that the police possibly are too drastic in their treatment of the strikers.

Miss Milholland and Lieut. Henry Torney, a West Pointer and former football star, her companion, who was arrested with her, were arraigned today. Simultaneously the strike leaders met and declared confidence in victory.

THE BOOT MILLS

Edward W. Thomas Is Appointed Agent

Mr. Edward W. Thomas has been appointed agent of the Boot mills. Mr. Thomas was for many years agent of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and is more than well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed. It is understood that he will assume his duties at once. He takes the position made vacant by the death of John J. Whitten, a Manchester man, who had been agent of the Boot mills for the past two or more years.

SCHOONER AGROUND

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 18.—The schooner yacht Mida, owned by Howard Blaney of New York, which went aground last night during the storm, is still fast in the sand off this city. Lifesavers expect they will be able to float the yacht later in the day. Mrs. W. L. Darwell, who with her husband, two year old daughter and Mr. Blaney came ashore in a yawl after a thrilling trip through the surf, was much better today. She was quite ill when landed from the boat.

PROTEST AGAINST TAXATION BY HOME GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A formal protest against the proposed tax of $12 a year on every Greek resident of the United States is being framed by a committee from 50,000 Greeks in New York and will be joined in, it is expected, by the 200,000 other Greeks in this country.

Urged by Lambro A. Coromilas, Greek minister at Washington, it is understood here that the Greek government is about to instruct all of its consuls and agents in this country to issue what are to be known as residential certificates to all Greeks resident here. The fee to be collected for such a certificate is $12, and it must be renewed every year. Those who refuse to buy residential certificates will be barred from any help from the consuls in regard to passports or aid of any kind. That means they can never visit their native land.

The money so collected is to be turned over to the Pan-Hellenic union of the Greeks in this country with headquarters in Boston, and after defraying that organization's expenses the balance is to go to the Greek treasury at Athens.

The Greeks here have held several mass meetings in protest against the proposed tax which is expected to raise more than $2,500,000 a year, and Greeks all over the country are joining the movement of protest.

PROFIT OF $30 WERE PAID $500 A CLEVER SCHEME

On Each Woman Sold For Gathering 90,000-000 Brown Tail Moths By Which Aliens Enter United States

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.—For ninety million brown tail moths this city has just paid $500 to the men and boys who have made the gathering of the pests a regular occupation. The moths were in 300,000 nests. The business of gathering the pests is not so profitable now as it has been, however. Formerly the city paid for the nests at the rate of five cents a dozen, but recently the price has been reduced to four cents a dozen.

THIRTY STATES

Represented at Governors' Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Governors from thirty states of the union, gathered in the national capital to discuss problems of state and national interest, opened their three days' session today.

Gov. Wilson of Kentucky, chairman of the committee on arrangements, was in the chair. In a brief introductory speech he referred to the first conference of state heads, invited in May, 1908, by President Roosevelt to meet in the White House. This year's conference is on the governor's own initiative. Gov. Wilson declared that in his opinion no better means of devising uniform state legislation could have been found than for the chief executives of the states to come together and in a friendly way talk over the questions in which they all were interested.

TO MURDER BRIDE

Joseph Marock Threw
Her Into a Well

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 18.—Charged with the attempted murder of his bride of three days, Joseph Marock, a young Pole, is held in jail here under $25,000 bail. In an adjoining cell is his partner in the alleged crime, Bartoni Laski. Both men were captured early yesterday morning when they tried to climb the bride's trunk with a baggage check at the Springfield (Mass.) station at the New Haven railroad.

The bride, who was Annie Mascot, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., occupies a cot at St. Vincent's hospital. She is still suffering from the ten hours while she spent in the icy waters of a deep well on the estate of James Robinson, near the Greenfield Hill Country club, Fairfield, Conn. She declares that the two men, after robbing her of her pocket-book, threw her into the well.

A woman of ordinary strength could not have lived through the long night in the well. But Mrs. Marock is unusually strong from seven years of heavy housework in the Massachusetts village. She was only partially submerged, and an earlier frost had frozen the well a coating of ice a few feet below the present surface of the water.

The Marocks arrived in Bridgeport early Saturday morning. The husband left her in the station while he went to look for a friend who was supposed to be on a farm near this place. He returned at dusk and took her to Fairfield by train. There they and Laski, and the three set out through the drifts.

When they arrived at a lonely stretch of road Mrs. Marock was struck down from behind, and thrown into the well. She was discovered Sunday morning when James Ferri, who is in charge of the Robinson estate, came to examine the well. Ferri and his son succeeded in getting her out with an improvised derrick and she was brought to the hospital in an automobile.

GLINN CURTISS

To Attempt Flight to
San Diego

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—If good conditions prevail today Glenn Curtiss will attempt the feat of an aeroplane flight from here to San Diego. The people of San Diego have offered a purse of $5000 for the flight. The distance is 98 miles by air line. If Curtiss makes it it will be the first time so far as known that a man has flown between two cities so far apart. It is an extremely hazardous undertaking, however, as the aviator will be compelled to cross a range of mountains or will have to fly over the Pacific ocean for nearly the entire distance.

AGAINST SMALLPOX

Supt. Lees Plans to Prevent the Disease Coming From Wakefield

Members of the local board of health and Supt. Lees of the Boston & Northern were in conference yesterday afternoon and discussed plans to minimize the danger of a smallpox outbreak in this city. Wakefield is in the throes of a smallpox epidemic and while Lowell hasn't anything against Wakefield, she considers that the town is in too close proximity for comfort at the present time and the greatest precautions are necessary.

Wakefield is on the line of the Boston electric which enter and leave Lowell every half hour and just for that there is cause for alarm. When it was first reported that smallpox had appeared in Wakefield the local board of health began to plan against its invasion here and the very first thing the board did was to see that the smallpox hospital in Chelmsford street was made ready for service at a moment's notice.

When the board sought Supt. Lees yesterday they found him ready and willing to do all in his power to protect Lowell. It was decided that all cars on this line, at the close of the day's trip, should be fumigated and sealed for the night. It was also decided to use disinfectant in the waiting room in Merrimack square as a further preventive.

SEVEN DEPUTIES HELD IN $7500

Guard Rockefeller, the Man Charged With Abducting Young Girl

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 18.—On the request of John D. Rockefeller, Sheriff Scherp of White Plains yesterday appointed seven men on his large country estate at Pocantico Hills to be deputy sheriffs.

Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, since his life was threatened some time ago, has been almost constantly surrounded by a guard, and the action of the sheriff gives his employees the authority to carry arms and make arrests.

Their jurisdiction, however, is to be confined to the Rockefeller premises. It is said that most of the men who have been deputized to guard Mr. Rockefeller are old-time secret service agents, who are employed about the place ostensibly as coachmen, grocers, gardeners and attendants.

They are constantly on duty, and before any stranger can approach the home of the oil king they find out who he is and the exact nature of his business.

$10,000 WANTED

FOR THE PURCHASE OF GAME BIRDS

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The fish and game commission transmitted yesterday its report recommending the rebuilding of the Winchester state hatchery as a centre for the distribution of young trout.

The board recommends that a hatchery be located either in Bristol, Plymouth or Barnstable counties. It figures that the total cost of site, building and equipment will be $21,354.

The board advises no special buildings for preparation of useful game birds and materials as nothing is necessary beyond fencing, coops, brooders and incubators. It recommends an appropriation of $10,000 for carrying on the work of preparation, purchase and liberation of game birds.

WM. J. BRYAN

WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT AGAIN

OMAHA, Jan. 18.—William J. Bryan will be a candidate for president in 1912. The announcement was made yesterday by the Omaha Union, which attributes the statement to Richard L. McArthur, editor of Mr. Bryan's Commonwealth.

Democratic leaders in Nebraska are to be called to the Commonwealth office, and ordered to work for his nomination. Under no circumstances will Mr. Bryan be a candidate for the United States senate.

Mr. Bryan believes this state will go Democratic at the next election and thinks he would be the natural choice of the party for United States senator, but he fears this might injure his chances in the next national campaign, and he will refuse to be a candidate for the lower office.

TAFT AND PINCHOT CORPORATION TAX LAW STOLE A WATCH

Addressed Civic Federation From To be Tested in U. S. Court at the Same Platform Brattleboro, Vt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Taft and Gifford Pinchot, whom the former recently removed from his position as head of the forestry bureau, spoke yesterday from the same platform in addressing the National Civic Federation, now in session here to discuss problems of uniform state legislation. Both were received heartily.

Representatives of almost every branch of human activity met yesterday at the conference to consider ways and means of bringing about uniformity of laws relating to child labor, marriage and divorce, pure food and pure drug, conservation of natural resources, negotiable instruments, bills of lading and other matters affecting the social and business life of the nation.

President Taft spoke at the morning session. Mr. Pinchot was one of the principal speakers at the afternoon session of the conference. He said that subjects of forest preservation had been advocated by Americans for more than a hundred years, but that the control of water power monopoly in the common interest was younger than the present century.

"All of them today," he said, "are in the valley of decision. We have come at last to the point where we must either go forward or fall back."

In his judgment, he said, the present situation offers a field for uniform action and for co-operation between the states themselves and between them and the nation.

The great principles we have been working for," said Mr. Pinchot, "may be written in our laws now or the chance may pass. Public sentiment is prepared and awake. For the second time a president of the United States has endorsed these principles in a message to congress. Most of the recommendations which the recent message contains are well known to the friends of conservation and well approved. If

It has omissions or passages with which I disagree I have no concern with them today.

"The president urges that the measures he recommends shall be taken and disposed of promptly without awaiting the investigation which has been determined upon. I echo his desire. There can be no reason to await the result of the investigations before acting on these measures. They stand by themselves.

"In the face of this great opportunity let us go further and so far as these leaders are concerned let us disregard the controversy altogether in a general effort to secure what every good citizen earnestly desires."

In addition to President Taft's speech at the morning session, Seth Low, president of the federation, and Judge Alton B. Parker, temporary chairman of the conference, also spoke.

With President Taft as the central figure, there were gathered about him the stage a notable group of men. Labor was represented by Samuel Compers and John Mitchell; the law by Senator Elihu Root, Alton B. Parker and ex-Associate Justice Brown; business by John D. Rockefeller, ex-Senator John P. Dryden, and other prominent delegates.

President Low, without ceremony, explained the purpose of the meeting, and Gov. Willson of Kentucky, secretary of the house of governors, preceded Judge Parker in his speech as temporary chairman.

Dr. W. G. Morse discussed "Uniform Laws Relating to the Use of Water," while Charles Lathrop Pack of Lake wood, N. J., spoke on "Forest Conservation and Taxation."

Ex-Senator John F. Dryden addressed the conference on "Uniform Law and Legislation on Life Insurance," while Thomas E. Drake, superintendent of insurance of the District of Columbia, elaborated on the subject.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Jan. 18.—Stella P. Flint of Windsor, as general guardian of the property of Samuel N. Stone, Jr., a minor, has brought a bill in equity in the U. S. circuit court before Judge J. L. Martin against the Stone Tracy company, Frank B. Tracy, Ida S. Tracy and L. B. Hayward, directors of the company, also of Windsor.

The case will test the constitutionality of the corporation tax law, passed by congress and approved by the president Aug. 5, 1909. It will be heard in Brattleboro on Thursday before Judge Martin.

The bill of complaint sets forth that the Stone Tracy company is a corporation created and chartered by the state of Vermont and that its principal place of business is Windsor. Under its charter the defendant corporation has been carrying on a retail mercantile business. The bill further alleges that under the provisions of the corporation tax law it became necessary for the firm to file statements of the indebtedness of the corporation and give information as to all departments of its business and pay a tax of one per cent upon the entire net income over $5000.

The bill states that the orator further believes that the provisions of the tax law upon corporations requiring the filing of such information are null and void, and the requirements to pay the tax are burdens upon the charter granted by the state of Vermont and are a tax upon a function of sovereignty belonging to the state of Vermont which was never agreed to either expressly or by invocation by the state or by its people when Vermont was admitted as a state into the Union.

It is alleged that the said acts of congress are in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution, as under the provisions of the law the defendant corporation will be deprived of its property, through publicity of its business, the privacy of its affairs will be largely destroyed, and that its chief competitor and all other persons will be able to gain an intimate knowledge of its affairs and its trade secrets, and the assessment if made will be laid upon the defendant corporation and not upon its chief competitor.

It is alleged that the provisions of the act are unconstitutional, in that the private property of the defendant corporation will be taken, that it is a violation of the fourth amendment to the constitution and violates the right of the defendant corporation to be secure in its records against unreasonable search and seizure, and are burdens to the charter and franchise covered by the state of Vermont.

It is further alleged that the act is a violation of the 10th amendment to the constitution in that the requirements are a tax upon and an interference with the powers of the state of Vermont and other states expressly reserved to grant charters. It is also a violation of the constitution because the so-called special excise tax is in reality a direct tax upon a charter and franchises of the defendant corporation and upon all other corporations, and it is not apportioned among the several states according to their population as required by the constitution, it is alleged.

It is asked that the provisions of the act of congress be declared as unconstitutional and that the defendant be restrained from voluntarily complying with the provisions of the said act.

LADY CONSTANCE

MADE HER DEBUT IN VAUDEVILLE IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Lady Constance Stewart Richardson made her appearance as the latest recruit to the vaudeville stage at the Palace theatre last night and gave several dances to music by Grig. Tschalkowsky and Waldteufel, and has greatly advanced in her dancing since she gave an exhibition in New York.

She wore a short Greek tunic, apparently made of a single piece of flimsy material through which the flesh was plainly visible. In fact, the costume is described as the most daring ever seen on the English stage.

Lady Constance's friends had gathered in force, and after her last dance she gave a polka in which there was much more grace and movement than in the other selections and which was encored. She got a number of handsome floral tributes, one of them standing as high as herself.

Man Given Sentence of Two Years

LAWRENCE, Jan. 18.—Owing to lack of quarters in the Salem court house the January term of the superior criminal court was opened in this city yesterday with Judge Raymond presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Robert B. Fisher of Methuen. William J. Casey pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of a watch from James F. Buckley in Haverhill, Nov. 12, and was sentenced to two years in the house of correction.

Michael Burke was charged with robbery in this city. It was alleged that he knocked Cornelius Carroll down Aug. 19 and stole a watch and chain. It was shown that the defendant sold the watch, but claimed that he was acting for a companion. Carroll did not fully identify him as his assailant and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Sentences aggregating three months were reaffirmed in the three charges of abducting the baby of Christina brought against Fanny Roberts and Mary Cookley. The Roberts woman said she came to Boston from Baltimore about six weeks ago.

Mary Rooney and Rose Carpenter of this city, charged with misconduct, were sent to the women's reformatory, David Gravel, Roy Messer and Thomas Hamel, charged with breaking and entering in this city, were placed on probation.

Mary Orlofsky of Haverhill, charged with concealing the death of a child, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Daniel Stuart pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and breaking and entering. Robert Goddard of Andover denied his guilt of a statutory offence.

HIGH ST. CHURCH

ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT THE VESTRY LAST NIGHT

The High Street Congregational church vestry was the scene last night of the annual meeting of the church and society. Rev. J. A. Ferris presided. At the church meeting Albert L. Bachelier was chosen clerk; Haven G. Hill, treasurer; Frederick R. Woodward, deacon, in place of the late Deacon F. N. Chase, and Carl D. Burtt, superintendent of the Sunday school, with Dr. Victor E. Darling as assistant. The Sunday school committee chosen was Robert L. Read, Mrs. C. C. Ober, Mrs. E. T. Jones and F. R. Woodward. Representatives of the stock were elected, including H. Kirke White, Jacob Knudsen, F. R. Woodward and H. G. White. Delegates to the Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers were chosen as follows: Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. A. C. Ferris, Robert L. Read, Charles Morse and Miss Harriette Ren. The auditors are Joseph Peabody and E. P. Clark.

The report of the meeting of H. G. White was chosen moderator, and Henry W. Barnes was elected clerk. The auditors chosen are J. Harry Bonrman and Robert F. Marden. The prudential committee, on the part of the society, is to consist of Nelson D. K. Cole, Robert F. Marden, Robert F. Marden, and on the part of the church, C. H. Nelson, John L. Robertson, Haven G. Hill and Carl D. Burtt.

Two members of the music committee were elected as follows: Miss Edith Stitt and Dr. V. E. Darling.

The report of the treasurer, C. W. Whidden, was ordered printed for distribution at the annual supper to be held next Thursday evening, and Mr. Whidden was re-elected treasurer of the society. Treasurer Hill of the church presented his report to the church meeting in detail, and it was accepted. Haven G. Hill was elected collector of the society.

SENT TO PRISON

WOMAN THE CAUSE OF NEW-HALL'S DOWNFALL

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—George F. Newhall of Somerville, who had been confidential clerk in the employ of Henry S. Brown & Co. of Mill street, was sentenced to state prison for a term of three to five years by Judge Wall in the superior criminal court yesterday, on an indictment accusing him of forgery of checks and uttering the same. He pleaded guilty to three counts of each. The indictment contained 96 counts. The amount alleged to have been taken is about $18,000.

Newhall received $15 a week and handled large sums of money. A woman is said to have exerted an evil influence over Newhall. She threatened to expose his wrongdoing if he did not give her large sums weekly.

LOUIS PAULHAN

FAILED TO EQUAL FARMAN DISTANCE RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—Louis Paulhan, because of a leak in the fuel tank of his aeroplane yesterday failed to come anywhere near the Farmman distance record of 144 miles. After covering 75.5 miles he quit, asserting that today he would exceed Farmman's record if weather conditions prevailed.

Paulhan remained in the air one hour, 53 minutes and 27.5 seconds. He would have had to remain in the air two hours longer to beat Farmman's record for sustained flight.

Hamilton was in the air at the same time trying for the record. He sailed below Paulhan, who was soaring 200 feet high. After Hamilton had covered the course 11 times he was forced to descend by shifting of some mechanism.

Curtiss went out to beat his own record for 10 laps round the course. He succeeded, making the trip in 24.04 3-5. His fastest lap was made in 2.15, not a record. Paulhan tried to beat Curtiss in his 10 lap race but his time was 25.05 1-5.

The day was clear and an immense crowd was out.

President Cortlandt E. Bishop of the Aero Club of America, received telegrams containing challenges for balloon flights for duration and altitude during 1910, also a challenge from France for a contest to decide the ownership of the speed aviation cup won by Glenn H. Curtiss at Rheims.

SUBWAY FRANCHISES REPEALED

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—The subway franchisees, passed as almost the last act of Tom L. Johnson's administration as mayor, were repealed last night by the city council on a strict party vote. The scheme for a $75,000,000 subway system was voted down by the people in November, but the franchisees in slightly altered form were passed again by the Johnson administration.

TO DOCTORS OF LOWELL

WE believe you will be interested in knowing that you have right here in Lowell a modern, well equipped drug store whose business is and always will be legitimate pharmacy, and whose endeavors will be to serve you and your patients in the most satisfactory manner possible.

PROMPT SERVICE—We will have fully as large an assortment of crude drugs chemicals and pharmaceutical preparations as are carried in our Boston stores. Chemicals used unless otherwise specified, will be Squibb's and Merck's. Also an excellent variety of specialties, pills and tablets from such concerns as Wyeth, Parke Davis, Schieffelin, Wampole, Fraser and others. This will insure prompt compounding of prescriptions.

QUALITY AND PURITY—All the U. S. P. and National Formulary preparations are manufactured in our own modern laboratory at 50 Washington street, Boston. All drugs and chemicals before being put on sale in our stores are subjected to strict tests in our analytical laboratory, and rejected if not fully up to standard. That insures pure, active drugs.

FRESH STOCK—Bearing in mind our immense output through 27 retail stores, it is impossible for anything to become old. Our stock is turned over four to six times oftener than that in the average size store. You are sure that our drugs, being fresh, are potent and will produce desired results.

ACCURACY—Never under any conditions is anyone but a registered pharmacist permitted to have anything to do with the handling of drugs or prescriptions, and our system of checking has proven a successful safeguard against errors in our Boston stores for the past 26 years.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION—Is given to our stock of rubber goods and sick room and hospital supplies. All the articles usually to be found in drug stores can be seen here in greater variety. We carry hundreds of appliances that have never been stocked in a local drug store. We shall be pleased to send you our little booklet, illustrating a few articles in this department, or shall take great pleasure in showing you anything that might be of interest if you will kindly call on us.

REASONABLE PRICES—By reason of our large business, we are able to obtain many concessions and advantages from manufacturers, and following our general policy by selling everything at the smallest possible margin to obtain the largest volume of business, we are in a position to save your patients on all drug store goods. Physicians who have the interests of their patients in mind will consider this argument seriously.

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

Don't be misled into the belief that there is going to be a serious investigation of the Middlesex county ring. Nothing of the kind can ever happen. The ring would not permit it.

They do say that they are to have a new railway station in Salem. Well, let us hope so. We do not know at this distance whether Salem needs a new mayor, a new chief of police or a new city government, but we can hear solemn testimony, after careful observation of that old ark at the end of the tunnel, that Salem does need a new railway station, and we hope she will get one.

We should judge from the comments in the English press that there is a cloud in the East which portends serious trouble for the "Tight little island." England has troubles enough at home, to be sure, but if the great war cloud that is gathering in India means anything, it means that there is a crisis at hand which may shake the British empire to its very foundation. India is waking up, and every lover of freedom is glad of it.

The republican party is forever prating about its intention to revise the tariff downward, but no sensible American citizen believes a word of it. The long and the short of the whole matter is that the republican party cannot make a reduction in the tariff without wiping itself out of existence. It is upon the inequities of the tariff law that the party has thrived, and to take away their only source of political sustenance would surely result in a sudden collapse of the party. The G. O. P. will not commit political suicide if it knows it.

Already they are beginning to run up against some serious snags in considering the constitutional amendment which is intended to legalize the collection of a federal income tax upon all sources of income. Our law makers have suddenly discovered that their recent legislation exempting town, city and state bonds from taxation would be nullified if they approved the collection of an income tax. The state has already sanctioned the issuance of non-taxable bonds, and if it should now be a party to taking away that right the action might result in numerous law suits against the commonwealth by investors who would refuse to pay either the state or the federal tax. The situation might then become perplexing if not disastrous. In levying an income tax there should be some discretion and the exercise of a little common sense to prevent the hardships of unjust or double taxation. It might be well for the framers of the federal law to try again.

HOW PRICES ARE RAISED.

It is perfectly natural for people to rejoice when their own wages are raised, but we cannot confine all the good things to ourselves. When wages in one industry are increased it is necessary sooner or later to increase the wages in all other industries in order to level things up. So it is in raising the price of the products of any particular industry. To increase the price of our own productions without being willing to pay an increased price for the products of others, which is the raw material we consume, is both unreasonable and impracticable.

If so happens that the finished product of one industry becomes the raw material of another. If the wood-workers receive an increase in wages and thereby increase the price of their product, which is the raw material of the carpenter and builder, they must expect an increase in the cost of building and in the end an increase in rents.

The wire man and the hardware manufacturers finding that they have to pay more for steel and iron increase the price of their output, and the result is that the hardware and the wiring necessary for various purposes is increased, all of which adds to the expense of every industry using these products. When the wages of the iron workers are raised the result is an increase in price of their products, such as iron pipe, structural iron, steel rails, etc. Their product becomes the raw material of the plumber, the railway man, the builder and others, and so we find an increase in the cost of plumbing and piping, as well as an increase in freight rates throughout the country.

The railroad employee is delighted when he gets an increase in wages, but he grumbles when he finds that he has been the cause of an increase in the cost of transportation, and when his coal goes up 50 cents a ton he fails sometimes to see the equity of the situation.

The farmer is anxious to get a big price for his products. He sells his grain, his vegetables, his beef and other farm products at an increased price, and he wears a broad smile until he finds that he has been one of the prime causes of increasing the cost of living, and as a result wages in the various industries are increased, which increases the cost of the finished product of these industries. When he is called upon to pay more for farm machinery, and more for his clothing, shoes and household supplies which he does not produce, he grumbles and says that the country is going to the dogs.

But it all resolves itself into a simple problem of economics. We depend upon one another in the various industries, and we cannot bestow the good things upon any industry without distributing the burdens as well. If the price of any necessary material goes up we are compelled as a consequence to find more money to conduct our business and pay our increased expenses. The only way is to raise the price of the articles which we produce. In this way the whole thing is levelled up so that it practically brings us almost back to where we started. The amount of money which a person receives for wages or material can only be measured by the amount of labor and material and the necessities of life that he can get as a result of his efforts. All this brings forcibly to mind the oft quoted saying of the late Jay Gould to those who seemed to envy him the possession of great wealth. "My good man," Gould would say, "I'll get out of this whole thing is my board and clothes, and you are getting just as much in your own way. The only difference is that I am not contented and you are; therefore, you are a mile ahead of me. Good day, sir."

SEEN AND HEARD

"Take off your hat! Rude man behind her cried. And she (just think of it) complied; But they were still unsatisfied. And yelled with their mouths opened wide, 'Take off your hat!'"

It isn't death that scares men; it is the suffering and neglect that precedes it.

When a man's fool streak is in control and he makes up his mind to write a letter, the ink pot is never empty and the pen is always in perfect repair.

A good many people who believe they are indignantly protesting against sin are really gossiping.

The man who hasn't sand enough to refuse a leap year proposal deserves the kind of wife he will get.

You can always tell which way an electric car is going, but you never can tell which way the automobile worn will turn.

"He whose ideals are clean, sincere, kindly, and earnest will become what he seeks."

Do all the good you can and make as little fuss about it as possible.—Dickens.

"The first condition of an inner life is that we should leave time for silence and reflection. The soul's vision clears when the golden gates of its inner life are closely shut upon the outside world."

BE USEFUL

Be useful where thou livest, that they may both want and wish thy pleasing presence still.

Kindness, good parts, great places are the way.

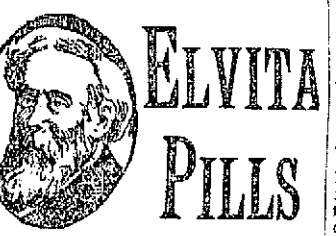

To compass his. Find out men's wants and will. And meet them there. All worldly joys go less.

To the one joy of doing kindnesses.—Herbert.

There is a beautiful and an ugly way in which to say almost everything, and happiness depends upon which way we take. You can unsettle a person for the whole day by the harsh way in which you may call him in the morning, or you may give him a beautiful start by the cheerfulness of your greeting. So not only in words but in all the little, common courtesies and duties of life, think of the beautiful way of doing them.

Scores of women have started savings accounts in the First National bank of Englewood, a Chicago suburb, with money taken from the pockets of their sleeping husbands. Their impetus in this direction is said to have been given by the following paragraph, which appeared in Savings, a monthly publication issued by the bank itself: "One woman's method of saving."

money—or perhaps we should say one of a woman's methods of saving money—is to go through her husband's pockets every night while he gently slumbers. All the loose change she finds she deposits in our bank at interest."

Since this "tip" went broadcast the number of depositors has increased by 500 in round numbers, and the only way it is accounted for by V. B. Nichols, cashier of the bank, is that the wives have taken up a nocturnal collection of spare change.

"For the past ten years we have made a close study of the people of Englewood," said Elroy M. Phillips, editor of Savings. "At last we have the combination."

According to a number of the wives, they took advantage of the holidays to lift considerable of their husbands' coin.

This, according to several court decisions, they may legally do, one judge saying: "A woman who does not go through her husband's pockets does not love him."

WHALEN KILLED

While Trying to Stop Runaway Horses

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Daniel Whalen of 24 Seaver street, Charlestown, a motor-man employed by the Boston elevated railway company, was killed yesterday while he was trying to stop the horses of engine 32 on their way to a fire.

He was walking on Main street, Charlestown, during his dinner hour, when the engine came along. The traces of the leaders in the four horse hitch were loose and dragging on the ground and the horses became frightened and the driver lost control.

Motor-man Whalen jumped from the sidewalk as the horses rushed him and caught the reins. Just as he was straightening himself he slipped in the snow and fell. He clung to the reins and was dragged a short distance. The rear horse trampled on him and the engine wheel passed over his body.

Patrolman Carroll, of division 15, who saw the accident, went to Whalen's assistance and carried him to the sidewalk. The injured man was sent to the hospital, but died before arrival and his body was removed to the morgue.

The engine, after the accident, proceeded on its way, and was later taken to the barn of Barney Price on Myrtle avenue, Somerville. Alderman W. H. Smith and Bernard Higgins, a Somerville city employee, rescued a horse. The loss was about $1000.

LEFT FORTUNE

PRISONER SAYS HE HAS NO USE FOR MONEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—J. Edward Boeck, who is serving a term of six years in Sing Sing prison for a $2500 jewelry swindle, learned Sunday that he is heir to a fortune of $1,000,000, left to him by his miser uncle.

When Boeck was told of the inheritance he became agitated at first, but his face soon resumed the hopeless convict look. He has four years to serve before he can use the wealth that has been so unexpectedly thrust upon him.

The millionaire prisoner is a highly educated man, a great traveler, an art connoisseur and a jewel expert. He numbered J. Pierpont Morgan, ex-Senator Clark, the Guggenheims and other men of wealth among his acquaintances before the arm of the law reached him. He also claimed acquaintance with royalty.

Boeck referred to his inheritance as his "misfortune," and said that with four years to serve, he has no more use for the money than the man who is dead.

WILSON BROTHERS, COMEDIANS AT HATHAWAY'S.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

"One of the best, if not the very best show of the season," was the almost unanimous verdict of those who attended either the afternoon or evening performance at Hathaway's theatre yesterday. From our own personal viewpoint the bill was exceptionally good.

The high class program is headed by Shep Camp and his Fly-by-Night Minstrels. This is one of the sprightliest, gayest and merriest musicals ever seen in vaudeville in this city. It is a musical comedy in two scenes and there is a full program from the start to the finish. A feature of the act is "waking up" on the stage, and the character of the music is delightfully tuneful. A real minstrel first part is introduced and it is studded with topical songs and ballads and all else that goes with it. There are twelve people in the act, and the comedy of the Trocadero quartet. The jolly minstrels are hailed into court for parading without a permit and then the fun begins.

The judge, "Judge Silas Knox," is a comical old soul, and the things that happen are too funny for anything.

Chas. B. Lawlor and his two charming daughters, Mabel and Alice, were loudly applauded immediately upon their appearance. They have been here before and their appearance at both performances yesterday took on the form of an ovation. Their act is called "Night and Day" on the sidewalks of New York. There is no rehearsing the fact that the Lawlors were allowed the major portion of the applause yesterday, and they deserved all they got. It was one of the cleanest and prettiest acts in vaudeville. First as Italian girls the sisters appear. Mr. Lawlor acts as the emcee with special songs, a monkey and a hand organ. Later the sisters show up as street gamins and then, again, one of them in black and white tutus, does something new in a Scotch song, something "about a lass o' Dundee." The act closes with "The Pease," a song of Mr. Lawlor's own composition, during the singing of which the sisters seem more radiant than ever. It is a clean, pretty, thoroughly trustworthy act.

Clara Thropp, the girl who believes in good poetry to boost yourself and ideas, came over here, more than made good. She makes a sort of "hip hurrah" entrance and she is as lively and vivacious as it is possible for one girl to be. She sings about herself and says things that you are not obliged to believe, but that you may enjoy. Clara is not the best singer in the world, but she has a way about her that is very catchy, and there's a charm about her acting that is very refreshing.

Queen Mab is the daintiest, cutest and prettiest little soubrette that ever happened. She is 36 inches in height, and her partner, Caspar H. Wels, also a comedian, is a clever little man. They do a regular grown-up vaudeville turn.

The Three Remards, two men and a woman, do a startling aerial work, strength of teeth and jaws playing no small part in it. One of the men, considers it a mere bit of exercise to hold his companions in mind, all that he does is being a bit of a leather which is firmly gripped in the mouth. They are whirled about at tremendous speed, pulled up and lowered down, moved this way and that, and the teeth always hold. Wilson brothers, fair and fun, and quite funny, tangle up language in general, and the comedian of the pair is a yodler of ability. Rubin, the tramp juggler, opens the bill well, and the motion pictures find a place on it.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special songs at the matinees for women.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

For the first time this season motion pictures were seen at the Opera House last evening. The display, however, was not of the ordinary character, but a series that was very interesting and gay. The presentation is under the management of Lyman H. Howe and he supervised the work in a capable manner.

The first shown was of a grand variety. Those taken at the Helms exhibition meet last night were well produced. The menagerie of Biorio and the other animals of the Count de Lamberg, Farman, Glenn H. Curtiss and Voisin were shown in motion and respect, as well as the mammoth dirigible of Count Zeppelin. This was one of the longest films, and if Lowell residents have not seen the picture, some of them have seen authentic moving pictures of them. This was one of the best films shown.

The dash for the "Frozen north" was of much contemporary interest. Some of them looked as if they were taken in Lapland, while others might have been taken off in Greenland, Iceland, or even Kolobard. They were of much cleanliness and, as afterward decidedly interesting.

The casting of a 12 inch gun in one of the big steel foundries of Pittsburgh furnished considerable entertainment, while the trip through the Rockies on a tight train and the scenes in a northwestern logging camp were good. Winter sports in Canada showed sliding, skating, tobogganing, waiting on ice, snow shooting and the building of the ice palace in Montreal. Then there were films showing the cutting of ice on the St. Lawrence river, the feeding of loads and a chameleon, motor boat races, and a few specially posed pictures. It was altogether the best motion picture exhibition seen here in a long time.

ISRAEL.

Henry Bernstein, the talented author of "The Thief" and "Satan," has divided his new play, "Israel," which for two months has been the dramatic sensation of the year at the Criterion theatre, New York, into three acts. The first of these acts is staged in the lounge room of a very exclusive French club, the Rue Royale. The setting is typical and faithful in its reproduction and here are assembled a number of young Frenchmen.

light, if one has the slightest appreciation of the art of acting in its highest exemplification. The play is a comedy, and is ably seconded by Mary Boland, who proved to be something of a surprise as the half simple and half sophisticated country mix, who finally wins the debonaire hero of a hundred conquests on the field of love. Miss Boland is charmingly natural and unaffectedly delicate, full of changes of mood, with a sureness that is an external sign of real art.

The play is mounted with exceptional taste. Though all of the scenes are "interiors" they possess in a rare degree that indefinable something called "atmosphere." Seats are now on sale.

"THE GIRL FROM RECTORS"

Nell Brinkley, in the New York Evening Journal, declares the gowns worn by the young woman in "The Girl from Rectors" to be the prettiest she has ever seen on the stage.

"There are many mighty sumptuous frocks," said the famous artist and writer, "in 'The Girl from Rectors.' One is a flaring rose color, with a startling fanfare of pink buttons hopping down the sleeves and clear from the wearer's shoulder, till they are absorbed in her train. With it goes a whooping big black hat like a turned-up-side-down butter tub of net, with a big willow plume flattened on its top, and two gallant gilded feathers crooking back over it like golden tongues.

Another is a yellow one, the color of plumed wheat, all glittery and glistery and crawling across the sides, from under her arms to her feet, with golden braid and yellow stones; and big stones on thin hair-chains swinging from her ears like pendulums.

"The pretty little wife in the story wears a little blue dress, with a baby's dress, a faint blue chiffon cloth, with a little frothy lace waist of blue, a high waisted, long tailored skirt, and a big square, hemmed width of the cloth folded across the back and let hang in deep folds.

"And a little coat, too—a hullies little coat. White broadcloth, with a great staring black fur collar and cuffs, and two fur buttons in black under her shoulder blades, and two in front—just the glaring white and the great black spots. And a little 'ood (the little heart cracking theatre heads that the Bettinues are wearing in the theatre) of gold by the side of her ear, with a bow as big as a cabbage.

"And then the big, smiling, yellow haired lady's pale pink and white lingerie. Like ice cream, that was Cream buff and raspberry ice."

"The friends of Miss Helen Pingree turned out in full force

BALLINGER DENIES

The Charges Made Against Him by Mr. Hitchcock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Secretary Ballinger late last night issued a lengthy statement in which in most vigorous terms he declared the charges made by Representative Hitchcock before the congressional special committee and aimed at the interior department and the general land office were without foundation in fact.

Answering in turn each of the charges made yesterday by Mr. Hitchcock in his statement, Secretary Ballinger asserts that "insular as they allege any extravagance, wrong doing or favoritism on my part they are absolutely without foundation."

"False; ridiculously false; equally false; equally ridiculous; a peculiarly unwarranted assault upon an efficient government officer," the last referring to Mr. Schwartz, chief of field service, are expressions which he uses in his repudiation of the various charges. In regard to appointing a relative, J. H. Ballinger, as confidential clerk when he became commissioner of land office, the secretary says this was because he was not personally acquainted before coming here with any officers or clerks in the land office and desired to have as confidential clerk some one he knew. He says that Judge Wright was removed, not to make way for J. H. Ballinger, but because Judge Wright's age, he being nearly 80, made him "physically disqualified to perform his duties." The vacancy on the law board, he says, was filled, not by Jack Ballinger, but by Judge Gray.

He says that the "certain large brick chimney" to which Mr. Hitchcock alluded "was erected pursuant to a specific appropriation for that purpose by congress," that the additional clerks in the land office complained of were necessitated by the congressional appropriation of $1,000,000 for protecting public lands; and that the charge in regard to the purchase of furniture "was a war with that relating to the employment of additional clerks."

BRILLIANT PARTY

By Officers of the Lowell High School Regiment

The Nineteenth in the History of the Organization—Many of the Teachers and Friends of the School Present

The nineteenth annual party of the commissioned officers of the Lowell High school regiment was held last evening in Associate hall. The affair like all of its predecessors was a huge success. The hall was prettily decorated. Large streamers of pink and white bunting extended from the ceiling to the galleries and the stage was a thing of beauty. The music was by the school orchestra and when the grand march started the scene was a very pleasing one. The galleries were packed and great interest, pleasure and attention were shown everywhere.

THE MILK DEALERS

Deny the State's Right to Fix the Milk Test

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The constitutionality of the milk standard law was argued before Chief Justice Knowlton and Judges Hammond, Braley, Sheldon and Rugg in the supreme court yesterday. The question is raised in the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Alvah G. Wheeler, William Foss and Harry G. Walcott, who were found guilty of having in their possession to sell milk not up to the standard prescribed. The statute fixes the good standard as 12 and 15-100 per cent. solids. Their milk had only 11 and 65-100 per cent.

The dealers argue that the present milk law cannot be justified as a police regulation, seeking to prevent the sale of adulterated milk or as a rule of evidence prescribing what shall be regarded as evidence of fraud or adulteration. The legislation up to 1909, they admit, had this purpose in view, but in that year they argue the standard of good quality was fixed arbitrarily as a mercantile term without regard to fraud or adulteration.

By this, it is contended, the legislation went beyond its power, for the reason that it cannot make it a crime to sell or keep for sale, pure and nutritious milk as naturally produced by cows under hygienic conditions that is not adulterated.

They sought to show that the milk in their possession was not deleterious or injurious to health, but beneficial as food, and was in the same condition as when received from the cows, and not adulterated. They were not allowed to show this and now contend this evidence should have been admitted.

They argue further that the statute is unlawful because unreasonable and in derogation of the public interest. "Henceforth," argued their counsel, ex-Atty.-General Parker, "if such a statute be held to be a just law, the Good Samaritan shall withhold the beneficent cup of water until some presumptuous statute shall have analyzed its elements."

Dist.-Atty. Higgins appeared for the commonwealth.

Among the many out-of-town guests were Major Benjamin Anthony, Capt. G. M. Stearns, Capt. D. W. White and Lieut. W. C. Hickey, of Wakefield, and many others.

General dancing was begun at nine o'clock and fond parents and friends in the galleries enjoyed the occasion to the full extent.

Near the stage at the farther end of the hall were seated the matrons of the party, teachers of the high school. In the receiving line were Miss Mary A. Wheeler, Miss Adelaide Baker, Miss Emma Bradley and Miss Charlotte Draper, Supl. A. K. Whitcomb, Principal C. W. Irish and several of the other teachers from the school were present during the evening.

At intervals during the dance the hall lights were extinguished, and the dancers tripped the light fantastic to the beams of a searchlight, operated from the gallery, and the effect on the beautiful costumes of the young ladies and the sparkling uniforms of the young men was quite charming.

At 11 o'clock the dancers ceased from dancing and refreshments were served. Dancing was resumed at 11:30 o'clock, and the first hour of the early morn had struck ere the strains of the last waltz had died away.

THE GLIDDEN TOUR

Auto Men Do Not Want to See it Abolished

At the recent New York automobile shows there was much talk going the rounds among the manufacturers concerning the proposed discarding of the famous Glidden tour trophy and substituting for the same a trophy to be known as the National or American Automobile Association trophy. The trophy, which has been made possible by that association from money given by manufacturers. There were arguments for and against this action, but those who objected to the proposed changes were in the majority.

Foremost among the objectors is Benjamin Briscoe, of the Alaxwell-Briscoe company and president of the Manufacturers Contest association. His views are plain and to the point and expressed as follows:

"To discard this classic touring trophy of the country at this time, after it has accomplished so much good for the industry, is in my opinion an extraordinary action and one which would be regretted not only by motor car makers but by the public as well."

Trophy Marks Auto's Progress "Surely no automobile trophy ever competed for in this country has done so much toward the progression of the motor car industry; not excepting even the Vanderbilt cup."

"Donated in the early days when the automobile was looked upon as the rich man's toy, it created enthusiasm throughout the territories through which the Glidden tour was run; it showed the public in general that the motor car could accomplish all that was claimed for it; it demonstrated that the 'houseless carriage' had become a permanent fixture in social and business life; it has done more than anything else to sound the death knell of the horse and its relegation to the farm; it has given manufacturers a superior opportunity to learn the strong and weak points of their cars, which could not have been learned under general touring conditions. This, in brief, is what the Glidden trophy has done for the industry, sport and pastime, and it is this same famous classic trophy that certain interests would now bury in the historic archives of motordom!"

"The public at large, from Boston on the east to the Golden Gate on the west, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes, it is the public's barometer as to what the various cars can do in endurance, mountain climbing, plunging through sand or gumbo, or spreading over macadam roads. The Glidden tour has taken the automobiles through country hardly passable by horse vehicles, and has fully demonstrated that the motor car can accomplish what no other form of transportation can."

Lauds Donor of Trophy "None of these would have been learned so rapidly if not for Mr. Glidden's generous offer in donating the famous trophy which bears his name. As a pioneer, he certainly is entitled to a place which will be his. Personally, I believe that for much credit cannot be given him for his foresight and keen intuition of the benefits to be derived from an annual contest such as the Glidden tour has developed into. I am, therefore, myself, even dreamed what wonderful beneficial results would be derived from the motor car when he first donated the trophy."

"To me it sounds inconsistent for this A. A. official to recommend the withdrawal of the Glidden trophy and offer certificates in its place, when in the same statement he says: 'At this time suitable resolution should be offered'

SKIN DISEASES READILY CURED BY A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT

Persons who are suffering from blackheads, pimples, dandruff, eczema, tetter, ring-worm, or any form of skin disease, often ask the question, "Is there any cure?"

Mr. Dows, the druggist, says "yes, there is a cure." ZEMO, a scientific, clean, liquid preparation for external use, gives prompt relief and permanently cures every form of skin and scalp disease. ZEMO draws the germ life and poisons from underneath the skin to the surface and destroys them and in this way affects a complete cure of any form of skin or scalp disease, whether on infants or grown persons. Mr. Dows will show you proof of many remarkable cures made by ZEMO and will gladly explain to you how you can be cured by this clean, simple home treatment.

KILLED BY FALL

Smokestack Crashed Down at Attleboro

ATTLEBORO, Jan. 18.—Joseph Duman, aged 19, of Norwich, Ct., was instantly killed and Ephraim Fountain, aged about 25 years, also of Norwich, was probably fatally injured by the collapse of a smoke stack yesterday afternoon.

These two men and C. E. Kliney, employed by a roofing company of Providence, were engaged to remove the upper portion of a large smoke stack on Maiden lane and adjacent to the power house for the E. A. Robinson estate. The men had put staging, ropes and a swinging chain in position and Duman, according to statements made by men near, was standing on a board placed across the top of the stack and 35 to 40 feet from the ground, when there was a crash that started the men in the factories about and the top of the stack, staging and the two men went down.

Young Duman struck first on the edge of the roof at the base of the stack and then bounded to the street. He was picked up dead and Fountain was taken to a hospital in Providence in a critical condition. When at the station on a stretcher awaiting a train, he appeared cool and remarked to some of the bystanders, who were sympathizing with him, that if he got out of his accident all right he would return to that work again. "You have to expect accidents in this steep climbing and chimney business," he said.

SUPT. WARREN

MAKES REPORT ON CONDITIONS AT TRUANT SCHOOL

Supt. Warren of the Middlesex county truant school at North Chelmsford, has made the following report to the county commission:

There were 176 boys in the school January 1, 1909. Admitted during the year, 64; whole number for the year, 240; released during the year, 63; remaining December 31, 1909, 177.

Of those received during the year, forty-one were admitted as habitual truants, one for the violation of the rules of school, or school offender, 12 as absentees, and ten returned from probation.

Of those released four were discharged by expiration of sentence, one eloped, and fifty-eight were released upon probation.

Of the number committed twenty could neither read nor write.

The receipts and expenditures were as follows:

County of Middlesex for current expenses, $21,989.10; clothes and towels for board of pupils, $10,087.52; from sundry sales, etc., $169.46; total, $32,226.08.

The expenses were:

Begin Inspection of the Militia

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The annual inspection of the Massachusetts volunteer militia commenced yesterday afternoon in this city, when the medical department was looked over at its headquarters at the state house by Maj. Frank P. Reynolds, medical department, U. S. A., and the headquarters of the 1st brigade at the South armory by Maj. John W. Heard, 6th United States cavalry.

Surg.-Gen. C. C. Foster received the inspecting officer for his department, and Brig.-Gen. Clark and Adj.-Gen. Sanborn for the brigade headquarters.

In the evening companies of the coast artillery corps, 1st, 2d and 7th, commanded respectively by Capt. Frothingham, Getchall and Hall, with the band and field music, were inspected by Maj. Thomas Hildway, U. S. A., at the South armory.

During the afternoon the major inspected the books and property of the companies. This inspection is important, as upon the strength of attendance the annual allotment is made by the secretary of war.

Maj. Rogers of the Inspector-general's department accompanied Maj. Hildway. Capt. Bennett, C. A. C., U. S. A., the corps artillery instructor, was present, as was Col. Nutter, and most of the regimental field and staff and Capt. Webb of the 5th Infantry.

Headquarters, band, field music and companies, A. Capt. Logan, C. Capt. Sullivan, and E. Capt. Dwyer, of the 5th Infantry, were looked over at the East armory by Capt. Robert H. Allen, 23rd Infantry, U. S. A., Col. Sullivan had as guests Lieut. Col. Thomas Talbot, Capt. Cole and Lieut. Lavelle, First Corps Cadets.

The inspections will be continued today, when the headquarters of the 2d brigade and the remaining Boston companies of the C. A. C. and 5th Infantry will be inspected.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE Peter Martore was taken from his home in John street to the Lowell hospital yesterday afternoon. He is employed at the Hamilton mills and while at work sprained his ankle. Instead of having it attended to by a doctor he walked to his home, but upon arriving there found the pain so intense that he decided that medical treatment was necessary.

CHARITY BOARD

Mayor Meehan Removed Four Members of Old Board

NIGHT EDITION

GEO. G. KELLY'S WILL

Will Leaves Bulk of Estate to Mrs. Mary C. Leach, of Exeter, N. H., His Step-Daughter—Only One Judge for Two Sessions of Probate Court

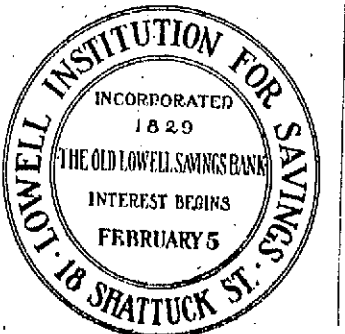

The probate court room was crowded with busy lawyers and their clients this morning when the regular session came on, but much of the business had to go over, as only one judge put in an appearance. Judge Lawton is still on the bench. Russell will case, while Judge McIntire was called away by the death of his sister. The business of two sessions, consequently, fell upon Judge Chamberlin of Plymouth county, who is substituting in Middlesex. Judge Chamberlin took up the business of the uncontested session first and the following wills were presented for probate: Lillian Buckminster, Annie L. Richardson, Elizabeth McDaniels, Frances Normand and Mary E. Reid, all of Lowell.

The following administrations were granted: Ruth R. Grant, Isate Jahert, Mary Brown and Owen Rogers, all of Lowell.

Kelly Will Case
Notice of a contest over the will of the late George G. Kelly, "Stonewall" Kelly of Dracut, was filed in the probate court this morning by John J. Pickman in behalf of Mattie Hatch of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Kelly died recently, leaving an estate of considerable value. In the will the testator leaves his Dracut property to "Mary C. Leach of Exeter, N. H., daughter of my late wife." Charles F. Butterfield of Andover, N. H., he bequeathed $1000. To George Mosman of Westminster, $500; to George W. Greene, a cousin, $250; to John T. Greene, a cousin, $500; to Angella V. Trull of Lowell, $250.

The residue of the estate is left to Mary C. Leach of Exeter and Charles R. Knowles of Pittsburg as executrix and executor respectively, with the recommendation that they be not obliged to furnish sureties.

The concluding clause in the will states that as the testator had given all his property in California to Alamo B. Mossman of Westminster, son of his late wife, prior to his death, he felt that no further bequest was necessary. The estate is said to amount to about $25,000.

It is understood that other heirs beside Mattie Hatch will be represented as contestants.

Stanley W. Qua appears for Mrs. Mary C. Leach in the case.

LOSS IS $17,000

Lumber Mills Were Destroyed by Fire

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Jan. 18.—The lumber and flooring mills of the Follansby & Peck Lumber Co. here were destroyed by fire today. The loss is estimated at $17,000.

NATIONAL BANK

Broken Into in a Novel Way

WARE, Jan. 18.—The First National bank of this town was broken into in a novel manner today when a young dog frightened by passersby leaped through one of the bank's windows. The deer landed on the cashier's desk, scattering the cash in all directions. The animal finally died from its exertions.

MINERS STRIKE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 17.—In compliance with the strike order issued by the miners employed at No. 5 colliery of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Co. the 1200 employees did not report for work today. The strikers say they will not work until their demand for a checking boss is granted.

RELATIVES CUT OUT

W. D. Hobart Left His Estate to Margaret Handley

Told His Lawyer That She Had Nursed and Befriended Him, While He Was Under No Obligation to Relatives—Interesting Will Contest in Probate Court

The contested will case of William D. Hobart, who left an estate said to be of considerable amount to Mrs. Margaret Handley, who had befriended the de-

In the machine shop up to the time he received the $500. Witness thought that Hobart gave up his work after he received the $500. He couldn't say whether Hobart ever worked again or not.

Mr. Pratt said that he had never noticed any signs of intoxication on Mr. Hobart although he knew he was a drinking man up to the time he received the money. Afterward he saw him once in his office intoxicated. He had seen him coming out of saloons but couldn't say that he was intoxicated. After receiving $500 Mr. Hobart later received $1000 and in anticipation of receiving this money he called at witness' office several times relative to borrowing money. Hobart borrowed about $100 from a broker named La-

Three weeks after the making of the will, witness said, Mr. Hobart came into his office very drunk and tried to talk about the will. Hobart said: "I want that will." Witness said, "I haven't any will of yours and if I had I wouldn't give it to you because you're drunk."

Hobart replied: "That's what she said." Witness said he replied: "Well, she's right, whoever she is." Hobart hung around a few minutes and then went away. He returned the next day and apologized for his conduct on the day previous.

Witness asked him relative to the will and Hobart said he had given it to the woman it was made out to. He said that the woman wouldn't give it back to him and that he didn't blame her as he was drunk.

Witness said that he told Hobart that the woman was right in not giving him the will when he was drunk. Hobart went away and returned that evening stating that the woman had told him the will was destroyed. Hobart said that the woman had never deceived him and he had no doubt the will had been destroyed. Witness told him he could destroy the effect of the will by making a new one or by cancelling the old. Witness never heard that Hobart had attempted suicide shortly before his death. Mr. Pratt was cross-examined at length by Lawyer Harvey relative to Mr. Hobart's mental capacity, and the witness stated that Hobart was a man of intelligence. He had no trouble in expressing himself and witness had no difficulty in understanding him.

Witness said that Hobart told him that he wanted to leave his property to Mrs. Handley. He told witness that he was not obligated to his relatives in any way and that the Handley woman had cared for him when he was sick and had advanced him money when he was hard pressed. Hobart said she was a good woman and that there was nothing improper in their relations. Witness did not encourage Hobart to make a will and advised him to take more time. Mr. Hobart was sober at the time he spoke of the will. Mr. Hobart spoke with witness after that and repeated that he was under no obligations to his relatives in Lowell while his relatives out of Lowell had enough of their own. "Witness suggested that he leave something to his relatives but he said he was not under obligations to them. He repeated that Mrs. Handley had nursed him and trusted him when he couldn't pay his lodgings. Witness said he did not know Mrs. Handley and she had never been to his office. On the day that the will was executed a woman called at his office inquiring about the will, but he didn't know who she was.

Witness told Mr. Hobart about the woman who called and described her. Mr. Hobart said that she was his niece and that he didn't want her to know about the will.

Henry G. Corey, clerk of the Old Lowell National bank, was next called and he testified that he knew William D. Hobart. The latter came into the bank with William H. Fuller. The latter said that he had met Mr. Hobart on the street with a roll of money and had advised him to place it in the bank. Mr. Hobart was intoxicated at the time and he deposited $700 in the bank, opening an account. The pass book of the bank was introduced as evidence. That was the only deposit he ever made.

Noon recess.

6 O'CLOCK COURT'S DECISION

Annuls the Marriage of Counselman and Clara French

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Judge Chetlain today ordered the decree separating Willis Counselman, wealthy broker and well known society man, from his former wife, Lulu Counselman, be set aside. This action annuls the marriage of Counselman and Clara French.

The action to annul the marriage was brought by the Chicago Bar association and the relatives of the first Mrs. Counselman on charges that gross fraud was practiced in securing the divorce. The first Mrs. Counselman had been in a sanitarium for the insane throughout the time the proceedings for divorce had been pending and at no time has she taken part in the proceedings. Neither has she been notified, it was claimed, of the pending suit.

BLACK HANDERS

Blamed for Kidnapping of Chicago Girl

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—It is reported to the police that black handers are responsible for the kidnapping of Marie Marcollo, a 17 year old Italian girl, who was bundled into a cab today when she left her home to go to work. Marie's younger sister Rosa was also seized but broke away and spread the alarm. Apparently Marie made no struggle or outcry when she was seized. There were three men in the cab.

Rosa said she had never seen any of the men in the cab before but she was certain they were Italians. The police have been unable to get any clue as the cab was driven rapidly away and soon disappeared. The police are working on the theory that Marie Marcollo, 17 years old, who has been missing from her home since yesterday morning, was also seized by three men in a cab.

"MODEL" BOY STOLE PISTOL

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Edward Franklin Seale, with a record so good that the other boys had nicknamed him "The Model Kid," confessed in the Children's court yesterday that a secret longing to be a wild and woolly western bad man had led him to the theft of a .45-calibre revolver, a cartridge belt and some hunting paraphernalia from a former "cow-puncher."

Edward is 15, and lives at No. 327 East Seventy-first street. His mother testified to his good behavior, and said that reading nickel novels on the sly had caused the change in him. Justice Denel put him on parole.

FUNERALS

DEMERS.—The funeral of Mrs. Louise Demers took place yesterday morning from her home, 58 Fourth street, with solemn funeral services at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. Brulard, Watelle and Baron, O. M. L., officiated. The choir sang Bernini's mass. Mr. Gourdau directing and Joseph A. Bernard playing the organ. The hearers were Gedeon, Joseph, Arthur and Delphis Demers, sons of the deceased; Alphonse Belsvert and George Page. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. L., officiated at the grave. Undertaker Amos Archambault had charge.

MCMINTOSH.—The funeral of John E. McIntosh took place yesterday afternoon from his residence, 180 Wilder street, and was largely attended. Services were conducted by Rev. Eugene deL. Heald and the hearers were: A. L. Kendall, F. M. Perkins, O. D. Wilder, Walter Parsons and Caleb Smith. There was a delegation present from Middlesex lodge, K. of P., and Elgin lodge, N. E. O. P., and also Elgin lodge, I. O. O. F. The floral offerings were numerous. Burial was in the Edison cemetery in charge of Undertaker J. A. Weinbeck.

TWOMEY.—The funeral of Catherine Rita Twomey took place from the home of her parents, 6 New street, Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, and was attended by many relatives and friends. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Among the floral offerings were: Large pillow of roses and pinks with the letters "Our Darling," from the parents; a large basket of cut flowers with ribbon lettered "Cathleen," from Mrs. Twomey and family of North Billerica; a spray of pinks from Mr. and Mrs. Jere O'Brien of North Billerica; and a spray of carnations from Janet O'Donnell of Billerica. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker John J. O'Connell.

SAMARAS.—The funeral of the late Saitos Samaras took place this morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. Services were held at the Holy Trinity church, and the burial was in the Edison cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CASSIDY.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Cassidy took place this morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Burns, 329 Concord street at 8:15. High mass of requiem was celebrated at nine o'clock. Rev. Father Sullivan, O. M. L., officiated. The choir sang the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Mrs. Hugh Walker sang "The Jesus." After the elevation the choir sang "In Paradisum" and as the body was borne from the church the choir sang "De Profundis." Mr. Arthur McQuade sustained the solos. Mrs. Hugh Walker presided at the organ. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were: Wreath of carnations and violets inscribed "Grandmother," from grandchildren; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Downey and family; sheaf of wheat and spray, Mrs. Ella Desmond; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. James E. McCarthy; sheaf of wheat and spray, Mrs. Haggerty and family; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Owen J. Carney; spray, Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Donohue and eyes palms, Mrs. Kate Reynolds. The hearers were: Timothy Brown, Patrick Conlon, Thomas J. McDonald and Jeremiah Coughlin. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. L., read the committal prayers. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

SULLIVAN.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Sullivan took place this morning from her home, No. 30 Chalmers street, at 8:40 o'clock and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Timothy Callahan. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson, sang the Gregorian mass. Mr. McCarthy and Miss Murphy sustained the solos. As the remains were borne from the church "De Profundis" was sung. There were many beautiful floral offerings, among them being a wreath of galax leaves, from Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Quinn; sheaf of wheat, from the family; spray

The hearers were Messrs. Edward Regan, John Hannan, James Baxter, John Brisco, John McDonald and Maurice Quinn. Interment was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery where Rev. Fr. Callahan gave the final absolution at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna in charge.

MURPHY.—The funeral of Joseph Meredith took place this morning at 8:30 from his late home, 13 West street. A funeral high mass was celebrated in St. Michael's church by Rev. Fr. Murphy at 9 o'clock. The Gregorian chant was rendered by the choir which was under the direction of Mr. Thomas B. Boulger. Miss Carolyn A. White was the organist. The solos were rendered by Mrs. James A. Murphy and Mr. Thomas P. Boulger. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery where Rev. Fr. Murphy read the prayers at the grave. The hearers were James and Joseph Meredith, Charles and Patrick Riley. There were many floral offerings. C. H. Molloy and Sons were the undertakers in charge.

CONNERS.—The funeral of James M. Connors took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his late home, 426 Chelmsford street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church, where a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. L. The sanctuary choir, under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldoon, sang the Gregorian mass. As the body was being borne from the church "De Profundis" was sung by the choir. The hearers were John and Philip Connors, Richard Hynes, Henry Reynolds. Present at the funeral was a delegation from the Bricklayers' union. There were many beautiful tributes, among them the following: Large pillow galax leaves, roses, pinks and sweet peas with ribbon inscribed "Daddy," from the bereaved family; large spray of sweet peas with lavender ribbon, from Mr. and Mrs. Prody; spray of pinks with white ribbon, sympathy of Jas. H. Walker; spray of pinks, sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Adair; spray of pinks, sympathy of Mr. Thomas Vaughan and family. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. KETCHEL AND THOMAS.—GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 18.—Stanley Ketchel has cabled Tom Thomas, the English middleweight champion, that he will be in England in June to mix it up with him for the title. Ketchel expects to spend six weeks in England before going to Australia, where Hugh McIntosh has matched him with Thomas Burns and promises other engagements.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Holmes of Varman avenue started today on a trip to Los Angeles, Cal. They expect to be gone about two months.

Michael J. Reagan, the popular motorist on the Broadway and Andover street line, is rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy at his home on Cairo street. The little stranger arrived during the big snow storm Friday night.

Private Seaman of Fort Banks, Winthrop, who is well known in this city, visited Lowell today to attend the funeral of Private Joseph McCoy.

NEW COMET DISCOVERED.—CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 18.—A new comet, discovered early yesterday by an astronomer in South Africa, is conspicuously bright and visible to the naked eye, according to a cablegram received last night by the Harvard college observatory, from the observatory at Kiel, Germany.

The cablegram states that the comet was observed by Dr. Johann Neujmin, and was in right ascension, 19 hours, 50 minutes, 25 seconds, and declination minus 25 degrees, 9 minutes, 24 seconds.

The comet has an hourly motion in right ascension of plus 41 seconds of time, and declination of plus 4 minutes, 1 second of arc.

SUSPECT ARRESTED.—PROVIDENCE, Jan. 18.—Sanford Burton, the young chameleon who was held up and robbed in broad daylight yesterday, was his own detective today and succeeded in effecting the arrest of William Loden of this city, who admits his guilt. Young Burton saved his man on an electric car and followed him into the city. On the street he tossed two patrolmen, called their attention to the man whom he was following and the arrest quickly followed. In one of Loden's pockets was found a watch which the police believe belonged to an aged Crawford farmer, who was robbed in that town several weeks ago.

APPROPRIATION OF $10,000.—WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—To meet the emergency caused by the forming of the ice gorge in the Ohio river near Louisville, Ky., the senate today approved the $10,000 appropriation proposed in a joint resolution adopted yesterday by the house.

FELL FROM WINDOW.—BRIMMINGTON, Conn., Jan. 18.—Clara Sprague, who was brought here from Danbury last night to explain what she knew of the death of James Mullins, today told the police that Mullins and another man got into a fight in her house. "The falling was in a semi-conscious condition," he fell out of a fourth story window. The police had been notified at the finding of Mullins' body in the snow and no more by evidence of a fight.

GOVERNOR HUGHES Is Not After the Presidential Nomination in 1912

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—There is no buzzing of the 1912 presidential bee in the bonnet of Gov. Hughes of New York. According to his own statement, his declaration to be a candidate for a third term as governor of New York has no political significance. The governor who is here to attend the meeting of the governors was asked, "Does your declaration to run for the governorship of New York for a third time mean that you will consider a presidential nomination?"

"It means nothing of the sort," Mr. Hughes promptly replied. "It means simply that I intend resuming the practice of law when I finish my present term and that I will be out of politics. I have served New York the best I know how and believe I am entitled to a rest from official duties. The talk of my being a presidential possibility comes from my friends and not from me as I have not given the matter any thought."

THE RINGSPINNERS

Have Succeeded in Crippling Several Mills

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—It is estimated that about 2000 operatives in all have gone out on strike in Fall River, Fitchburg, Fisherville, North Adams and at several other points because of a reduction in wages caused by the new 56 hour law. In Fall River two mills are shut down and several others crippled by the absence of ring spinners.

At the Fisher mills in Fisherville the backboys are out and the mill spinners are idle in consequence. Similar strikes in the Nockeco cotton mills and the Grant yarn mills in Fitchburg are in progress, but the mills are running. Trouble at the Star worsted mills, Fitchburg, and at the Carr cotton mills, East Taunton has been settled. Manufacturers are of the opinion that the change in time will not lead to a widely extended strike movement.

PRES. TAFT'S PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Some time this afternoon or tomorrow the state department will make public proclamations by President Taft, declaring that certain European countries therein specified are entitled to the minimum rates of duty imposed by the Payne-Aldrich bill. Only six countries will be designated by the proclamations as entitled to the minimum rates, and these are Great Britain, Russia, Italy, Spain, Switzerland and Turkey.

MINeworkers MEET Annual Convention Was Opened in Indianapolis Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—The annual convention of the United Mine-Workers of America opened at Tomlinson hall in this city today. The anthracite miners of Pennsylvania are sparsely represented in the convention because they have no wage scale to negotiate with the mine owners at this time but the bituminous miners have a demand for an increase in wages that may be set at any point between ten and twenty per cent. The preliminary organization of the convention was expected to occupy the day. It is improbable that the convention will continue longer than eleven days because a joint conference between the miners representatives and the operators of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana to consider the new wage contract is scheduled for Feb. 1 at Toledo.

The disaster at Cherry, Ill., has given new impetus to the movement for federal regulation of the operation of mines and this matter will be only second in importance to the question of wages in the convention. President Lewis will press his campaign for the institution of a government bureau of mines and mining.

It is generally conceded that the report of the officers of the recent balloting for officers will show the result of the election of Mr. Lewis as president over William Green of Ohio.

PRES. THOMAS RE-ELECTED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley Railway Co. was today re-elected by the stockholders of the company at their annual meeting in the offices of the corporation in this city. William H. Moore, Edward S. Moore and Daniel G. Reid were elected members of the board succeeding Lippencott and George H. McFadden of Philadelphia and Irving A. Stearns of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

FUNERAL NOTICES

HANFORD.—The funeral of Mrs. Anna Hanford will take place Wednesday morning at 8:30 from her late home, 34 Elmwood avenue. A funeral high mass will be celebrated in St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Funeral will be in charge of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

MRS. LADENBURG

Gave Celebration Party to Friends

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Given: An award by the courts of $605,000. Problem: What shall be done first of all?

Answer: Celebrate. And that's exactly what Mrs. Emily Ladenburg, widow of Adolph, the millionaire stockbroker, did yesterday after Supreme Court Justice Hendrick announced his decision in her suit against her late husband's firm—Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.

Mrs. Ladenburg celebrated in her usual novel and lavish fashion. She gathered together within a few hours a party of sixty-two friends and entertained them (or at least most of them) from late afternoon until early this morning. Within a very brief time after Justice Hendrick had made known the

ANOTHER MURDER New York Boy Was Found Dead in Hallway

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—With the supposed maniac who shot and killed one child and wounded another on Washington Heights last week still unidentified and at large, the police today found another boy-murder mystery on their hands.

Morris Wellman, 14 years old, was found dead, shot through the heart, in the vestibule of the bathhouse where he lived on Allen street today. He had apparently staggered down stairs from the room of the second floor where the shooting occurred and dropped lifeless in the hallway. A revolver was found in the room. No clue to the identity of the murderer could be obtained. Several persons are said to have been together in the room shortly before young Wellman's body was discovered and two boys, one of them with a hang-dog head, were later seen hurrying out of the building. A search for the members of the party in the room was immediately instituted.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The conference report on the Ballinger-Pinchot resolution was adopted unanimously by the house today.

$605,000 award, the telephones out of the Plaza, which is Mrs. Ladenburg's home, began to get very busy. Also the chefs and decorators inside the hotel started to work in hurry-up fashion.

LAWYER BINNEY

And Three Guests Rescued From Yacht

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 18.—The auxiliary schooner yacht Mist, of New York, out of gasoline and threatened with adverse winds, came to grief off Atlantic City late yesterday afternoon and caused the life savers two rough trips through the breakers.

On the first trip they rescued Harold Binney, a lawyer, of No. 2 Rector street, New York, who owned and commanded the yacht, and his guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Durrell, of New York, and their two-year-old daughter, Beatrice. The crew at first decided to stay with the yacht, which was left in charge of a Swedish sailing master.

The transfer of Binney and his guests from the yacht to the lifeboat was effected with great difficulty. The sea is always choppy off Atlantic City, and yesterday it was particularly so. A great crowd watched the rescue from the board walk, and cheered when the lifeboat put back to the beach. Mr. Binney and his guests hurried to the Graymore hotel, where they found dry clothes.

The Mist tugged at her anchors a mile off the Long Pier through the afternoon, and when darkness settled seemed to be riding easily, but at 7:30 o'clock promenade on the board walk were startled by a shower of rockets and lights from the yacht. The life savers put out a second time.

"We've broken our windshield, and the anchors are dragging!" shouted the sailing master. "You'd better take her off."

Again the lifeboat went alongside, and the crew of five were transferred without accident.

There is every indication that unless the wind changes the Mist will pile up on the beach. It was almost impossible to bring her in through the mist on account of shallow water on the bar. Her auxiliary engine was useless without gasoline, and as the craft was also out of water, the crew were afraid to beat out to sea.

Mr. Binney said he was bound for Newport News, and had encountered stormy weather since he put out from Sandy Hook.

The Mist was built by N. G. Herreshoff at Bristol, R. I., in 1904, and was originally owned by E. de V. Morrell of Philadelphia. Mr. Binney's home is at No. 114 East Twenty-second street.

FRENCH IMPORTS FOR YEAR.—PARIS, Jan. 18.—French imports in 1909 totalled $2,256,551,200. This is an increase over the preceding year of $92,000,000. Exports for the year showed an increase of $68,466,000.

WYMAN'S EXCHANGE Opening Day

Woman Was Arraigned in Police Court Today

Anna Holveas was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on three counts of larceny. In two of the counts she was charged with the larceny of underwear and hosiery from the Lawrence Manufacturing Company. In the third count it was alleged that she stole yarn from the Bigelow Carpet Company.

Major E. J. Noyes conducted the case for the government and the defendant was represented by J. Joseph Hennessy. During the course of the testimony considerable of a personal nature was brought out, also the fact that she had married since she was arrested.

Anal Jones, overseer of the shirt press room of the Lawrence Manufacturing Co., was the first witness for the government. He identified ten pairs of drawers, 18 socks and a number of pairs of stockings which he claimed were manufactured by the Lawrence company.

On cross-examination he testified that he did not know when the goods were stolen. The girl worked in one of his rooms, but had not been employed since June, 1909. He was positive that the shirts and drawers had been manufactured by the Lawrence company, but could not swear that other companies did not manufacture stockings similar to the ones offered as evidence.

Major E. J. Noyes testified that a week ago Monday night he went to the room of the defendant. In a trunk he found some underwear that he recognized as belonging to the Lawrence company.

The next day witness, accompanied by Special Officer John Regis, met the defendant in the yard of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. Through Mr. Regis, acting as interpreter, the woman said that she had been living with a man for four years, he having promised to marry her when they left Greece. She said that the man had brought the garments out of the mill and he had put them in her trunk.

According to what she told Mr. Regis the stockings which were also found in the trunk were not there two days prior to Inspector Noyes' examination.

On cross-examination witness admitted that he learned that the goods were in the possession of the defendant through a man who lived in the same house. The man in question also gave him the key to the trunk. Witness after much cross-examination by Mr. Hennessy, admitted that he had secured some information relative to the goods from Prof. Iatros.

The trunk and goods were located at 443 Market street and witness was of the opinion that the defendant lived at that place. He testified that he was not aware that the defendant had not lived at that place for two months.

George Tsoliakos, who resides in Market street but did not know the members of the house, testified to a conversation in which he heard between his uncle and the defendant relative to the goods. He said that he saw the goods in the woman's trunk.

Constantine Holveas, of 443 Market street, said that his brother left for Greece a year ago last November. The brother, witness said, was living with the defendant and on one occasion when the woman had brought some underwear home he heard his brother tell her to bring the goods back to where she had got them. The brother then took the goods away from the woman and afterwards struck her.

Special Officer John Regis told of the conversation which he had with the defendant in the presence of Major Noyes. His testimony was corroborative of that offered by Major Noyes.

Archibald Grant of the Bigelow Carpet Co. identified some yarn which was offered, as similar to that manufactured by the Bigelow Carpet company.

The government rested its case at this point. Basilike Tsolia, a woman, testified that the yarn was in a closet in her house for a long time, but that she knew nothing of the underwear or hosiery, which it was alleged was taken from the Lawrence company.

Anna Holveas, the defendant, testified that she was at one time employed at the Bigelow Carpet company, but that the yarn which was produced in court had been brought to the house by Constantine Holveas and his brother.

She said that she had not been in the Lawrence mills since she left that place several years ago. She denied having stolen anything from the Lawrence Mfg. company and ordered her to pay a fine of $30, $15 on each count. On the charge of larceny from the Bigelow Carpet company she was found not guilty and discharged.

Back to the Farm
Thomas Guthrie and John B. Driscoll were arrested in Chelmsford yesterday and brought to the police station where they were booked for drunkenness. Guthrie pleaded guilty to the complaint, but Driscoll said "Not guilty."

The latter later changed his plea to guilty, and inasmuch as both were on parole from the state farm they will be returned to the state farm.

Drunken Offenders
John Montgomery, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail.

There were two $2 drunks.

STEWARDS LOST

Was Swept Overboard From Schooner

SALEM, Jan. 18.—With flag at half mast the three-masted schooner Adriatic arrived here yesterday from Moses river, N. S., after a tragic experience with wind, snow and sea. Capt. E. Irving Elsenhaur says the vessel cleared from Moses river last Wednesday with 173,315 feet of pine lumber consigned to a Salem firm.

Owing to rough weather the vessel put in at La Have and at Shelburne, N. S., for protection. Friday morning the schooner cleared from Shelburne. The wind was blowing strongly from east-northeast at the time and a short time after reaching the open sea the wind backed to northeast.

Friday night he awoke before the vessel for several hours and Saturday noon a tremendous wave swept over the port quarter while five of the crew were reefing the mainsail. Three of the men were swept into the sea.

Capt. Elsenhaur was at the wheel. The deck of the schooner was filled with water and the captain stood immersed up to his arms. Two of the unfortunate men managed to grasp the line floating astern. Richard Rilecy, steward, aged 30 years whose home was at Riverport, N. S. was not as fortunate and was engulfed. He was enrolled on the vessel Jan. 11.

Capt. Elsenhaur says a blinding snow-storm prevailed when the men were swept overboard and that it was impossible to launch the schooner's boat. The schooner, which is of 99 tons register and built 12 years ago, escaped serious injury. Capt. Elsenhaur has followed the sea for more than 25 years and says he has never experienced such terrible weather as during this trip.

GERMANY MAKES REPLY

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The German government today cabled to Washington a reply to a memorandum recently received from the United States and relative to the tariff on shipments between the two countries. While it does not accept the American wishes in various respects and especially concerning the importation of meat, the German response is sent in the hope that it will be satisfactory. The reply was dispatched with a certain feeling of regard that Germany can do no more and must be prepared for trade hostilities should the United States insist on more than Germany gives to other countries.

APPLICATION GRANTED

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Justice Andrews today granted the application of the state insurance department to have the People's Mutual Life Association and League turned over to the department for liquidation.

FIRE LOSSES

ESTIMATE OF THE GREAT DAMAGE BY FIRES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—"When a carpenter nails three boards onto a new house the lumber to make three other boards is being burned somewhere in a forest fire and only lumber enough to make one new board is being grown in the forest at the same time."

J. H. McFarland, president of the American Civic association, made a plea for legislation to promote public control of privately owned forests before the conference on uniform state legislation today and prefaced his remarks with the above sentence.

"Using every day three times as much as we grow and wasting as much as we use we can see the end of wood in the United States," declared Mr. McFarland.

"Four fifths of the timber standing in the United States is privately owned and all is being cut destructively. The remaining one-fifth is in government possession and if it were cut clean there would only be enough left to last the United States ten years at the present rate of consumption."

"All the power to preserve these forests rests with the sovereign states. It is for that reason that uniform legislation for public control of privately owned forests is imperative."

BALTIMORE SUN CHANGES

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—It was learned today that the papers have been signed by two of the three interests controlling the A. S. Bell estate, transferring to Charles H. Grasty, the publisher of the stock in the A. S. Bell Co. which publishes the Baltimore Sun. The Bells it is understood, will retain a large interest in and be connected with the management of the paper.

It is understood further that the change will not mean any revolution either in the policy of the Sun or its personnel.

Mr. Grasty is credited with having bought the Baltimore Evening afternoon paper, which was sold under foreclosure a week ago, but he has refused either to affirm or deny this story.

PITCHER PHILLIPS SIGNS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Charles (Deacon) Phillips, the veteran pitcher of the Pittsburgh baseball club, thinks he is good for still another season for last night his contract was received at the club headquarters with his signature attached. Barney Dreyfus had sent the contract with the terse note: "If you think you can deliver the goods sign this and return." The deacon evidently thinks so for no note was enclosed in the contract.

DR. COOK NOT EXPECTED

HEIDELBURG, Jan. 18.—Inquiries at the sanitariums in this city and vicinity failed to develop any information regarding the report that Dr. Cook is expected here.

MATTHEW COUPE.

WILLIAM F. CURTIN.

HARRY W. J. HOWE.

SUES FOR $75,000

Edith Faurie Reveals the Secret of Her Soul

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The first chapter of what Edith Faurie chooses to call "the secret of her soul" was laid bare in the supreme court yesterday, with appropriate dramatic gestures by the author.

Seated comfortably in the witness chair, the southern woman who is suing Harry W. Lazelle, of the brokerage house of Lazelle, Matthews & Co., for $75,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry her, told the jury and Justice Childers how she happened to become the plaintiff in a matrimonial action.

"It began—let me see—yes, it began with that theatre party," she said, as if meditating on long forgotten incidents. "It was in 1899, and Harry (Mr. Lazelle) took me to a matinee. 'Till tell you the secret of my life,' he whispered and without any urging on my part, he began in this way: 'My mother was an invalid, suffering from paralysis. One day I went to visit friends in New Jersey and when I returned home I found my mother lying dead in the yard; she had fallen out of a window. I was accused of having been the cause of her death, but was easily able to prove an alibi through the friends I had visited. I was declared innocent and set free. This is my secret.'"

"Then I turned to him," the witness added, "and told him I, too, had a secret I wished to confide. Then I explained that long ago in New Orleans, where my father was a wealthy druggist and where we lived in a beautiful manor in a fine park, I had fallen in love with a boy who was the ideal of my girlish dreams."

"My father would not think of letting me marry this youth, who was of distinguished German birth. My father worried so much about me that one day I found him lying on the floor."

The trial will be resumed tomorrow.

ATTACKED BY NEGRO

NEW YORK, Jan. 1

NEW HAVEN ROAD

Alleged to Have Violated the Laws of Massachusetts

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—That the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad has violated the laws of Massachusetts and that it should at once obtain the approval of the legislature for its consolidation with the Consolidated Company of Connecticut and for the issue of a large amount of stocks and bonds under penalty of a forfeiture of its charter in this state, are the conclusions of a special committee which has investigated the subject and which submitted its report to the legislature yesterday.

The investigation and the report are the result of the report of Attorney General Malone, sent to the legislature last year calling attention to the alleged violations.

The legislature asked the railroad commissioners, the tax and bank commissioners to inquire into the matter as a special commission.

The commission finds that the essential factor which has created the strained relations between the New Haven road and this state, is found in the exercise by the company of privileges granted by the company in violation of the Massachusetts laws. These privileges amount to converting the company into a non-supervised holding company. There should be a common rule of corporate conduct uniform in several jurisdictions which at once suggests federal control. The commission points out that the president has declared in favor of such control. The commission declares that Massachusetts has reserved the power to consider special cases.

It therefore suggests that the New Haven company within a certain time should petition the legislature for the authorization of its acts. It should submit a complete report of its finances that the legislature may ascertain whether the outstanding obligations are in the aggregate secured by the assets of the company. If the company claims that the proceeds of the securities which have not been approved have been expended wholly without the state the company need not make the application here. If the company continues to exercise the privileges without authority the commission favors forfeiture. It is convinced, however, that its suggestions will solve the difficulty.

COFFEE ROASTER

At F. M. Bill's Caught Fire Today

Huge volumes of smoke pouring from the top floor windows of the building occupied by F. M. Bill & Co., wholesale grocer in Market street, about two o'clock yesterday led passersby to think that there was a big blaze in progress, but there was more smoke than fire.

The coffee roaster, which is located on the top floor, caught fire and filled the building with smoke. The only damage done by fire is confined to the coffee which was in the roaster, though there was considerable damage to the contents of the store by the smoke.

The insurance was carried through the agency of Fred C. Church.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Lowell lodge, B. P. O. Elks, No. 87, will journey to Chelsea tonight to pay a visit to the Chelsea lodge. A special train will leave this city at 7 o'clock, and it is stated that a large number will take in the trip.

Knights of Pythias

The regular meeting of Butler Ames company, U. R. K. P., was held last night in Pythian hall. Major Robert Hall of Haverhill and staff being present to inspect the company. During the evening the following officers, recently elected, were installed: Captain, Harry C. Bowen; first lieutenant, Clarence C. Barker; second lieutenant, Peter A. Mackenzie; records, Alexis Fecteau; treasurer, Bennett Silverblatt; first sergeant, John Usher; second sergeant, William Henry. The ball committee reported that all arrangements had been made for the concert and ball to be held at a future date. One application was received.

Degree of Pocahontas

A large delegation of the degree of Pocahontas visited Lawrence last evening and attended a joint installation of the two tribes of that city. There were visitors from Haverhill and surrounding towns. A supper and social hour were enjoyed later in the evening.

Pilgrim Fathers

The regular meeting of Empire colony, U. O. P. F., was held last night, and considerable business was done over. One candidate was initiated. Lady Annie Hardy was installed secretary, and Lady Rose Cote as deputy sergeant-at-arms by Deputy Superintendent Governor Maria Martin of Lawrence, who was assisted by Supt. Drpt. Sergeant-at-Arms. Refreshments were served after the business meeting.

AD WOLGAST WILL BE BAT NELSON'S NEXT OPPONENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Now that all preliminary arrangements have been completed, Bat Nelson, the lightweight champion, and Ad Wolgast, the "Milwaukee Whirlwind," will start training shortly for their 45 round midway to be held here on Washington's birthday. The fight is attracting considerable attention because of the fact that Wolgast is the only legitimate lightweight in this country who appears to have a splendid chance of taking away the championship honors from the Dane. Wolgast is at the beginning of his career, while Nelson is losing much of his power. He cannot expect to go on fighting forever. It is natural that the turning point will come soon. In a young opponent of the strength and skill of Wolgast Nelson may meet his master.

NIGHT RIDERS, HEAD OF TOBACCO SOCIETY AND THE GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATOR

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 12.—The determination of the federal authorities to try to put an end to the growing Night Rider outrages in parts of the tobacco growing sections of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, Wade H. Ellis, assistant to Attorney General Wickesham, being named as government investigator, has called renewed attention to the situation in the tobacco country. It is openly charged that the Burley Tobacco society, an association of wealthy tobacco growers forming a pool and opposing the marketing of crops by independent farmers at prices below those fixed by the society, is responsible for the burning of barns, the whippings and the shootings that have terrorized the tobacco growing country for many months. The allegation is vigorously denied by Clarence Le Bus of Lexington, president of the society, and by its other officers, who declare that they are "no more responsible for the outrages than any forward movement in history has been responsible for the disorders that attended its progress." They assert their entire willingness to have the control of the tobacco markets by their society, numbering thousands of members, investigated by the department of justice or by any other federal or state authority. Pooling of crops in order to control prices is not forbidden by the laws of Kentucky.

BOWLING SCORES

Some Lively Contests on the Alleys

There were two games played in the Catholic bowling league last night. The game between the C. M. A. C. and St. Louis resulted in a victory for the former team, which won two of the three points and the total pinfall by the narrow margin of 11 pins. A Demers of the vanquished team was high man with a single of 114 and a triple of 213. The high single, 115, was made by LeBrun of the C. M. A. C.

In the game between the C. Y. M. T. and Burke, the boys from St. Patrick's parish won the total pinfall by one pin, but took two of the three points, winning the first string by the narrow margin of one pin, the second by five and lost the third by five.

In the Bigelow Carpet league the Brussels card room team defeated the Brussels rug room team. The scores:

MONEY

PRIVATE LOANS

We have done and are doing the largest business in the city making these loans. There is only one reason for this.

CHEAP RATES

There is no necessity for paying high rates. Many borrowers would lead you to believe that you could get MONEY FOR NOTHING.

What we ask is that you get the price in plain English from our competitors, and then come to us when we will prove that we are charging less than others.

Don't fret another minute over funds. We're ready to let you have all the money you want.

You can pay us back a little at a time.

BOXING GOSSIP

There are several bouts scheduled for the week of more than ordinary importance, the chief among them being the Jack O'Brien-Frank

Klaus bout at the Armory club, Boston, tonight, and the Philadelphia Jack O'Brien-Kaufman contest at Philadelphia Wednesday night. Also at Memphis Batting Nelson is to meet Eddie Lang in an eight-round bout Friday night.

The Sullivan-Klaus contest looks to be the most important event of the week. Klaus has been widely touted as the next middleweight champion, especially after his virtual defeat of Bill Parke in a six-round bout at Pittsburgh. Klaus didn't impress the Boston fans as anything unusual when he boxed Porky Flynn here a few weeks ago, although he won his bout handily enough. Flynn's size and awkward style doubtless bothered Klaus. But to defeat Sullivan he will have to show some class, for the big Twin is a past master of every trick of the ring game and a general without a superior. It is the biggest test that Klaus has had in his whole career, and upon what he does with Sullivan will depend his future rating in the middleweight class.

In the preliminaries Frank Madole, a Pittsburgh youngster, who is well thought of at the Pennsylvania clubs, will box "Kid Shea," whom followers of amateur boxing will recognize as the "Coley" McGowan, who won many bouts at the B. A. A. a few years ago, but whose late appearances have all been in Maine for he now lives in Lewiston. In the other bout Dan Sullivan, brother of the twins, will tackle Vernon Austin. Both of these bouts are for eight rounds.

Al Kaufman's bout with Jack O'Brien is of importance because of Kaufman's constant boast that he can defeat either John or Jeffries. His 10-round bout with Johnson a few months ago, which Johnson won, although no decision was given, didn't look as if Al classed, but perhaps he would in a longer fight. This is a regular Philadelphia affair, but it will be interesting to see if Kaufman can damage jumping Jack in six rounds. As Ketchel knocked O'Brien out in three rounds, Kaufman

TAFT AND PINCHOT CORPORATION TAX LAW

Addressed Civic Federation From To be Tested in U. S. Court at Brattleboro, Vt.

the Same Platform

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Taft and Gifford Pinchot, whom the former recently removed from his position as head of the forestry bureau, spoke yesterday from the same platform in addressing the National Civic Federation, now in session here to discuss problems of uniform state legislation. Both were received heartily.

Representatives of almost every branch of human activity met yesterday at the conference to consider ways and means of bringing about uniformity of laws relating to child labor, marriage and divorce, pure food and pure drug, conservation of natural resources, reliable instruments, bills of lading and other matters affecting the social and business life of the nation.

President Taft spoke at the morning session.

Mr. Pinchot was one of the principal speakers at the afternoon session of the conference. He said that subjects such as forest preservation had been advocated by Americans for more than a hundred years, but that the control of water power monopoly in the common interest was younger than the present century.

"All of them today," he said, "are in the valley of decision. We have come at last to the point of action. And we must either go forward or fall back."

In his judgment, he said, the present situation offers a field for uniform action and for co-operation between the states themselves and between them and the nation.

"The great principles we have been working for," said Mr. Pinchot, "may be written in our laws now or the chance may pass. Public sentiment is prepared and awake. For the second time a president of the United States has endorsed these principles in a message to congress. Most of the recommendations which the recent message contains are well known to the friends of conservation and well approved. If it has omissions or passages with which I disagree I have no concern with them today.

"The president urges that the measures he recommends shall be taken and disposed of promptly without awaiting the investigation which has been determined upon. I echo his desire. There can be no reason to await the result of the investigations before acting on these measures. They stand by themselves."

"In the face of this great opportunity let us go further and so far as these matters are concerned let us disregard the controversy altogether in a general effort to secure what every good citizen earnestly desires."

In addition to President Taft's speech at the morning session, Seth Low, president of the federation, and Judge Albert B. Parker, temporary chairman of the conference, also spoke.

With President Taft as the central figure, there were gathered about him on the stage a notable group of men. Labor was represented by Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell; the law by Senator Elihu Root, Albert B. Parker and ex-Associate Justice Brown; business by John Hays Hammond, ex-Senator John F. Dryden, and other prominent delegates.

President Low, without ceremony, explained the purpose of the meeting, and Gov. Willson of Kentucky, secretary of the house of governors, presided. Judge Parker in his speech as temporary chairman.

Dr. W. G. Morse discussed "Uniform Laws Relating to the Use of Water," while Charles Lathrop Peck of Lakewood, N. J., spoke on "Forest Conservation and Taxation."

Ex-Senator John F. Dryden addressed the conference on "Uniform Law and Legislation on Life Insurance," while Thomas E. Drake, superintendent of insurance of the District of Columbia, elaborated on the subject.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Jan. 18.—Stella P. Flint of Windsor, as general guardian of the property of Samuel N. Stone, Jr., a minor, has brought a bill in equity in the U. S. circuit court before Judge J. L. Martin against the Stone-Tracey company, Frank E. Tracey, Ida S. Tracey and L. B. Hayward, directors of the company, also of Windsor.

The case will test the constitutionality of the corporation tax law, passed by congress and approved by the president Aug. 5, 1909. It will be heard in Brattleboro on Thursday before Judge Martin.

The bill of complaint sets forth that the Stone-Tracey company is a corporation created and chartered by the state of Vermont and that its principal place of business is Windsor. Under its charter the defendant corporation has been carrying on a retail mercantile business. The bill further alleges that under the provisions of the corporation tax law it became necessary for the firm to file statements of the indebtedness of the corporation and give information as to all departments of its business and pay a tax of one per cent upon the entire net income over $5000.

The bill states that the orator further believes that the provisions of the tax on corporations requiring the filing of such information are null and void, and the requirements to pay the tax are burdens upon the charter granted by the state of Vermont and are a tax upon a function of sovereignty belonging to the state of Vermont which was never agreed to either expressly or by invocation by the state or by its people when Vermont was admitted as a state into the Union.

It is alleged that the said acts of congress are in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution, as under the provisions of the law the defendant corporation will be deprived of its property, through publicity of its business, the privacy of its affairs will be largely destroyed, and that its chief competitor, and all other persons will be able to gain an intimate knowledge of its affairs and its trade secrets, and the assessment if made, will be laid upon the defendant corporation and not upon its chief competitor.

It is alleged that the provisions of the act are unconstitutional, in that the private property of the defendant corporation will be taken, that it is a violation of the fourth amendment to the constitution and violates the right of the defendant corporation to be secure in its records against unreasonable search and seizure, and are burdens to the charter and franchise covered by the state of Vermont.

It is further alleged that the act is a violation of the 10th amendment to the constitution in that the requirements are a tax upon and an interference with the powers of the state of Vermont and other states expressly reserved to grant charters. It is also a violation of the constitution because the so-called special excise tax is in reality a direct tax upon a charter and franchise of the defendant corporation and upon all other corporations, and it is not apportioned among the several states according to their population as required by the constitution. It is alleged.

It is asked that the provisions of the act of congress be declared as unconstitutional and that the defendant be restrained from voluntarily complying with the provisions of the said act.

MADE HER DEBUT IN VAUDEVILLE IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Lady Constance Stewart Richardson made her appearance as the latest recruit to the vaudeville stage at the Palace theatre last night and gave several dances to music by Grieg, Tschakowsky and Waldteufel, and has greatly advanced in her dancing since she gave an exhibition in New York.

She wore a short Greek tunic, apparently made of a single piece of filmy material through which the flesh was plainly visible. In fact, the costume is described as the most daring ever seen on the English stage.

Lady Constance's friends had gathered in force, and after her last dance she gave a polka in which there was much more grace and movement than in the other selections and which was encored. She got a number of handsome floral tributes, one of them standing as high as herself.

HELD MEETING AT THE HOME OF CHARLES MONETTE

The Warnetta club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Chas. Monette, 49 Aiken avenue, Sunday afternoon, with all the members present. Considerable routine business was transacted. The application for membership of Fred Comerford was favorably acted upon.

The feature of the meeting was an address on the welfare of the club by John F. Gallagher. Mr. Gallagher spoke interestingly and was accorded a ringing vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address. Refreshments were served.

"BUSH ACT" INVALID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The "bush act" of the state of Kansas, which sought to compel outside corporations to pay a charter fee for the benefit of the state schools as a condition of doing business in that state, is held invalid by the supreme court of the United States in a decision by a divided court announced yesterday. The case was that of the Western Union Telegraph Co., plaintiff in error, vs. the state of Kansas on the relation of C. C. Coleman, attorney-general. The Western Union fought the law on the grounds of acquired rights and that the law was unconstitutional as seeking to impose a burden upon interstate commerce.

STOLE A WATCH

Man Given Sentence of Two Years

LAWRENCE, Jan. 18.—Owing to lack of quarters in the Salem court house the January term of the superior criminal court was opened in this city yesterday with Judge Raymond presiding. Traver was offered by Rev. Robert B. Fisher of Methuen. William J. Casey pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of a watch from James F. Buckley in Haverhill, Nov. 12, and was sentenced to two years in the house of correction.

Michael Burke was charged with robbery in this city. It was alleged that he knocked Cornelius Carroll down Aug. 19 and stole a watch and chain. It was shown that the defendant sold the watch, but claimed that he was acting for a companion. Carroll did not fully identify him as his assailant and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Sentences aggregating three months were reaffirmed in the three charges of shoplifting just before Christmas brought against Fanny Roberts and Mary Cookley. The Roberts woman said she came to Boston from Baltimore about six weeks ago.

Mary Rooney, Boston Center of this city, charged with misconduct, were sent to the woman's reformatory. David Gravel, Roy Messer and Thomas Hamel, charged with breaking and entering in this city, were placed on probation.

Olafsky of Haverhill, charged with concealing the death of a child, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Daniel Spennell pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and breaking and entering. Robert Goodall of Andover denied his guilt of a statutory offence.

HIGH ST. CHURCH

ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT THE VESTRY LAST NIGHT

The High Street Congregational church vestry was the scene last night of the annual parish meeting of the church and parish. Rev. A. C. Ferrin presided. At the church meeting Albert L. Bacheller was chosen clerk; Robert G. Hill, treasurer; Frederick R. Woodward, deacon; and the Rev. the Deacon P. N. Chase, and Carl D. Burr, superintendent of the Sunday school, with Dr. Victor E. Darling as assistant. The Sunday school committee chosen was Robert L. Read, Mrs. C. C. Ober, Mrs. E. T. Jones and F. R. Woodward. Resolutions relative to the stock were elected, including H. Kirke White, Joseph Peabody, F. R. Woodward and W. H. G. Wight. Delegates to the Andover Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers were chosen as follows: Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. A. C. Ferrin, Robert G. Hill, Charles Moore, and Miss Harriette Ren. The auditors are Joseph Peabody and E. P. Clark.

At the society meeting W. H. G. Wight was chosen moderator, and Henry W. Barnes was elected clerk. The auditors chosen are J. Harry Boardman and Robert E. Marden.

The prudential committee, the part of the society, is to consist of Nelson D. Keables, H. Kirke White and Robert F. Marden, and on the part of the church, C. H. Nelson, John L. Robinson, Haven G. Hill and Carl D. Burr.

Two members of the music committee were elected as follows: Miss Edith Stolt and Dr. V. E. Darling. The report of the treasurer, C. W. Whidden, was ordered printed for distribution at the annual supper to be held next Thursday evening, and Mr. Whidden was re-elected treasurer of the society. Treasurer Hill of the church presented his report to the church meeting in detail, and it was accepted. Haven G. Hill was elected collector of the society.

WOMAN THE CAUSE OF NEW HALL'S DOWNFALL

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—George F. Newhall of Somerville, who had been confidential clerk in the employ of Henry S. Brown & Co. of Mill street, was sentenced to state prison for a term of three to five years by Judge Wait in the superior criminal court yesterday, on an indictment accusing him of forgery of checks and uttering the same. He pleaded guilty to three counts of each. The indictment contained 96 counts. The amount alleged to have been taken is about $15,000.

Newhall received $15 a week and handled large sums of money. A woman is said to have exerted an evil influence over Newhall. She threatened to expose his wrongdoing if he did not give her large sums weekly.

LOUIS PAULHAN

FAILED TO EQUAL FARMAN DISTANCE RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—Louis Paulhan, because of a leak in the fuel tank of his aeroplane yesterday failed to come anywhere near the Farman distance record of 144 miles. After covering 76.8 miles he quit, asserting that today he would exceed Farman's record if weather conditions prevailed.

Paulhan remained in the air one hour, 53 minutes and 27.5 seconds. He would have had to remain in the air two hours longer to beat Farman's record for sustained flight.

Hamilton was in the air at the same time trying for the record. He sailed below Paulhan, who was soaring 200 feet high. After Hamilton had covered the course 11 times he was forced to descend by shifting of some mechanism.

Curtiss went out to beat his own record for 10 laps round the course. He succeeded, making the trip in 23.04 3-5. His fastest lap was made in 2.15, not a record. Paulhan tried to beat Curtiss in his 10 lap race but his time was 25.05 1-5.

The day was clear and an immense crowd was out.

President Cortlandt F. Bishop of the Aero Club of America, received telegram yesterday from Germany and France, containing challenges for balloon flights for duration and altitude during 1910, also a challenge from France for a contest to decide the ownership of the speed aviation cup won by Glenn H. Curtiss at Rheims.

SUBWAY FRANCHISES REPEALED

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—The subway franchises, passed as almost the last act of Tom L. Johnson's administration as mayor, were repealed last night by the city council on a strict party vote. The scheme for a $75,000,000 subway system was voted down by the people in November, but the franchises in a slightly altered form were passed again by the Johnson administration.

TO DOCTORS OF LOWELL

WE believe you will be interested in knowing that you have right here in Lowell a modern, well equipped drug store whose business is and always will be legitimate pharmacy, and whose endeavors will be to serve you and your patients in the most satisfactory manner possible.

PROMPT SERVICE

—We will have fully as large an assortment of crude drugs chemicals and pharmaceutical preparations as are carried in our Boston stores. Chemicals used unless otherwise specified, will be Squibb's and Merck's. Also an excellent variety of specialties, pills and tablets from such concerns as Wyeth, Parke Davis, Schieffelin, Wampole, Fraser and others. This will insure prompt compounding of prescriptions.

QUALITY AND PURITY

—All the U. S. P. and National Formulary preparations are manufactured in our own modern laboratory at 50 Washington street, Boston. All drugs and chemicals before being put on sale in our stores are subjected to strict tests in our analytical laboratory, and rejected if not fully up to standard. That insures pure, active drugs.

FRESH STOCK

—Bearing in mind our immense output through 27 retail stores, it is impossible for anything to become old. Our stock is turned over four to six times oftener than that in the average size store. You are sure that our drugs, being fresh, are potent and will produce desired results.

ACCURACY

—Never under any conditions is anyone but a registered pharmacist permitted to have anything to do with the handling of drugs or prescriptions, and our system of checking has proven a successful safeguard against errors in our Boston stores for the past 26 years.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

—Is given to our stock of rubber goods and sick room and hospital supplies. All the articles usually to be found in drug stores can be seen here in greater variety. We carry hundreds of appliances that have never been stocked in a local drug store. We shall be pleased to send you our little booklet, illustrating a few articles in this department, or shall take great pleasure in showing you anything that might be of interest if you will kindly call on us.

REASONABLE PRICES

—By reason of our large business, we are able to obtain many concessions and advantages from manufacturers, and following our general policy by selling everything at the smallest possible margin to obtain the largest volume of business, we are in a position to save your patients on all drug store goods. Physicians who have the interests of their patients in mind will consider this argument seriously.

CLOSE CONTESTS

Looked for in British Elections to be Decided Today

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The radical coalition fought more on the defensive today than heretofore as of the 38 seats for which polling was in progress they held all but ten in the last parliament. The front bench politicians whose fates were decided today were: Spencer, Churchill for Dundee; Sydney C. Buxton for the Poplar division of Tower Hamlets; Walter Runciman for Dewsbury; Sir William Snowden Robson for South Shields; Liberals; and Alfred Lyttleton for St. Georges, Hanover square, the former conservative minister. All of these appeared certain of re-election. The representation for Bermondsey, where John Humphreys scored a sensational unionist victory in the by-election of October last, was also in the melting pot, and as Humphreys this time met an undivided opposition the seat quite likely has reverted to Liberalism. Impense interest attaches to the balloting at Liverpool where nine divisions are polling today. T. P. O'Connor, nationalist for the Scotland division, is regarded as invincible. F. E. Smith, tariff reform stalwart, was having a hard fight in the Walton division while the unionists talk of defeating the Right Hon. J. E. B. Seeley, under secretary for the colonies in the Abercromby division.

With the exception of five seats London completed its election with fourteen contests today.

J. Kier Hardie, labor candidate for Northby Tydill, was among the interesting personalities whose anxieties were over today.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Complete return from yesterday's election for members of parliament make the standing of the parties as follows:

Government coalition: Liberals 70, Laborites 17, Irish nationalists 16.

Opposition: Unionists 96, net unionist gain 30.

Woman Injured by Fall on Sidewalk Returned in Favor of a Widow

HAVERHILL, Jan. 18.—Ellen J. Leighton of this city brought suit to recover $20,000 for injuries received in Lawrence last September when, as she was crossing the planks covering a sidewalk at the crossing of Meigs avenue, the planks tipped up, throwing her to the sidewalk, where she struck her back and head.

She was picked up unconscious, brought to her home in this city and lay in a comatose condition for several weeks. The attending physicians consider her injuries permanent. One of her suits is against the city of Lawrence for $10,000 and a second suit for a similar amount is against the paving company that was building the sidewalk.

Angelo Marza of this city has sued the city of Haverhill to recover $10,000 for the loss of his left eye. Marza was an employee of the water works and while at work relaying pipes near Dustin square last September a piece of a steel chisel broke off and struck him in the left eye, destroying the sight.

Two other suits instituted yesterday follow the double burning accident on Rose avenue March 28, 1908, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Quimby were fatally burned. The suits are brought against the Boston Mutual Life Insurance company by Charles A. Quimby, administrator of the estate of his father, and the other is for $500, the amount of the policies. The life insurance company is said to have refused to pay the death benefits.

Two local accident cases were entered yesterday in the civil list of the local district court, one by Barney Premack, who sues a box company following the loss of two fingers in a machine, for which he asks $1000 and the other against a counter company for $500 in behalf of David A. Martin, who wants damages for the loss of three fingers in a machine, the accidents having occurred in August and March last year.

BOSTON RECLUSE

Left Sum of $7,550 to Portland Child

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.—The "Mrs." Julia A. Tuttle, to whom George Silver, a Boston recluse, left two letters, proves to be Miss Julia A. Tuttle, a 13-year-old Portland girl, who lives at 120 Forest avenue. She is the recipient of his property, funds in four Boston banks to the amount of $7550.

Mr. Silver visited Portland last summer and met the child and took a great fancy to her. Her mother is an invalid, and he asked permission to help on the expenses and also fitted her out with fine garments. He remarked that he had been exceedingly homesome since his wife died. During his stay he treated her as a father would his daughter.

There is an idea that she reminded him of a little daughter he lost.

BANK TELLER ARRESTED

RACING MAN DEAD

ECZEMA CURABLE

Most of It Left to Children

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The will of the late De Ogden Mills of New York, disposed of his large estate by division equally between his son and daughter, Ogden Mills and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the ambassador.

The sum of $400,000, however, is directed to be paid to institutions before the division of the estate. The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Museum of Natural History, and the Home for Incurables in this city are bequeathed $100,000 each. The sum of $50,000 is left to the New York botanical gardens, and to the American geographical society, and the American National Red Cross.

Ogden Mills and Mrs. Reid are appointed executors of the will, which was made on Dec. 4, 1903. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid was named as an executor in case of the death of his wife before the death of the testator. The value of the estate is not indicated in the document filed for probate here yesterday.

Mr. Mills also indicated to his children his wish to make a gift to St. Luke's hospital at San Francisco, and in fulfillment of this wish they will, upon the final settlement of the estate, provide $100,000 to be expended for that hospital as they shall then indicate.

BURNED TO DEATH

BABY PLAYED WITH MATCHES—ITS DRESS CAUGHT FIRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Mrs. James Kennedy left her children, Rose, three years old, and James, sixteen months, to play in the kitchen of their home, at No. 63 Beach One Hundred and Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, and went upstairs to do some cleaning.

After a half hour she heard the baby crying, but did not think it could be anything serious, and not until he began to scream very loudly did she rush downstairs. She found her little daughter lying on the floor of the kitchen, her wooden dress now only a film of black ash from which smoke was rising.

The frantic mother rushed into the street. Her cries were heard by Policeman Dodd who found that the child was dead.

Little Rose had climbed on a chair and got some matches. In her play she had set fire to the wooden dress that flared up and soon enveloped her in flames. Her baby brother was clutching a handful of matches when his mother found him.

GIRL STRIKERS

Say Police Do Not Use Them Fairly

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Striking shirt waisters were today inclined to believe that the arrest of Miss Inez Milholland, the Vassar graduate who has been aiding them in their struggle would help rather than harm their cause. They claim that Miss Milholland was unjustly apprehended and cite Mayor Gaynor's opposition, expressed to two of their number who called on him yesterday, that the police possibly are too drastic in their treatment of the strikers.

Miss Milholland and Lieut. Henry Torney, a West Pointer and former football star, her companion, who was arrested with her, were arraigned today. Simultaneously the strike leaders met and declared confidence in victory.

GREEKS

Proposition to Enforce a Per Capita Tax of $12 Against All Greeks in the United States, Under Penalty of Perpetual Exile and Discrimination by Greek Consuls and Agents in This Country

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A formal protest against the proposed tax of $12 a year on every Greek resident of the United States is being framed by a committee from 50,000 Greeks in New York and will be joined in, it is expected, by the 200,000 other Greeks in this country.

Urged by Lambro A. Coromilas, Greek minister at Washington, it is understood here that the Greek government is about to instruct all of its consuls and agents in this country to issue what are to be known as residential certificates to all Greeks resident here. The fee to be collected for such a certificate is $12, and it must be renewed every year. Those who refuse to buy residential certificates will be barred from any help from the consuls in regard to passports or aid of any kind. That means they can never visit their native land.

The money so collected is to be turned over to the Pan-Hellenic union of the Greeks in this country with headquarters in Boston, and after defraying that organization's expenses the balance is to go to the Greek treasury at Athens.

The Greeks here have held several mass meetings in protest against the proposed tax which is expected to raise more than $2,500,000 a year, and Greeks all over the country are joining the movement of protest.

PROFIT OF $30 WERE PAID $500 A CLEVER SCHEME

On Each Woman Sold Into Slavery For Gathering 90,000-000 Brown Tail Moths By Which Aliens Enter United States

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.—For nearly a million brown tail moths this city has just paid $500 to the men and boys who have made the gathering of the pests a regular occupation. The moths were in 300,000 nests. The business of gathering the nests is not so profitable now as it has been, however. Formerly the city paid for the nests at the rate of five cents a dozen, but recently the price has been reduced to four cents a dozen.

THIRTY STATES

Represented at Governors' Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Governors from thirty states of the union, gathered in the national capital to discuss problems of state and national interest, opened their three days' session today.

Gov. Wilson of Kentucky, chairman of the committee on arrangements, was in the chair. In a brief introductory speech he referred to the first conference of state heads, invited in May, 1908, by President Roosevelt to meet in the White House. This year's conference is on the governor's own initiative. Gov. Wilson declared that his opinion no better means of devising uniform state legislation could have been found than for the chief executives of the states to come together and in a friendly way talk over the questions in which they all were interested.

THE BOOTT MILLS

Edward W. Thomas Is Appointed Agent

Mr. Edward W. Thomas has been appointed agent of the Boott Mills. Mr. Thomas was for many years agent of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and is more than well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed. It is understood that he will assume his duties at once. He takes the position made vacant by the death of John J. Whitman, a Manchester man, who had been agent of the Boott mills for the past two or more years.

SCHOONER AGROUND

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 18.—The schooner yacht Mimi, owned by Howard Binney of New York, which went aground last night during the storm, is still fast in the sand off this city. Lifesavers expect they will be able to float the yacht later in the day. Mrs. W. L. Darnell, who with her husband, two year old daughter and Mr. Binney came ashore in a yawl after a thrilling trip through the surf, was much better today. She was quite ill when landed from the boat.

AGAINST SMALLPOX

Supt. Lees Plans to Prevent the Disease Coming From Wakefield

Members of the local board of health and Supt. Lees of the Boston & Northern were in conference yesterday afternoon and discussed plans to minimize the danger of a smallpox outbreak in this city. Wakefield is in the throes of a smallpox epidemic and while Lowell hasn't anything against Wakefield, she considers that the town is in too close proximity for comfort, at the present time and the greatest precautions are necessary.

Wakefield is on the line of the Boston electric which enters and leaves Lowell every half hour and just for that there is cause for alarm. When it was first reported that smallpox had appeared in Wakefield the local board of health began to plan against its invasion here and the very first thing the board did was to see that the smallpox hospital in Chelmsford street was made ready for service at a moment's notice.

When the board sought Supt. Lees yesterday they found him ready and willing to do all in his power to protect Lowell. It was decided that all cars on this line, at the close of the day's trips, should be fumigated and sealed for the night. It was also decided to use disinfectant in the waiting room in Merrimack square as a further preventive.

Guard Rockefeller, the Man Charged With Abducting Young Girl

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 18.—On the request of John D. Rockefeller, Sheriff Scharp of White Plains yesterday appointed seven men on his large country estate at Pocantico Hills to be deputy sheriffs.

Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, since his life was threatened some time ago, has been almost constantly surrounded by a guard, and the action of the sheriff gives his employees the authority to carry arms and make arrests.

Their jurisdiction, however, is to be confined to the Rockefeller premises. It is said that most of the men who have been deputized to guard Mr. Rockefeller are old-time secret service agents, who are employed about the place ostensibly as coachmen, groomers, gardeners and attendants.

They are constantly on duty, and before any stranger can approach the home of the oil king they find out who he is and the exact nature of his business.

Joseph Marock Threw Her Into a Well

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 18.—Charged with the attempted murder of his bride of three days, Joseph Marock, a young Pole, is held in jail here under $25,000 bail. In an adjoining cell is his partner in the alleged crime, Bartoni Laski. Both men were captured early yesterday morning when they tried to claim the bride's trunk with a baggage check at the Springfield (Mass.) station at the New Haven railroad.

The bride, who was Annie Mascol, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., occupies a cot at St. Vincent's hospital. She is still suffering from the ten hours which she spent in the icy waters of a deep well on the estate of James Robinson, near the Greenfield Hill Country club, Fairfield, Conn. She declares that the two men, after robbing her of her pocket-book, threw her into the well.

A woman of ordinary strength could not have lived through the long night in the well. But Mrs. Marock is unusually strong from seven years of heavy housework in the Massachusetts village. She was only partially submerged, and an earlier frost had given the well a coating of ice a few feet below the present surface of the water.

The Marocks arrived in Bridgeport early Saturday morning. The husband left her in the station while he went to look for a friend who was supposed to be on a farm near this place. He returned at dusk and took her to Fairfield by train. There they met Laski, and the three set out through the drifts.

When they arrived at a lonely stretch of road Mrs. Marock was struck down from behind, and thrown into the well. She was discovered Sunday morning when James Ferris who is in charge of the Robinson estate, came to examine the well. Ferris and his son succeeded in getting her out with an improvised derrick and she was brought to the hospital in an automobile.

$10,000 WANTED FOR THE PURCHASE OF GAME BIRDS

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The fish and game commission transmitted yesterday its report recommending the rebuilding of the Winchester suite hatchery as a centre for the distribution of young trout.

The board recommends that a hatchery be located either in Bristol, Plymouth, Norfolk or Barnstable counties. It figures that the total cost of site, building and equipment will be $27,551.

The board advises no special buildings for propagation of useful game birds and mammals, as nothing is necessary beyond fencing, coops, brooders and incubators. It recommends an appropriation of $10,000 for carrying on the work of propagation, purchase and liberation of game birds.

WM. J. BRYAN WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT AGAIN

OMAHA, Jan. 18.—William J. Bryan will be a candidate for president in 1912. The announcement was made yesterday by the Omaha Bee, which attributes the statement to Richard L. Metcalfe, editor of Mr. Bryan's Commonwealth.

Democratic leaders in Nebraska are to be called to the Commonwealth office and ordered to work for his nomination. Under no circumstances will Mr. Bryan be a candidate for the United States senate.

Mr. Bryan believes this state will go democratic at the next election and thinks he would be the natural choice of the party for United States senator, but he fears this might injure his chances in the next national campaign, and he will refuse to be a candidate for the lower office.

Expected in Salem When Simon B. Harris Becomes Chief

SALEM, Jan. 13.—It is expected that Simon B. Harris of Lowell will assume charge of the police department on Thursday. Mayor Howard will nominate Mr. Harris for city marshal at the meeting of the aldermen this evening and it is reasonably certain that a majority at least will confirm the nomination.

Mr. Harris is well known to many citizens here and is highly spoken of by all. Col. John W. Hart, for 25 years city marshal of this city, says Mr. Harris will make a splendid official. Policemen stated last evening that they knew Mr. Harris and were satisfied that he would make a good executive officer.

All classes are aroused over the allegations made by Mayor Howard relative to the conditions in hotels that hold inholders' licenses. His direct statement that he saw a boy under the influence of liquor borrow money from a room for the purpose of purchasing liquor has deeply stirred the parents of Salem.

The license commissioners will hold a meeting in the city hall at 8 o'clock this evening to consider the charges made by the mayor. The license commissioners are greatly stirred over the situation and it is known that a majority at least will insist on a strict enforcement of the law.

Inholders Warned

Just before the recent municipal election the license commissioners, in response to numerous complaints, submitted requests to the several inholders not to sell liquor to men and women in apartments other than those regularly used for serving food. This request, said one of the commissioners last evening, was to give inholders an opportunity to live within the law.

Had the requests been heeded, says the commissioner, no opportunity would have been afforded the mayor or any one else to observe scenes depicted by Mayor Howard in his visitations Saturday night. It is known that the commissioners will not attempt at the meeting this evening to make further overtures to any one for obedience to provisions of the license law.

Never before was the tension between the liquor dealers and the license commissioners so tense as appears now to be the case. It is certain that something will develop during the coming 36 hours that will attract wide attention.

Defies the Mayor

Mayor Howard announced yesterday that he had made repeated visits to a hotel in the city and found men and women drinking and acting boisterously. On his second visit he says he saw women stationed in the dark at a second-story window to watch his actions. He described the conditions as disgraceful.

"I warned the proprietor," he adds, "and also that I would not stand for conditions found in the house, and would see that the law was executed."

To this, Mayor Howard says, the hotel man replied that he would do just as he wished; that he would sell liquor in any room in the house, and even in the chimney, and that the law protected him.

Mayor Howard, in his message to Joseph Strauss, says: "I am writing to call your attention to these facts in order that you and other members of the license board may take some action in regard to this house, which I consider is a menace to the city, demoralizing and disgusting, and should be corrected as quickly as possible."

In the district court yesterday a large number were convicted of drunkenness and fined. The partial opening of the 14 Saturday night and Sunday is said by the police to be accountable for the number of men and one woman who were arrested for drunkenness.

It is anticipated that there will be lively times under City Marshal Harris, if he is confirmed, for he has a long record for a faithful performance of his police duties in other places where he served with distinction.

reason of the fact that another motion is pending, in which arguments must be made before the matter can properly reach the full bench.

Rivet was convicted Feb. 4, 1909, of the murder of Joseph Galloux on the 20th day of February, 1908. Judges Hitchcock and Harris presided at the trial. During the progress of the trial William H. Bent, senior counsel for the defendant, took several exceptions, which were entered in the record.

Later Mr. Bent and his associate, J. H. Gullet, filed a motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. This motion was argued last July and overruled.

In August, Mr. Bent filed another motion for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was not sustained by the evidence, and that justice had not been done to the defendant at the trial. (Chap. 219, sec. 33.) This motion, which must come before the two judges who presided at the trial has not been argued.

The exceptions taken at the trial came up in regular order last November, but the district attorney was too busy at the time to attend to the matter, and the case went over.

Yesterday, when the exceptions again came up in regular order, Mr. Bent stated to the full bench that another motion was still pending, and the judges ruled that Judges Hitchcock and Harris, who presided at the trial, should pass upon that motion, before the arguments on the exceptions should be heard by the full bench.

Owing to the pressure of business before the judges and the district attorney, it is doubtful if the case is disposed of at this term.

SEC'Y. MacVEAGH

ADDRESSED BANQUET OF BANKERS OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, addressed seven hundred bankers and their guests at the Waldorf-Astoria last night at the annual banquet of the Bankers of the City of New York.

"Banking, like charity," he said, "begins at home. And unless a nation has a sound, useful and well national banking system and facilities there is nothing upon which to build largely and safely a world system. Until we get rid of panics, which are wholly unnecessary and readily avoidable, we cannot claim for a moment to have a domestic financial system that the world can rely upon or we ourselves can rely upon."

"We need, therefore, a reformed financial system. Congress long before our administration came in, assigned to the monetary commission the duty of proposing the revision of our banking and currency systems, but I fancy we are not to have any monetary report until after the next election."

Concerning the proposed central bank, Mr. MacVeagh said he thought "we will have to wait, at least for the report of the monetary commission, before we can finally settle that question."

Because of illness Sen. Aldrich, chairman of the national monetary commission, was unable to be present.

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble

The dispensers of posium, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Every one who has tried it knows that the "pimple" box, on sale at Fells & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and all drug stores, is sufficient to cure the worst cases of acne, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, freckles, blotches, scaly scalp, dandruff, and every other form of skin trouble, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of posium, it can be had free of charge by mail of the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-ninth Street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion overnight, and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

TO BE DIVIDED BETWEEN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 13.—Gifford Pinchot's policy in establishing forest reserves in the West has been grumbled by the Western states themselves and the national forests have been declared to be hard to progress because they held large tracts of timber in a virgin state, denying to all the opportunity of development. But there is another side to the picture that is not generally understood. This is the revenue accruing to the state where the timber is grown when sales of reserve timber are made to lumbermen.

For example more than $1,000,000 will be divided between Oregon and Washington this year and will be used in building roads and schools throughout the two states as the result of sales of timber on government reserves.

The forestry law provides that 25 per cent of the stumpage revenue shall go to the state where the forest is cut.

Last year sales from forest reserves in the two states aggregated 130,000,000 feet and the revenue to the two northwest states was over $300,000. Sales of reserve timber are constantly on the increase and this year proposals have been made for the purchase of about 650,000,000 feet. The average price for government stumpage this year is about $2 per thousand. Some cutting will be for more and some less but all will average about this figure. This means the usual 25 per cent, that comes to the two states will bring in a revenue of not less than $1,200,000 from sales already in sight. The total may be increased largely before the year is over.

With the coming years the timber sales from government reserves will largely increase, it is expected, and the consequent funds for state roads and schools will be much larger in future. As the money derived from these sales is of direct benefit to all the people of the states where the reserves lie, it cannot be said the location of large tracts of timber by the government are withheld from private ownership are without benefit to the state.

Zelaya has been treated in Leon, but General Medina is resisting arrest here. He has barricaded his home and has declared that he is ill and in no condition to be removed to jail.

Warrants have been issued for all the members of the court martial.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

The Liberal Party is Assured of a Majority

LONDON, Jan. 13.—At the conclusion of yesterday's polling in the general elections the parties stood as follows:

Unionists, 92.
Liberals, 77.
Nationalists, 13.

Net gain for the unionists, 29.
The government, which had better yesterday than their most ardent supporters expected. The unionists gained 19 seats, the liberals four and the laborites one, making a net gain for the unionists for the day of 14, one less than they gained at fewer elections on Saturday.

This practically assures the return of the liberal party, with a fair majority, for among the places still to poll are those of Scotland and Wales, which are always solidly liberal.

There cannot be said to have been much surprise yesterday. Mr. Asquith, the prime minister, president of the local government board, would be defeated in the Battersea division of Battersea and Clapham, but pessimism has been present in every election since Burns has been a candidate. He himself never had any doubt as to the result.

Other state officials, who were successful in the fight for their seats were Augustin Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and C. E. Hobhouse, financial secretary to the treasury, in Bristol, and Dr. T. J. MacNamara, secretary to the admiralty, in Camberwell. Their majorities were considerably reduced.

Majorities Badly Cut

This happened all through the country, the huge majorities secured in 1906 showing big reductions. In almost every constituency the unionists, who became members of the house of commons by the grace of the landslide that year, have been sent back to private life.

Among them is Hamar Greenwood, a Canadian, who represented York, and was considered a prominent candidate for the office of prime minister. Another Canadian, Joseph Martin, ex-premier of British Columbia, was more successful, winning the seat for St. Pancras, east.

Other prominent members defeated included L. G. Chiozza Money, the apostle of free trade, who lost his seat for North Devon, and Sir Will Crooks, the labor leader for Woolwich. Sir H. Robson, the liberal candidate for North Kensington, failed to get a majority, as did also Sir John Gorst, an ex-minister and at one time a member of the fourth party, whose leading spirits were A. J. Balfour and Lord Randolph Churchill. On the other side, Lord R. Cecil and G. Stewart Bowles, who ran as free trade unionists, failed in their attempt to oust Philip Snowden, the labor leader, and Sir Thomas Barclay, at Blackburn.

Doctors had much to do with the defeat of Lord H. Curzon, in the Hoxton division of Shoreditch. His opponent was Dr. C. Addison, a famous consulting surgeon. Hay, on the platform, made disparaging remarks about the profession and, as a result, the whole fraternity turned out to assist Dr. Addison.

The liberals also won back the adjoining constituency of Haggerston, which was represented by Hon. R. Guinness, unionist, who was defeated yesterday by H. G. Chancellor.

The unionist leaders who ran yesterday, including A. J. Balfour, A. Bonar Law, Walter Hume Long and Sir Ian H. Smith, Sir William being the man who caused a diversion by engaging in a fist fight recently with a heckler at Hammersmith, hold their seats by increased majorities.

The naval question had a great effect in the dock ward ports. Portsmouth gave the unionists two gains, Admiral Lord Charles Boscawen and E. G. Falle, both being elected by huge votes, 16,777 and 15,592 respectively.

The polling was remarkably close, however, in many constituencies. H. E. Duke, the noted barrister, for example, won Exeter from the liberals by the narrow plurality of 26, while in the Fockham division of Camberwell, Henry Cubitt Gooch, who secured a majority of more than 2000 in the recent by-election, retains his seat by a bare 100. One liberal retained his seat by a majority of 10.

The general view of yesterday's contests bears out the forecast. The north is solid for the government, the midland areas especially in the vicinity of Birmingham, favors tariff reform. The victory of the unionists at Walsall points to an extension of Joseph Chamberlain's influence.

Crowds Watch Returns

The metropolises, which after the by-elections which all went in favor of the unionists, was expected to make a clean turnover, is displaying a remarkably slight variation in representation, although the liberals are not obtaining the majorities that they did in 1906.

The hope of the unionists lay in the home counties. West Cheltenham, Exeter, Colchester and Bedford all returned unionists. The area, however, is too restricted, lacking big industrial centers, to afford them any great chance of success.

With the exception of three constituencies, the results of all yesterday's polling were announced last night.

Great crowds gathered in all the main streets in London, particularly Fleet Street and the Strand, where the results were shown in front of the newspaper offices. One of the newspapers, a liberal organ, adopted the novel and striking device of throwing a spotlight on Gladstone's statue in the Strand when the returns showed that the liberals were assured of victory.

In the music halls, theatres and other places of entertainment the results were announced during the evening to big audiences.

John Burns' Victory

Burns of Battersea comes back with flying colors. Although in the great landslide of 1906 he won by 1600 votes, his normal majority is about 200, and in yesterday's hard-fought battle he beat A. Shirley Bown, the unionist, by 558. The vote was: Burns, 8540; Bown, 7942.

Defeat has been predicted for "Honest" John personally during the past decade, and Mr. Burns and his friends were considerably frightened this year. Since the most picturesque figure in Westminster was sent to the house of commons by the enthusiastic support of the workingmen and socialists of his home district, as their spokesman, and since his positions of increased responsibility he has gradually outgrown his old radical ideas.

John Burns of yesterday is a vastly different politician from the old John Burns who exhorted the workingmen in Trafalgar square to rise against the police. He has become one of the most conservative of liberals, and is even said to be at heart a good Tory.

"Traitor" and "Renegade"

John Burns has so far outlived his famous dictum that no man can honestly earn more than £2500 yearly that he holds a £10,000 position and is likely to be promoted to £25,000, although his style of living remains an modest an ever.

The "cear of Battersea," as some of the workingmen call him, has not hesitated to stand against some of the demands upon the government of some of his old-time friends, and he has earned them unreasonable. He has opposed the unemployed and has spoken plainly about the workingmen's tendency toward improvidence and drink.

While he has gained the respect of all parties in parliament and is considered one of the best as well as one of the most interesting legislators, "traitor" and "renegade" are some of the mildest terms applied to him in the labor camp.

Threats to overthrow him have been louder this year than ever and his defeat was generally expected, but his engaging personality and his thorough grasp of the most interesting legislative "trials" have won him the support of his old-time friends, and he has earned them unreasonable. He has opposed the unemployed and has spoken plainly about the workingmen's tendency toward improvidence and drink.

Campaign in Battersea

Hundreds of motors, bedecked with the unionist colors, purple and yellow, filled the Battersea streets yesterday, taking voters to the polls. Long lines of them were drawn up outside the factories, waiting for the workmen to come out.

Burns' placards in the windows outnumbered the Burns' 10 to 1. The socialist posters reminder the workingmen that John Burns had said that each of them spent six shillings a week on drink. One of them accused him of taking soap which some outcast should have had when he visited the bread line on the embankment.

Another exhorted the voters to "turn the canting hypocrite out." Still another represented him in a court suit, labeled "The Gilded Populay."

Bands of children paraded with Burns emblems on their banners, which said that under protection the father would be able to rob the cat of its meat for his dinner.

The excitement in Battersea last night is greater than elsewhere in London. Immense crowds surrounded the candidate's quarters until a late hour awaiting the news. The enthusiasm at the headquarters of the president of the local government board was intense, when the result was received.

Excitement in Woolwich

Woolwich was another scene of excitement. At this place the labor leader, Will Crooks, had a dramatic reception on his return from Australia the eve of the election. Crooks went about the streets followed by a great crowd.

He was cheered everywhere and frequently stopped and made impromptu speeches from the steps of houses. One of his addresses was delivered in front of the headquarters of his antagonist, Maj. W. A. Adam, unionist, who viewed the scene from a window.

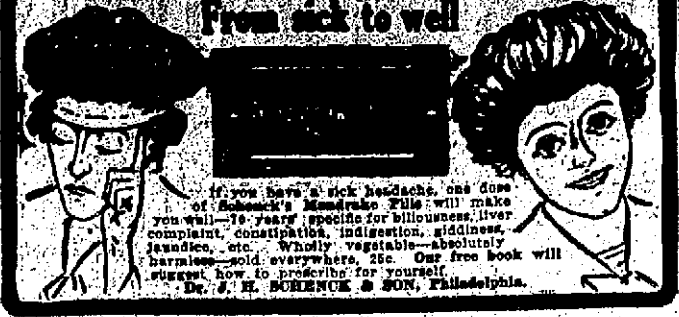

Numbers of the residents of Woolwich employed at the works of Vickers Sons & Maxim at Ebbw, a few miles out, were brought to town in automobiles to vote. Crooks was beaten by 209 votes, whereas in the previous election he defeated Maj. Adam by 2112. The result was no surprise, for the government had turned out many laborers by reducing the work at Woolwich arsenal, and they and their friends were sworn to revenge.

Ten thousand Durham miners marched into Gateshead to oppose J. Johnson, the labor candidate for re-election, who has been against them on the eight-hour act.

On the way they attacked Marsley Hill colliery, wrecked the offices and threw the books and other effects down the shaft. Special police were drafted to prevent another riot at night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Miss Inez Milholland, who, since her failure to get into Harvard law school, has identified herself with the cause of woman suffrage and the striking shirtwaist operators in New York, was arrested last night after an encounter with the police in front of an East Side factory. She was released on $300 bail.

ONE WOMAN DEAD

Two Missing and Three Others Injured at a Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—One woman is dead, two others are missing, and three are seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, as the result of a fire yesterday which destroyed the 301 West 13th Street apartment house at 1313-1335 Walnut street, the fashionable section of West Philadelphia.

The dead woman is Mrs. Frances Evans of Baltimore, who died from the shock of being dragged from the burning building.

The bodies of Mrs. David C. Eaton and Mrs. S. J. Carpenter, the missing women, are believed to have been buried in this ruin. Thomas Mulligan, a fireman, was also critically injured by falling from the roof of an adjoining building.

About twenty persons, mostly women, were in their rooms when the fire was first discovered. The frightened women were obliged to make their way down a fire escape in the rear of the building. Several of those who were in the front rooms had their escape cut off.

Mrs. Evans, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Kling, was assisted from the burning building by the elevator boy and her daughter, but died of shock when she reached a neighboring house. Mrs. Kling was almost overcome with smoke and was slightly burned.

Mrs. Carpenter was a paralytic. Her nurse, Miss Elva Wirth, made ineffectual efforts to assist her from the building, but was finally obliged to save her own life by climbing from a window to an adjoining house. It is believed that Mrs. Carpenter perished when the fire occurred and she has not since been seen.

MEN ARRESTED

They May be Charged With Arson

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Two men were arrested last night for responsibility for the fire of Sunday night on Seneca street in which Samuel Rensovsky and his wife, the latter with two children in her arms were badly injured in jumping. When it became known in Seneca street last night that David Walger, who occupied a store on the street floor of the burned building, and Harris Margolsky were to be arrested, the officer had a hard struggle to land his men safely in the police station.

FRIGATE ENTERPRISE BURNED

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Fire, applied by her present owners, a junk concern, yesterday destroyed the famous old frigate Enterprise. The Enterprise, which had previously been stripped of her fittings, was burned to secure the metal used in her construction. Her last duty was as the nautical training ship for Massachusetts.

BALLINGER DENIES

The Charges Made Against Him by Mr. Hitchcock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Secretary Ballinger last night issued a lengthy statement in which, in most vigorous terms, he declared the charges made by Representative Hitchcock before the congressional special committee and aimed at the interior department and the general land office were without foundation in fact.

Answering in turn each of the charges made yesterday by Mr. Hitchcock in his statement, Secretary Ballinger asserts that "insolent" as they allege any extravagance, wrong doing or favoritism on my part they are absolutely without foundation.

"False; ridiculously false; equally false; ridiculously false; a peculiarly unwarranted assault upon an efficient government officer" the last referring to Mr. Schwartz, chief of field service, expressions which he uses in his statement of the various charges. In regard to appointing a relative, J. H. Ballinger, as confidential clerk when he became commissioner of land office, the secretary says this was because he was not personally acquainted before coming here with any officers or clerks in the land office and desired to have as confidential clerk some one he knew. He says that Judge Wright was removed, not to make way for J. H. Ballinger, but because Judge Wright's age, he being nearly 80, made him "practically disqualified to perform his duties." The vacancy on the board, he says, was filled, not by Jack Ballinger, but by Judge Gray.

He says that the "certain large brick chimney" to which Mr. Hitchcock alluded "was erected pursuant to a specific appropriation for that purpose by congress," that the additional clerks in the land office complained of were necessitated by the congressional appropriation of $1,000,000 for protecting public lands; and that the charge in regard to the purchase of furniture "is on a par with that relating to the employment of additional clerks."

BRILLIANT PARTY

By Officers of the Lowell High School Regiment

The Nineteenth in the History of the Organization—Many of the Teachers and Friends of the School Present

The nineteenth annual party of the commissioned officers of the Lowell High school regiment was held last evening in Associate hall. The affair like all of its predecessors was a huge success. The hall was prettily decorated. Large streamers of pink and white bunting extended from the ceiling to the galleries and the stage was a thing of beauty. The music was by Hubbard's orchestra and when the grand march started the scene was a very pleasing one. The galleries were packed and great interest, pleasure and attention were shown everywhere.

Deny the State's Right to Fix the Milk Test

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The constitutionality of the milk standard law was argued before Chief Justice Knowlton and Judges Hammond, Drayton, Sheldon and Ruger in the supreme court yesterday. The question is raised in the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Alvah G. Wheeler, William Foss and Harry S. Walcott, who were found guilty of having in their possession to sell milk not up to the standard prescribed. The standard fixes the good standard as 12 and 15-100 per cent. solids. Their milk had only 11 and 15-100 per cent.

The dealers argue that the present milk law cannot be justified as a police regulation, seeking to prevent the sale of adulterated milk or as a rule of evidence prescribing what shall be regarded as evidence of fraud or adulteration. The legislation up to 1906, they admit, had this purpose in view, but in that year they argue the standard of good quality was fixed arbitrarily as a mercantile term without regard to fraud or adulteration.

By this, it is contended, the legisla-

Brown and Miss Elizabeth Chickering; Battalion Adjutant Paul Sweet and Miss Marion A. Swann; Lieut. Walter Edlund and Miss Vita Cogswell; Lieut. Percy Edwards and Miss Elizabeth Shaughnessy; Lieut. Gerald Silk and Miss Harriet Silk; Lieut. Paul Burden and Miss Edith Deharrell; Lieut. Barry Putnam and Miss Irene Choate; Lieut. Andrew Moynahan and Miss Eileen Moynahan; Lieut. Erroll Tesson and Miss Maryon Martin; Lieut. Nelson Russell and Miss Vera F. Sullivan; Lieut. Chester Rannels and Miss Augusta Horne; Lieut. William Liddell and Miss Laura Murphy; Lieut. Oliver Flint and Miss Hazel Weinbeck; Lieut. Paul Coward and Miss Olive Byeth; Lieut. Thomas Clark and Miss Grace Gordon.

Among the many out-of-town guests were Major Benjamin Anthony, Capt. G. M. Stearns, Col. D. W. White and Lieut. W. C. Hickey, of Wakefield, and many others.

General dancing was begun at nine o'clock, and food, patients and friends to the galleries enjoyed the occasion to the full extent.

Near the stage at the farther end of the hall were seated the matrons of the party, teachers of the high school in the receiving line were Miss Mary A. Webster, Miss Adelaide Baker, Miss Emma Bradley and Miss Charlotte Duncanson. Capt. A. K. Williams, Principal C. W. High and several of the other teachers from the school were present during the evening.

At intervals during the dance the hall lights were extinguished and the dancers tripped the light fantastic to the beams of a searchlight operated from the gallery, and the effect on the beautiful costumes of the young ladies and the sparkling uniforms of the young men was quite charming.

At 11 o'clock the dancers ceased from dancing and refreshments were served. Dancing was resumed at 11:30 o'clock, and the first hour of the early morning had struck ere the strains of the last waltz had died away.

THE GLIDDEN TOUR

Auto Men Do Not Want to See it Abolished

At the recent New York automobile shows there was much talk going the rounds among the manufacturers concerning the proposed discarding of the famous Glidden tour trophy and substituting for the same a trophy to be known as the National or American Automobile Association trophy, to be donated by that association from money given by manufacturers. These were arguments for and against this action, but those who objected to the proposed changes were in the majority.

Foremost among the objectors is Benjamin Briscoe of the Maxwell Motor company and president of the Manufacturers' contest association. His views are plain and to the point and expressed as follows:

"To discard this classic touring trophy of the country at this time, after it has accomplished so much good for the industry, is, in my opinion, an extraordinary action and one which ought to be regretted not only by motor car makers but by the public as well.

Trophy Marks Auto's Progress

"Surely no automobile trophy ever conferred for the country has done so much toward the progress of the motor car industry; not excepting even the Vanderbilt cup.

"Donated in the early days when the automobile was looked upon as the rich man's toy, it created enthusiasm throughout the territories through which the Glidden tour was run. It showed the public in general that the motor car could accomplish all that was claimed for it; it demonstrated that the 'horseless carriage' had become a permanent fixture in social and business life; it has done more than anything else to sound the death knell of the horse and its relegation to the farm; it has given manufacturers a superior opportunity to learn the strong and weak points of their cars, which could not have been learned under general touring conditions. This, in brief, is the history of the Glidden trophy and its place in the industry, sport and pastime, and it is this same famous classic trophy that incites interests would now bury in the historic archives of motordom!

"The Glidden tour is well known by the public at large, from Boston on the east to the Colorado Desert on the west, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes. It is the public's barometer as to what the various cars can do in endurance, mountain climbing, plunging through sand or gumbo, or speeding over macadam roads. The Glidden tour has taken the automobiles through country far beyond the range of horse vehicles, and has fully demonstrated that the motor car can accomplish what no other form of transportation can.

Lauds Donor of Trophy

"None of these would have been learned so rapidly if not for Mr. Glidden's generous offer in donating the famous trophy which bears his name. As a pioneer, he certainly is entitled to any credit which may be his. Personally, I believe that too much credit cannot be given him for his foresight and keen intuition of the benefits to be derived from an annual contest such as the Glidden tour has developed into. I doubt if Mr. Glidden, himself, even dreamed what wonderful beneficial results would be accomplished for the motor car when he first donated the trophy."

"To me it sounds inconsistent for this A. A. A. official to recommend the withdrawal of the Glidden trophy and offer certificates in its place, when in the same statement he says: 'At this time suitable resolution should be offered

Persons who are suffering from blackheads, pimples, dandruff, eczema, tetter, ring-worm, or any form of skin disease, often ask the question, "Is there any cure?"

Mr. Dows, the druggist, says "yes, there is a cure." ZEMO, a scientific, clean, liquid preparation for external use, gives prompt relief and permanently cures every form of skin and scalp disease. ZEMO draws the germ life and poisons from underneath the skin to the surface and destroys them and in this way effects a complete cure of any form of skin or scalp disease, whether on infants or grown persons. Mr. Dows will allow you proof of many remarkable cures made by ZEMO and will gladly explain to you how you can be cured by this clean, simple home treatment.

KILLED BY FALL

Smokestack Crashed Down at Attleboro

ATTLEBORO, Jan. 18.—Joseph Bunum, aged 19, of Norwich, Ct., was instantly killed and Ephraim Fountain, aged about 25 years, also of Norwich, was probably fatally injured by the collapse of a smoke stack yesterday afternoon.

These two men and C. B. Kinney, employed by a roofing company of Providence, were engaged to remove the upper portion of a large smoke stack on Maiden lane and adjacent to the power house for the E. A. Robinson estate. The men had put stagers, ropes and a swinging chain in position and Bunum, according to statements made by men near, was standing on a board placed across the top of the stack and 85 to 90 feet from the ground, when there was a crash that started employees in the factories about and the top of the stack, stagers and the two men went down.

Young Bunum struck first on the edge of the roof at the base of the stack and then bounded to the street. He was picked up dead and Fountain was taken to a hospital in Providence in a critical condition. When at the station on a boarder awaiting a train, he appeared cool and composed to some of the bystanders, who were sympathetic with him, that if he got out of his accident all right he would return to that work again. "You have to expect accidents in this steep climbing and chimney business," he said.

SUPT. WARREN

MAKES REPORT ON CONDITIONS AT TRUANT SCHOOL

Supt. Warren of the Middlesex county truant school at North Chelmsford, has made the following report to the county commission:

There were 176 boys in the school January 1, 1909. Admitted during the year, 41; whole number for the year, 240; released during the year, 67; remaining December 31, 1909, 177.

Of those received during the year, forty-one were admitted as habitual truants, one for the violation of the rules of school, or school offender, 12 as absentees, and ten returned from probation.

Of those released four were discharged by expiration of sentence, one eloped, and fifty-eight were released upon probation.

Of the number committed twenty could neither read nor write.

The receipts and expenditures were as follows:

County of Middlesex for current expenses, $2,050.10; clothes and towels for board of pupils, $10,087.32; from sundry sales, etc., $180.46; total, $12,237.88.

The expenses were:

Salaries and wages, $12,263.59; fuel and lights, $358.93; provisions, groceries, clothing and all other expenses, $1,133.15; paid into county treasury, $10,117.75; total, $44,236.88.

The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.34.

Begin Inspection of the Militia

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The annual inspection of the Massachusetts volunteer militia commenced yesterday afternoon in this city, when the medical department was looked over at its headquarters at the state house by Maj. Frank P. Reynolds, medical department, U. S. A., and the headquarters of the 1st Brigade at the South armory by Maj. John W. Heard, 6th United States Cavalry.

Surg.-Gen. C. C. Foster received the inspecting officer for his department, and Brig.-Gen. Clark and Adj.-Gen. Sanborn for the brigade headquarters.

In the evening companies of the coast artillery corps, 1st, 2d and 7th, commanded respectively by Capt. Frothingham, Clarendon and Hall, with the band and field music, were inspected by Maj. Thomas Ridgway, U. S. A., U. S. A., at the South armory, during the afternoon the major inspected the troops and property of the companies. This inspection is important, as upon the strength of attendance the annual allotment is made by the secretary of war.

Maj. Rogers of the inspector-general's department accompanied Maj. Ridgway. Capt. Bennett, U. S. A., U. S. A., the corps artillery instructor, was present, as was Col. Nutter and most of the regimental field and staff and Capt. Webb of the 5th infantry.

Headquarters, band, field music and companies A, Capt. Loxan; C, Capt. Smith; and D, Capt. Dwyer of the 9th infantry were looked over at the East armory by Capt. Robert H. Allen, 29th infantry, U. S. A., and Sullivan had as guests Lieut.-Col. Thomas Talbot, Capt. Geste and Lieut. Leveille, First Corps Cavalry.

The inspections will be continued today, when the headquarters of the 2d brigade and the remaining Boston companies of the U. S. A., and 9th infantry will be inspected.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE

Peter Matrices was taken from his home in John street to the Lowell hospital yesterday afternoon. He is employed at the Hamilton mills and while at work sprained his ankle, instead of having it attended to by a doctor he walked to his home, but upon arriving there found the pain so intense that he decided that medical treatment was necessary.

HELD AT THE CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH.

Revival services were held last night at the Central Methodist Episcopal church. There was a large attendance and the praise service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Stephan. Miss Alice Leith sang three selections. Rev. Dr. Whitaker read scripture. Rev. J. T. Carleton took for his subject "Repentance," and as a text, Acts 16:32, "The hiddenness of sin." The necessity of Confession of sin and the Danger of Covering it; and lastly, The Blessedness of Sins Pardoned.

The service closed with a very strong appeal for full surrender and earnest prayer.

Tonight Rev. J. P. West of the Highland M. E. church will preach. Rev. Mr. Carleton will conduct a rousing praise service and Miss Leith will be the special soloist.

HAS CONFESSED

Schermerhorn Says He Strangled Woman

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 18.—In the presence of his mother, Frank Schermerhorn, lying on his cot in Yassar hospital, confessed last night to under Sheriff F. Hornbeck that he alone was responsible for the death of Sarah S. Brymer, the governess who was found strangled to death at the Compton home at Millbrook last Thursday morning.

Just as Schermerhorn finished his confession his mother fainted and was cared for by the hospital authorities. Sunday night Schermerhorn told Chief of Police MacCabe he would probably be ready yesterday to make a "clean breast" of the whole affair. Yesterday noon the prisoner sent for the sheriff, but when that official arrived Schermerhorn changed his mind about confessing. Late in the afternoon he again sent for the officials, and in the presence of his mother and sister made his statement.

Schermerhorn says he was very drunk the night of the crime, remembers being in the room of Miss Brymer, but does not remember what he did. "I did not intend to commit murder," said Schermerhorn, according to the officials, "but I only intended it for a scare. I do not remember stealing the clothes and the silverware, but I do remember trying to burn the silverware. I left the house by way of the kitchen door when Mary Dutched (a servant) came out of her door. I alone am responsible and no one else is concerned in it."

Schermerhorn's condition is rapidly improving and the self-inflicted razor wound on his neck is healing. He will be removed to the county jail in a few days and his case will be presented to the April grand jury.

AT STATE HOUSE

Number of Measures Presented to the Legislature

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The session of the senate was almost as brief as that of the house, and was begun with prayer by Rev. Dr. Samuel Kitt of Boston. The measure introduced by Senator Hultman of Quincy to provide for traveling expenses for the committee on public charitable institutions caused Senator Lannan of Boston to ask for information. The Quincy senator said it was the purpose of the committee on rules to limit the travel of the committee to visits to institutions which call for a special appropriation. The order was adopted. Pres. Treadway introduced the petition of E. C. Van Dusen and other trustees of William Brewster academy that they be permitted to transfer fund and real estate in their hands to the school committee of Stockbridge. Another measure introduced by Pres. Treadway was the bill of Denis Morrisey to penalize anyone who defaces natural scenery by painting signs, etc., or erecting advertising boards, poles, fences, etc. A penalty of $10 is provided for each offense. The report of the special board upon validating the acts of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was ordered printed. These petitions were received:

Of Senator Samuel Ross of New Bedford to prohibit the employment of women and minors in any mercantile establishments after 3:30 p. m. on Fridays or 10 o'clock on Saturday nights. Of Senator Samuel Ross, that every employee in a mechanical or mercantile establishment shall be paid during the hours of labor. Of Gen. A. B. R. Sprague of Worcester and officers of the 25th, 36th, 57th, 6th, 51st and 52d regiments for an appropriation of $5000 to be expended by a commission of three appointed by the governor and council in the erection of a memorial shaft either at Petersburg or between the Rapidan and the Appomattox in Virginia to commemorate the deeds of those sons of Massachusetts who died in the campaigns of the army of the Potomac. Of Senator W. Prattis Parker of Boston for an allowance of $25,000 to be expended in restoring tree growth to the islands, shores and headlands of Boston bay. Of John Weaver Sherman and others of the American Federation of labor asking for the enactment of the federation's bill of last year for workingmen's compensation for injuries received. Of Senator John J. Butler that the civil service commissioners may certify and the treasurer and mayor of Boston pay to city employees who have become incapacitated by reason of injuries received in performance of their duty their full pay for the period of the continuance of such incapacity upon sworn certificate of the attending physician.

and approval of the head of department in which such person is employed. Senator O'Connor of South Boston had referred his petition that Oct. 12 be made a legal holiday, to be known as "Columbus day." The petition of Senator Butler of Boston that city employees in cities which shall accept the terms of the act be allowed two weeks vacation, without loss of pay, in each year, was also referred. Senator Hultman of Quincy had taken from the files of last year the bill to make the salary of the judge of probate of Norfolk county $5000 a year.

IN THE HOUSE

After disposing of the matters on its calendar the lower branch of the state legislature adjourned yesterday afternoon, having been in session just 19 minutes.

Among the petitions received were: Of John Weaver Sherman and others to constitute eight hours a day's work for employees of public works old. Of Representative Oliver of Athol that no assignment of wages be valid unless accepted by the employer, and recorded with the city or town clerk. Of George H. Fall of Malden to authorize the setting apart of Ball Rock park as a memorial to the founders and patriots of the city.

Of Rt. Rev. William Lawrence that the church home for orphan and destitute children be permitted to hold property to the extent of $500,000.

Of Representative Rousmaniere of Boston that courts shall not charge juries as to matters of fact.

Of Thomas L. Higen for the enactment of the "Higen antidepression bill." This petition was introduced by Representative Albert P. Langtry of Springfield, who also signed the measure.

Of Representative Arnold of Boston that in elections for city council in Boston no voter shall cast his ballot for more than two of the three candidates to be elected.

Of Mr. Overlook and others of Worcester that cities and towns be authorized to establish public tuberculosis sanatoria.

Of John S. Rich and others to authorize the state board of health to seize meat of sheep and lambs and veal, if after inspection such meat is found to be infected or such veal to be that of a calf less than four weeks old. Of John Weaver Sherman and others to permit peaceful communication with strikers and workmen during times of industrial dispute.

Of Albert F. Collins, that a list of justices of the peace and notaries public be published annually by the secretary of the commonwealth.

Of the same petitioner, that confessions to a priest or clergyman shall be privileged.

Of the society for the prevention and control of tuberculosis, for an annual appropriation of $1000 for small traveling tuberculosis exhibits.

Of John F. Kennedy and others, for the appointment by the governor of a commission of three persons to investigate the retail price of coal.

Of Mrs. Anna T. Steinauer and many others, that inefficiency and not the attainment of any given age shall be the cause of retirement upon pension of teachers in the Boston public schools.

Of the Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of labor, to regulate the issuance of injunctions.

Of Max Henry Newman, to require bakeshops to remain closed after the hour of 11 a. m. on Sunday.

Of the commission on uniformity of legislation, to make uniform the law of bills of lading, and the transfer of shares of stock in corporations.

Of Andrew Booth and others, that the director of the bureau of statistics shall cause the books of any city or town to be audited upon petition.

Of Representative Carleton of Chelsea, to give to the police officers of Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop one day off in 15.

No decision was announced yesterday by the committee on house petitions in the contested election case from the 23d Middlesex district. It is understood the committee will report today.

About the state house corridors it was rumored that the committee is divided; four members wishing to report favoring the election of Lynde Sullivan to the house by one vote, while the other three members claim the election resulted in a tie vote between Mr. Sullivan and Charles E. Donnelly.

PARISH STATISTICS

NOTRE DAME DE LOURDES A FLOURISHING COMMUNITY.

At all the masses at Notre Dame de Lourdes church, Sunday, the first statistics of the new parish were read by Rev. Fr. Lamotte, O. M. I., pastor.

The finances of the parish for the year were very satisfactory, the receipts enabling the pastors to buy land adjoining the church and to pay $8700 cash for it. This land, on which stands now the small cottage occupied by the pastors, will be utilized later for the erection of a suitable rectory.

The number of families in the parish is 528, and the total population is 2230. There were in the parish during the year 126 births; 35 marriages, and 98 deaths, 28 of these last being of adults and 38 of children. There were 1200 communicants, these including the first communicants, and 46 confirmations. There are 362 children in the parochial school, 198 being boys and 164, girls. There are five teachers, three of whom are nuns.

An important change made in the regulations of the parish, coming in force with the present month, is that marriages will be solemnized at masses only.

A triumph held during the past week in preparation for the Feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, was very successfully conducted by Rev. Fr. Viaud, O. M. I. and concluded Sunday afternoon with the reception of a large number of new members into the League of the Sacred Heart, the men's sodality.

EXTRA TREASURER HYLAN

Run Into and Knocked Down by a Sleigh

Edwin J. Hylan, treasurer of the Marketquid mills, was run into and knocked down by a laundry sleigh while trying to board an electric car at the Middlesex street station about one o'clock this afternoon. Fortunately, he escaped with a general shaking up and badly soiled clothing.

The 1258 train. An electric car was waiting in front of the depot for the passengers of the train and it was while attempting to board the car that the shaft of the sleigh struck him and knocked him into the slush.

CIVIC FEDERATION

Uniform Legislation Was Urged at Today's Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Numerous were the subjects upon which uniform state legislation was recommended by speakers at today's conference of the National Civic Federation. The delegates perfected a permanent organization and adopted resolutions of importance which will be presented to the conference of state governors now in session here.

The resolutions recommend that efficient and uniform legislation should be adopted to suppress and prevent the "white slave" traffic and that the commissioners on uniform state laws be requested to draft a bill which will carry into effect the foregoing recommendation.

Told His Lawyer That She Had Nursed and Befriended Him, While He Was Under No Obligation to Relatives—Interesting Will Contest in Probate Court

The contested will case of William D. Hobart, who left an estate said to be of considerable amount to Mrs. Margaret Handley, who had befriended the deceased during his life was heard at the court house in Gorham street today.

Mrs. Handley, through her counsel, Solon W. Stevens and John J. Harvey, presented the will for probate, asking that she be appointed executrix. The will is contested by a niece, Mrs. John H. Wotton, represented by William A. Hogan, while Nathan D. Pratt, who originally drew the will, appeared for it.

Lawyer Stevens called as the first witness Lawyer John J. Devine, Mr. Pratt's law partner, who identified the testator's handwriting on the will and stated that the testator was of sound mind when he signed the will.

Cross examined by Mr. Hogan, witness stated that he had known the testator for 10 years. He had seen the testator at least twice intoxicated, but after April, 1908, the date of the will. He had seen the testator about one hundred times between the date of the will and the time of his death.

SERIOUS CHARGES

Have Been Alleged Against N. Y. Republican Leader

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Evening Post today gives prominence to a special despatch from Albany in which charges of a serious nature are made against Senator Jotham P. Allds, recently elected republican leader of the New York state senate to succeed the late John Rathes.

The Evening Post gives Senator Benn Conger, also a republican, as authority for the charges. A letter is also printed from Senator Allds in which he denies the charges and says: "You, not having shown me the statement which you advise me in the letter you propose to publish, I cannot of course, reply at this moment to the same; but this I can assure you, that speaking for myself any statement implying either the offer or the acceptance of money to influence my action at the time when I was leader in the assembly is absolutely untrue; that whoever utters the same is, in legal language, a slanderer, and certainly it would be libellous to publish it."

COURT'S DECISION

Annuls the Marriage of Counselman and Clara French

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Judge Chellin today ordered the decree separating Willis Counselman, wealthy broker and well known society man, from his former wife, Lulu "Counselman," be set aside. This action annuls the marriage of Counselman and Clara French.

The action to annul the marriage was brought by the Chicago Bar association and the relatives of the first Mrs. Counselman on charges that gross fraud was practiced in securing the divorce.

BLACK HANDERS

Blamed for Kidnapping of Chicago Girl

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—It is reported to the police that black handers are responsible for the kidnapping of Marie Marocco, a 17 year old Italian girl, who was bundled into a cab today when she left her home to go to work. Marie's younger sister Rosa was also seized but broke away and spread the alarm. Apparently Marie made no struggle or outcry when she was seized. There were three men in the cab. Rosa said she had never seen any of the men in the cab before but she was certain they were Italians.

The police have been unable to get the cab which was driven rapidly away and soon disappeared.

The police are working on the theory that Maria Canoraro, 17 years old, who has been missing from her home since yesterday morning, was also seized by three men in a cab.

Mario Devozi, the girl kidnapped to a hotel, was found in a house with four men and one woman by the police. The five inmates, all Italians, were arrested.

"MODEL" BOY STOLE PISTOL

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Edward Franklin Scale, with a record so good that the other boys had nicknamed him "The Model Kid," confessed in the Children's court yesterday that a secret longing to be a wild and wooly western bad man had led him to the theft of a 45-calibre revolver, a ear-ridge belt and some hunting paraphernalia from a former "cow-puncher."

Edward is 16, and lives at No. 327 East Seventy-first street. His mother testified to his good behavior, and said that reading nickel novels on the sly had caused the change in him. Justice Denel put him on parole.

Private Seaman of Port Banks, Winthrop, who is well known in this city, visited Lowell today to attend the funeral of Private Joseph McCoy.

NEW COMET DISCOVERED.—CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 18.—A new comet, discovered early yesterday by an astronomer in South Africa, is conspicuously bright and visible to the naked eye, according to a cablegram received last night by the Harvard college observatory, from the observatory at Kiel, Germany.

The cablegram states that the comet was observed by James at Johannesburg, and was in right ascension, 19 hours, 30 minutes, 25 seconds, and declination minus 25 degrees, 9 minutes, 24 seconds.

The comet has an hourly motion in right ascension of plus 41 seconds of time, and declination of plus 6 minutes, 4 seconds of arc.

SUSPECT ARRESTED.—PROVIDENCE, Jan. 18.—Sanford Barton, the young chubman who was held up and robbed in broad daylight yesterday, was his own detective today and succeeded in effecting the arrest of William Loden of this city, who admits his guilt. Young Barton says his man on an electric car followed him into the city. On Canal street he passed two patrolmen, called their attention to the man whom he was following and the arrest quickly followed. In one of Loden's pockets was found a watch which the police believe belonged to an aged Cranston farmer, who was robbed in that town several weeks ago.

APPROPRIATION OF $10,000.—WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—To meet the emergency caused by the forming of the ice gorge in the Ohio river near Louisville, Ky., the senate today approved the $10,000 appropriation proposed in a joint resolution adopted yesterday by the house.

FELL FROM WINDOW.—BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 18.—Clara Sprague, who was brought here from Danbury last night to explain what she knew of the death of James Mullins, today told the police that Mullins and another man got into a fight in her room. The man who was in a semi-conscious condition he fell out of a fourth story window. The police had been mystified at the finding of Mullins' body in the snow and no nearby evidence of a fight.

GOVERNOR HUGHES ANOTHER MURDER

Is Not After the Presidential Nomination in 1912

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—There is no buzzing of the 1912 presidential bee in the bonnet of Gov. Hughes of New York. According to his own statement, his declaration to be a candidate for a third term as governor of New York has no political significance. The governor, who is here to attend the meeting of the governors was asked, "Does your declaration to run for the governorship of New York for a third time mean that you will consider a presidential nomination?" Mr. Hughes promptly replied, "It means simply that I intend resuming the practice of law when I finish my present term and that I will be out of politics. I have served New York the best I know how and believe I am entitled to a rest from official duties. The talk of my being a presidential possibility comes from my friends and not from me as I have not given the matter any thought."

Have Succeeded in Crippling Several Mills

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—It is estimated that about 2000 operatives in all have gone out on strike in Fall River, Fitchburg, Fisherville, North Adams and at several other points because of a reduction in wages caused by the new 56 hour law. In Fall River two mills are shut down and several others crippled by the absence of ring spinners.

PRES. TAFT'S PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Some time this afternoon or tomorrow the state department will make public proclamations by President Taft, declaring that certain European countries therein specified are entitled to the minimum rates of duty imposed by the Payne-Aldrich bill. Only six countries will be designated by the proclamations as entitled to the minimum rates, and these are Great Britain, Russia, Italy, Spain, Switzerland and Turkey.

MINEWORKERS MEET

Annual Convention Was Opened in Indianapolis Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 18.—The annual convention of the United Mine-workers of America opened at Tomlinson hall in this city today. The anthracite miners of Pennsylvania are sparsely represented in the convention because they have no wage scale to negotiate with the mine owners at this time but the bituminous miners have a demand for an increase in wages that may be set at any point between ten and twenty per cent. The preliminary organization of the convention was expected to occupy the day.

It is improbable that the convention will continue longer than eleven days, because a joint conference between the miners representatives and the operatives of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana to consider the new wage contract is scheduled for Feb. 1 at Toledo.

The disaster at Cherry, Ill., has given an impetus to the movement for federal regulation of the operation of mines and this matter will be only second in importance to the question of wages in the convention. President Lewis will press his campaign for the institution of a government bureau of mines and mining.

It is generally conceded that the report of the officers of the recent ballot for officers will show the reelection of Mr. Lewis as president over William Green of Ohio.

PRES. THOMAS RE-ELECTED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley Railway Co. was today re-elected by the stockholders of the company at their annual meeting in the offices of the corporation in this city. William H. Moore, Edward S. Moore and Daniel G. Reid were elected members of the board succeeding Lippencott and George H. McFadden of Philadelphia and Irving A. Stearns of Wilkesbarre, Pa.

BRENNAN.—The funeral of the late William J. Brennan will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, 137 Cumberland road, Philadelphia. Undertakers J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Given: An award by the courts of $605,000. Problem: What shall be done first of all? Answer: Celebrate. And that's exactly what Mrs. Emily Ladenburg, widow of Adolph, the millionaire stockbroker, did yesterday afternoon. She celebrated her husband's death with a party of sixty-two friends and entertained them for at least most of the night. Within a very brief time after Justice Hendrick had made known the

BALLINGER-PINCHOT DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The conference report on the Ballinger-Pinchot resolution was adopted unanimously by the house today.

LAWYER BINNEY

And Three Guests Rescued From Yacht

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 18.—The auxiliary schooner yacht Mist, of New York, out of gasoline and threatened with adverse winds, came to grief off Atlantic City late yesterday afternoon and caused the life savers's two rough trips through the breakers.

On the first trip they rescued Harold Binney, a lawyer, of No. 2 Rector street, New York, who owned and commanded the yacht, and his guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Durnell, of New York, and their two-year-old daughter, Beatrice. The crew at first decided to stay with the yacht, which was left in charge of a Swedish sailing master.

The transfer of Binney and his guests from the yacht to the bobbing lifeboat was effected with great difficulty. The sea is always choppy off Atlantic City, and yesterday it was particularly so. A great crowd watched the rescue from the lifeboat put back to the beach. Mr. Binney and his guests hurried to the Craymore hotel, where they found dry clothes.

The Mist lugged at her anchors in the fog and when she was finally freed, she seemed to be riding easily, but at 7:30 o'clock promenade on the board walk were started by a shower of rockets and lights from the yacht. The life savers put out a second time.

"We've broken our windlass, and the anchors are dragging," shouted the sailing master. "You'd better take her off."

Again the lifeboat went alongside, and the crew of five were transferred without accident.

There is every indication that unless the wind changes the Mist will pile up on the beach. It was almost impossible to bring her in through the inlet on account of shallow water on the bar. Her auxiliary engine was useless without gasoline, and as the craft was also out of water, the crew were afraid to beat out to sea.

Mr. Binney said he was bound for Newport News, and had encountered stormy weather since he put out from Sandy Hook.

The Mist was built by N. G. Herreshoff at Bristol, R. I., in 1904, and was originally owned by E. de V. Morrell of Philadelphia. Mr. Binney's home is at No. 114 East Twenty-second street.

FRENCH IMPORTS FOR YEAR.—PARIS, Jan. 18.—French imports in 1909 totalled $2,285,851,200. This is an increase over the preceding year of $22,000,000. Exports for the year showed an increase of $66,400,000.

LATEST LARCENY CHARGED

Woman Was Arraigned in Police Court Today

Anna Holevas was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on three counts of larceny. In two of the counts she was charged with the larceny of underwear and hosiery from the Lawrence Manufacturing Company. In the third count it was alleged that she stole yarn from the Bigelow Carpet Company.

Major B. J. Noyes conducted the case for the government and the defendant was represented by J. Joseph Hennessy. During the course of the testimony considerable of a personal nature was brought out, also the fact that she had married since she was arrested.

Ami Jones, overseer of the shirt press room of the Lawrence Manufacturing Co., was the first witness for the government. He identified ten pairs of drawers, 16 shirts and a number of pairs of stockings which he claimed were manufactured by the Lawrence company.

On cross-examination he testified that he did not know when the goods were stolen. The girl worked in one of his rooms, but has not been employed since June, 1908. He was positive that the shirts and drawers had been manufactured by the Lawrence company, but could not swear that other companies did not manufacture stockings similar to the ones offered as evidence.

Major B. J. Noyes testified that a week ago Monday night he went to the room of the defendant. In a trunk he found some underwear that he recognized as belonging to the Lawrence company.

The next day witness, accompanied by Special Officer John Regis, met the defendant in the yard of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. Through Mr. Regis, acting as interpreter, the woman said that she had been living with a man for four years, he having promised to marry her when they left Greece. She said that the man had brought the garments out of the mill and he had put them in her trunk.

According to what she told Mr. Regis the stockings which were also found in the trunk were not there two days prior to Inspector Noyes' examination.

On cross-examination witness admitted that he learned that the goods were in the possession of the defendant through a man, who lived in the same house. The man in question also gave him the key to the trunk. Witness after much cross-examination by Mr. Hennessy, admitted that he had secured much information relative to the goods from Prof. Iatros.

The trunk and goods were located at 443 Market street and witness was of the opinion that the defendant lived at that place. He said that he was not aware that the defendant had not lived at that place for two months.

George Tsolikas, who resides in Market street but did not know the members of the house, testified to a conversation which he heard between his uncle and the defendant relative to the goods. He said that he saw the goods in the woman's trunk.

Constantine Holevas, of 443 Market street, said that his brother left for Greece a year ago last November. The brother, witness said, was living with the defendant and on one occasion when the woman had brought some underwear home he heard his brother tell her to bring the goods back to where she had got them. The brother then took the goods away from the woman and afterwards struck her.

Special Officer John Regis told of the conversation which he had with the defendant in the presence of Major Noyes. His testimony was corroborative of that offered by Major Noyes.

Archibald Grant of the Bigelow Carpet Co. identified some yarn which was offered, as similar to that manufactured by the Bigelow Carpet company.

The government rested its case at this point.

Basile Tsolikas, a woman, testified that the yarn was in a closet in her house for a long time, but that she knew nothing of the underwear or hosiery, which it was alleged was taken from the Lawrence company.

Anna Holevas, the defendant, testified that she was at one time employed at the Bigelow Carpet company, but that the yarn which was produced in court had been brought to the house by Constantine Holevas and his brother.

She said that she had not been in the Lawrence mills since she left that place several years ago. She denied having stolen anything from the Lawrence company, but said that they were taken by Constantine's brother, with whom she was living and who is now in Greece.

The case was submitted without argument, and after considering the evidence the court found the defendant guilty of larceny from the Lawrence Mfg. company and ordered her to pay a fine of $30, $15 on each count. On the charge of larceny from the Bigelow Carpet company she was found not guilty and discharged.

Back to the Farm
Thomas Guthrie and John E. Driscoll were arrested in Chelsea yesterday and brought to the police station where they were booked for drunkenness. Guthrie pleaded guilty to the complaint, but Driscoll said "Not guilty." The latter later changed his plea to guilty, and inasmuch as both were on parole from the state farm they will be returned to the state farm.

Drunken Offenders
John Montgomery, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail.

There were two $2 drunks.

STEWART LOST

Was Swept Overboard From Schooner

SALFEM, Jan. 18.—With flag at half mast the three-masted schooner Adriatic arrived here yesterday from Moses river, N. S., after a tragic experience with wind, snow and sea. Capt. E. Irving Eisenhauer says the vessel cleared from Moses river last Wednesday with 171,216 feet of pine lumber consigned to a Salem firm.

Owing to rough weather the vessel put in at La Have and at Shelburne, N. S., for protection. Friday morning the schooner cleared from Shelburne. The wind was blowing strongly from east-northeast at the time and a short time after reaching the open sea the wind backed to northeast.

Friday night he succumbed before the gale for several hours and Saturday noon a tremendous wave swept over the port quarter while five of the crew were reeling the mainmast. Three of the men were swept into the sea.

Capt. Eisenhauer was at the wheel. The deck of the schooner was filled with water and the captain stood immersed up to his arms. Two of the unfortunate men managed to grapple lines floating astern. Richard Ritsay, steward, aged 40 years, whose name was at Riverport, N. S., was not so fortunate and was engulfed. He was enrolled on the vessel Jan. 11.

Capt. Eisenhauer says a blinding snow-storm prevailed when the men were swept overboard and that it was impossible to launch the schooner's boat. The schooner, which is of 99 tons register and built 13 years ago, escaped serious injury. Capt. Eisenhauer has followed the sea for more than 25 years and says he has never experienced such terrible weather as during this trip.

GERMANY MAKES REPLY

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The German government today replied to a memorandum recently received from the United States and relating to the tariff on shipments between the two countries. While it does not accept the American wishes in various respects and especially concerning the importation of meat, the German response is sent in the hope that it will be satisfactory. The reply was dispatched with a certain feeling of anxiety and resignation because it is regarded that Germany can do no more and must be prepared for trade hostilities should the United States insist on more than Germany gives to other countries.

APPLICATION GRANTED

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Justice Andrews today granted the application of the state insurance department to have the People's Mutual Life Association and League turned over to the department for liquidation.

FIRE LOSSES

ESTIMATE OF THE GREAT DAMAGE BY FIRES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—"When a carpenter nails three boards onto a new house the lumber to make three other boards is being burned somewhere in a forest and only lumber enough to make one new board is being grown in the forest at the same time."

J. H. McFarland, president of the American Civic association, made a plea for legislation to promote public control of privately owned forests before the conference on uniform state legislation today and prefaced his remarks with the above sentences.

"Using every device of times as much as we grow and wasting as much as we use we can see the end of wood in the United States," declared Mr. McFarland.

"Four fifths of the timber standing in the United States is privately owned and all is being cut destructively. The remaining one-fifth is in government hands and if it were cut clean there would only be enough left to last the United States ten years at the present rate of consumption."

"All the power to preserve these forests rests with the sovereign states. It is for that reason that uniform legislation for public control of privately owned forests is imperative."

BALTIMORE SUN CHANGES

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—It was learned today that the papers have been signed by two of the three interests controlling the A. S. Bell estate, transferring to Charles H. Grasty, the control of the stock in the A. S. Bell Co., which publishes the Baltimore Sun.

The Bells it is understood, will retain with the management of the paper. It is understood further that the change will not mean any revolution either in the policy of the Sun or its personnel.

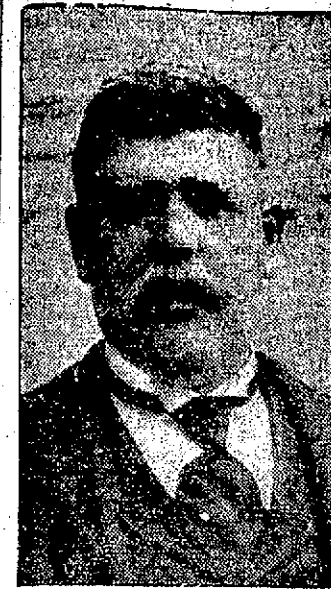

Mr. Grasty is credited with having bought the Baltimore World, an afternoon paper, which was sold under foreclosure a week ago, but he has refused either to affirm or deny that story.

PITCHER PHILLIPS SIGNS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Charles (Deacon) Phillips, the veteran pitcher of the Pittsburgh baseball club, thinks he is good for still another season for last night his contract was received at the club headquarters with his signature attached. Barney Dreyfus had sent the contract with the terms note: "If you think you can deliver the goods again this season." The deacon evidently thinks so for no note was enclosed in the contract.

"INSURGENT" MOVE

Took a New and Quite Interesting Turn Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A new and decidedly interesting turn was given to the insurgent movement in the house today when Representative Hayes of California, Murdock of Kansas, and Gardner of Massachusetts hastened to the White House to tell the president in effect that they had been "used" by the democrats in the matter of the Ballinger-Pluchot investigating committee and that the democrats were taking advantage of the opportunity to put two of their most partisan members on the committee for the purpose of making political capital out of the affair. Mr. Hayes told the president that while he was an insurgent he did not intend to be placed in the position of helping the democrats to "throw mud at a republican administration." This, he was afraid, was going to happen unless some means of changing the democratic selections for the investigating committee could be devised. Messrs.

WERE CUT OUT

Witness thought that Hobart worked in the machine shop up to the time he received the $500. Witness thought that Hobart gave up his work after he received the $500. He couldn't say whether Hobart ever worked again or not.

Mr. Pratt said that he had never noticed any signs of intoxication on Mr. Hobart although he knew he was a drinking man, up to the time he had received the money. Afterward he saw him once in his office intoxicated. He had seen him coming out of saloons but couldn't say that he was intoxicated. After receiving $500 Mr. Hobart later received $1000 and in anticipation of receiving this money he called at witness' office several times relative to borrowing money. Hobart borrowed about $100 from a broker named Laporte.

Three weeks after the making of the will, witness said, Mr. Hobart came into his office very drunk and tried to talk about the will. Hobart said: "I want that will." Witness said: "I haven't any will of yours and if I had I wouldn't give it to you because you're drunk."

Hobart replied: "That's what she said." Witness said to him: "Well, she's right, whoever she is." Hobart hung around a few minutes and then went away. He returned the next day and apologized for his conduct on the day previous.

Witness asked him relative to the will and Hobart said he had given it to the woman made out to him. He said that the woman wouldn't give it back to him and that he didn't blame her as he was drunk.

Witness said that he told Hobart that the woman was right in not giving him the will when he was drunk. Hobart went away and returned the next evening stating that the woman had told him the will was destroyed. Hobart said that the woman had never deceived him and he had no doubt the will had been destroyed. Witness told him he could destroy the effect of the will by making a new one or by annulling the old one. Hobart said that he had attempted suicide shortly before his death. Mr. Pratt was cross-examined at length by Lawyer Harvey relative to Mr. Hobart's mental capacity, and the witness stated that Hobart was a man of intelligence. He had no trouble in expressing himself and was not at all difficult in understanding him.

Witness said that Hobart told him that he wanted to leave his property to Mrs. Handley. He told witness that he was not obligated to his relatives in any way and that the Handley woman had cared for him when he was sick and had advanced him money when he was hard pressed. Hobart said she was a good woman and that there was nothing improper in their relations. Witness did not encourage Hobart to make a will and advised him to take more time. Mr. Hobart was sober at the time he spoke of the will. Mr. Hobart spoke with witness after that and repeated that he was under no obligations to his relatives in Lowell while he lived. Witness suggested that he leave something to his relatives, but he said he was not under obligations to them. He repeated that Mrs. Handley had nursed him and trusted him when he couldn't pay his lodgings. Witness said he did not know Mrs. Handley and she had never been to his office. On the day that the will was executed a woman called at his office inquiring about the will, but he didn't know who she was.

Witness told Mr. Hobart about the woman who called and described her. Mr. Hobart said that she was his niece and that he didn't want her to know about the will.

Henry G. Carey, clerk in the Lowell National bank, was next called and he testified that he knew William D. Hobart. The latter came into the bank with William H. Fuller. The latter said that he had met Mr. Hobart on the street with a roll of money and had advised him to place it in the bank. Mr. Hobart was intoxicated at the time and he deposited $700 in the bank, opening an account. The pass book of the bank was introduced as evidence. That was the only deposit he ever made.

Noon recess.

Afternoon Session

The hearing was resumed at 2 o'clock with Mr. Carey still on the witness stand. In response to Mr. Hogan's questions, he stated that most of the checks drawn on the bank by Mr. Hobart were made out either to himself or other employees of the bank. Witness said he had seen Mr. Hobart when he had been drinking "three or four times."

James of Kentucky and Rainey of Illinois were selected by the democratic caucus for appointment under the action of the insurgent democratic coalition which took the power of appointing the committee away from the speaker. Messrs. Murdock and Gardner said but admitted that they did not see exactly how they were going to get out of the difficulty. A statement was prepared by Mr. Gardner and Mr. Murdock, which said:

"We called on the president and spoke to him about the personnel of the investigating committee but nothing definite was arrived at. The president felt that it was not for him to indicate his choice as to the future action of the house in this respect but urged that it was of the utmost importance that the members of the committee should be men recognized by both sides of the house as fair and impartial in the investigation."

Mrs. Margaret Handley, the beneficiary under the will, was then called by Mr. Hogan, and she testified that she had lived here practically all her life. She is a widow and has a son and daughter, the latter married. She testified that she had known Hobart for about 20 years. He boarded where she was employed as a waitress, but did not know him well until about seven years ago. She had been employed by Putnam's restaurant for 15 years and at the Washington Tavern for about four years. "I first became acquainted with Mr. Hobart through my brother. They worked together in the machine shop, and he called to see my brother when he was ill. He was very kind to my brother. I continued working as a waitress throughout my married life. My husband died in 1900. Mr. Hobart took some of his meals at Putnam's while I worked there."

Mrs. Handley was then asked several questions relative to her married life and she denied emphatically that she had ever been to ride with Mr. Hobart while her husband was alive, or that she had told Mrs. Welton that she had. "You were a frequent visitor to his room?" asked Lawyer Hogan. "I went there at his request," she replied. "You knew of his receiving the $500?"

"He told me some time after he received it."

Relative to Mr. Hobart's home the witness said: "He was rooming with an old lady named Elwood and when she was taken down with sore eyes he sent for me to take care of the old lady as there was no woman in the house. After Mrs. Elwood's death he went to a French family and he lived with them. I visited his room frequently but never stayed after 9 o'clock. Sometimes I took one of the girls with me and she would always stay there as long as I did. I was calling there before he got his money. I met him at the restaurant and there was no secrecy about my visits to his house. I never went there before my husband died. I never brought any drink to the room when I went there. Later I have gone for liquor for him at his request when he was ill and couldn't go out himself. That was since last June when he was run over and I took care of him. I never went after any liquor until the last few months."

The first I knew about him receiving the $500 was when he gave me about $200 to keep for him in the presence of two officers who counted it out. After he received the $500 I think he did no more work. He wanted to but there was no secrecy about my visits to his house. I never went there before my husband died. I never brought any drink to the room when I went there. Later I have gone for liquor for him at his request when he was ill and couldn't go out himself. That was since last June when he was run over and I took care of him. I never went after any liquor until the last few months."

Addressed Civic Federation From To be Tested in U. S. Court at the Same Platform Brattleboro, Vt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Taft and Gifford Pinchot, whom the former recently removed from his position as head of the forestry bureau, spoke yesterday from the same platform in addressing the National Civic Federation, now in session here to discuss problems of uniform state legislation. Both were received heartily.

Representatives of almost every branch of human activity met yesterday at the conference to consider ways and means of bringing about uniformity of laws relating to child labor, marriage and divorce, pure food and pure drug, conservation of natural resources, negotiable instruments, bills of lading and other matters affecting the social and business life of the nation.

President Taft spoke at the morning session. Mr. Pinchot was one of the principal speakers at the afternoon session of the conference. He said that subjects such as forest preservation had been agitated by Americans for more than a hundred years, but that the control of water power monopoly in the common interest was younger than the present century.

"All of them today," he said, "are in the valley of decision. We have come at last to the point of action. And we must either go forward or fall back." In his judgment, he said, the present situation offers a field for uniform action and for co-operation between the states themselves, and between them and the nation.

"The great principles we have been working for," said Mr. Pinchot, "may be written in law, now or in the future, but they are not written in stone. Public sentiment is prepared and awake. For the second time a president of the United States has endorsed these principles in a message to congress. Most of the recommendations which the recent message contains are well known to the friends of conservation and well approved. If it has omissions or passages with which I disagree I have no concern with them today.

"The president urges that the measures he recommends shall be taken and disposed of promptly without awaiting the investigation which has been determined upon. I echo his desire. There can be no reason to await the result of the investigations before acting on these measures. They stand by themselves.

"In the face of this great opportunity let us go further and so far as these leaders are concerned let us disregard the controversy altogether in a general effort to secure what every good citizen earnestly desires."

In addition to President Taft's speech at the morning session, Seth Low, president of the federation, and Judge Alton B. Parker, temporary chairman of the conference, also spoke.

With President Taft as the central figure, there were gathered about him on the stage a notable group of men. Labor was represented by Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell; the law by Senator Elihu Root, Alton B. Parker and ex-Associate Justice Brown; business by John Hays Hammond, ex-Senator John F. Dryden, and other prominent delegates.

President Low, without ceremony, explained the purpose of the meeting, and Gov. William S. Kimball, secretary of the house of governors, presided. Judge Parker in his speech as temporary chairman.

Dr. W. G. Morse discussed "Uniform Laws Relating to the Use of Water," while Charles Lathrop Peck of Lake wood, N. Y., spoke on "Forest Conservation and Taxation."

Ex-Senator John F. Dryden addressed the conference on "Uniform Law and Legislation on Life Insurance," while Thomas E. Drake, superintendent of insurance of the District of Columbia, elaborated on the subject.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Jan. 18.—Stella D. Flint of Windsor, as general guardian of the property of Samuel N. Stone, Jr., a minor, has brought a bill in equity in the U. S. circuit court before Judge J. L. Martin against the Stone Tracy company, Frank B. Tracy, Ida S. Tracy and L. B. Hayward, directors of the company, also of Windsor.

The case will test the constitutionality of the corporation tax law passed by congress and approved by the president Aug. 5, 1909. It will be heard in Brattleboro on Thursday before Judge Martin.

The bill of complaint sets forth that the Stone Tracy company is a corporation created and chartered by the state of Vermont and that its principal place of business is Windsor. Under its charter the defendant corporation has been carrying on a retail mercantile business. The bill further alleges that under the provisions of the corporation tax law it became necessary for the firm to file statements of the indebtedness of the corporation and its subsidiaries as to all departments of its business, and pay a tax of one per cent upon the entire net income over $5000.

The bill states that the orator further believes that the provisions of the tax on corporations requiring the filing of such statements are null and void, and the requirements of the law are burdens upon the charter granted by the state of Vermont, and are a tax upon a function of sovereignty belonging to the state of Vermont which was never agreed to either expressly or by invocation by the state or by its people when Vermont was admitted as a state into the Union.

It is alleged that the said acts of congress are in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution, as under the provisions of the law the defendant corporation will be deprived of its property without compensation, and the privacy of its affairs will be largely destroyed, and that its chief competitor and all other persons will be able to gain an intimate knowledge of its affairs and its trade secrets, and the assessment it made will be laid upon the defendant corporation and not upon its chief competitor.

It is alleged that the provisions of the act are unconstitutional, in that the private property of the defendant corporation will be taken, that it is a violation of the fourth amendment to the constitution and violates the right of the defendant corporation to be secure in its records against unreasonable search and seizure, and are burdens to the charter and franchise covered by the state of Vermont.

It is further alleged that the act is a violation of the 10th amendment to the constitution in that the requirements are a tax upon and an interference with the powers of the state of Vermont and other states expressly reserved to grant charters. It is also a violation of the constitution because the so-called special excise tax is in reality a direct tax upon a charter and franchise of the defendant corporation and upon all other corporations, and it is not apportioned among the several states according to their population as required by the constitution. It is alleged.

It is asked that the provisions of the act of congress be declared as unconstitutional and that the defendant be restrained from complying with the provisions of the said act.

LADY CONSTANCE MADE HER DEBUT IN VAUDEVILLE IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Lady Constance Stewart Richardson made her appearance as the latest recruit to the vaudeville stage at the Palace theatre last night and gave several dances to music by Grig, Tschukowsky and Waldteufel, and has greatly advanced in her dancing since she gave an exhibition in New York.

She wore a short Greek tunic, apparently made of a single piece of filmy material through which the flesh was plainly visible. In fact, the costume is described as the most daring ever seen on the English stage.

Lady Constance's friends had gathered in force, and after her last dance she gave a polka in which there was much more grace and movement than in the other selections and which was encored. She got a number of handsome floral tributes, one of them standing as high as herself.

Man Given Sentence of Two Years

LAWRENCE, Jan. 18.—Owing to lack of quarters in the Salem court house for January term of the superior court, the trial of a woman charged with the murder of her husband was postponed until this city yesterday with Judge Raymond presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Robert B. Fisher of Methuen. William J. Casey pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of a watch from James F. Buckley in Haverhill, Nov. 12, and was sentenced to two years in the house of correction.

Michael Burke was charged with robbery in this city. It was alleged that he knocked Cornelius Carroll down Aug. 19 and stole a watch and chain. It was shown that the defendant sold the watch, but claimed that he was selling for a customer. Carroll did not fully identify him as his assailant and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Sentences aggregating three months were reaffirmed in the three charges of shoplifting just before Christmas brought against Fanny Roberts and Mary Kealey. Robert Goodall did not say she came to Boston from Baltimore about six weeks ago.

Mary Rooney and Rose Carpenter of this city, charged with misconduct, were sent to the woman's reformatory. David Gravel, Roy Messer and Thomas Darnel, charged with breaking and entering in this city, were placed on probation.

Mary Orlowsky of Haverhill, charged with concealing the death of a child, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Daniel Spennell pleaded guilty to charges of assault on Robert Goodall and on John and entering Robert Goodall of Andover, denied his guilt of a statutory offence.

HIGH ST. CHURCH

ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT THE VESTRY LAST NIGHT

The High Street Congregational church vestry was the scene last night of the annual parish meeting of the church and society. Rev. A. C. Forrin presided. At the church meeting Albert J. Bacheller was chosen clerk; Haven G. Hill, treasurer; Frederick R. Woodward, deacon; in place of the late Deacon F. N. Chase, and Carl D. Burtt, superintendent of the Sunday school, with Dr. Victor E. Darling as assistant. The Sunday school committee chosen was Robert Goodall, Mrs. C. G. Ober, Mrs. E. T. Jones and F. R. Woodward. Representatives of the stock were elected, including H. Kirke White, Joseph Peabody, F. R. Woodward and W. H. G. Wight. Delegates to the Andover Association of Congregational Churches and to the Andover conference were chosen: Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. A. C. Forrin, Robert L. Read, Charles Morse and Joseph Peabody and E. P. Clark.

At the society meeting W. H. G. Wight was chosen moderator, and Henry W. Barnes was elected clerk. The auditors chosen are J. Harry Boardman and Robert F. Marden.

The prudential committee, on the part of the society, is to consist of Nelson D. Keables, H. Kirke White and H. F. Marden, and on the part of the church, C. H. Nelson, John L. Robertson, Haven G. Hill and Carl D. Burtt.

Two members of the music committee were elected as follows: Miss Edith Stolt and Dr. V. E. Darling. The report of the treasurer, C. W. Whidden, was ordered printed for distribution at the annual supper to be held next Thursday evening, and Mr. Whidden was re-elected treasurer of the society. Treasurer Hill of the church presented his report to the church meeting in detail, and it was accepted. Haven G. Hill was elected collector of the society.

WOMAN THE CAUSE OF NEW-HALL'S DOWNFALL

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—George F. Newhall of Somerville, who had been confidential clerk in the employ of Henry S. Brown & Co. of Mill street, was sentenced to state prison for a term of three to five years by Judge Wait in an indictment accusing him of forgery of checks and uttering the same. He pleaded guilty to three counts of each. The indictment contained 96 counts. The amount alleged to have been taken is about $15,000.

Newhall received $15 a week and handled large sums of money. A woman is said to have exerted an evil influence over Newhall. She threatened to expose his wrongdoing if he did not give her large sums weekly.

LOUIS PAULHAN

FAILED TO EQUAL FARMAN DISTANCE RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—Louis Paulhan, because of a leak in the fuel tank of his aeroplane yesterday failed to come anywhere near the Farmman distance record of 144 miles. After covering 75.6 miles he quit, asserting that today he would exceed Farmman's record if weather conditions prevailed.

Paulhan remained in the air one hour, 58 minutes and 27 2-5 seconds. He would have had to remain in the air two hours longer to beat Farmman's record for sustained flight.

Hamilton was in the air at the same time trying for the record. He sailed below Paulhan, who was soaring 300 feet high. After Hamilton had covered the course 11 times he was forced to descend by shifting of some mechanism.

Curtiss went out to beat his own record for 10 laps round the course. He succeeded, making the trip in 23.04 2-5. His fastest lap was made in 2.15, not a record. Paulhan tried to beat Curtiss in his 10 lap race but his time was 25.05 1-5.

The day was clear and an immense crowd was out.

President Cortland F. Bishop of the Aero Club of America, received telegrams yesterday from Germany and France, containing challenges for balloon flights for duration and altitude during 1910, also a challenge from France for a contest to decide the ownership of the speed aviation cup won by Glenn H. Curtiss at Rheims.

SUBWAY FRANCHISES REPEALED

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—The subway franchises, passed as almost the last act of Tom L. Johnson's administration as mayor, were repealed last night by the city council on a strict party vote. The scheme for a $75,000,000 subway system was voted down by the people in November, but the franchises in slightly altered form were passed again by the Johnson administration.

THE WARNETTAS

HELD MEETING AT THE HOME OF CHARLES MONETTE

The Warnetta club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Chas. Monette, 49 Alken avenue, Sunday afternoon, with all the members present. Considerable routine business was transacted. The application for membership of Fred Comerford was favorably acted upon.

The feature of the meeting was an address on the welfare of the club by John F. Gallagher. Mr. Gallagher spoke interestingly and was accorded a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address. Refreshments were served.

"BUSH ACT" INVALID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The "bush act" of the state of Kansas, which sought to compel outside corporations to pay a charter fee for the benefit of the state schools as a condition of doing business in that state, is held invalid by the supreme court of the United States in a decision by a divided court announced yesterday. The case was that of the Western Union Telegraph Co., plaintiff in error, vs. the state of Kansas, on the relation of C. C. Coleman, attorney-general. The Western Union sought to have the law on the grounds of acquired rights, and that the law was unconstitutional as seeking to impose a burden upon interstate commerce.

TO DOCTORS OF LOWELL

WE believe you will be interested in knowing that you have right here in Lowell a modern, well equipped drug store whose business is and always will be legitimate pharmacy, and whose endeavors will be to serve you and your patients in the most satisfactory manner possible.

PROMPT SERVICE—We will have fully as large an assortment of crude drugs chemicals and pharmaceutical preparations as are carried in our Boston stores. Chemicals used unless otherwise specified, will be Squibb's and Merck's. Also an excellent variety of specialties, pills and tablets from such concerns as Wyeth, Parke Davis, Schieffelin, Wampole, Fraser and others. This will insure prompt compounding of prescriptions.

QUALITY AND PURITY—All the U. S. P. and National Formulary preparations are manufactured in our own modern laboratory at 50 Washington street, Boston. All drugs and chemicals before being put on sale in our stores are subjected to strict tests in our analytical laboratory, and rejected if not fully up to standard. That insures pure, active drugs.

FRESH STOCK—Bearing in mind our immense output through 27 retail stores, it is impossible for anything to become old. Our stock is turned over four to six times oftener than that in the average drug store. You are sure that our drugs, being fresh, are potent and will produce desired results.

ACCURACY—Never under any conditions is anyone but a registered pharmacist permitted to have anything to do with the handling of drugs or prescriptions, and our system of checking has proven a successful safeguard against errors in our Boston stores for the past 26 years.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION—Is given to our stock of rubber goods and sick room and hospital supplies. All the articles usually to be found in drug stores can be seen here in greater variety. We carry hundreds of appliances that have never been stocked in a local drug store. We shall be pleased to send you our little booklet, illustrating a few articles in this department, or shall take great pleasure in showing you anything that might be of interest if you will kindly call on us.

REASONABLE PRICES—By reason of our large business, we are able to obtain many concessions and advantages from manufacturers, and following our general policy by selling everything at the smallest possible margin to obtain the largest volume of business, we are in a position to save your patients on all drug store goods. Physicians who have the interests of their patients in mind will consider this argument seriously.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Plotté, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

Don't be misled into the belief that there is going to be a serious investigation of the Middlesex county ring. Nothing of the kind can ever happen. The ring would not permit it.

They do say that they are to have a new railway station in Salem. Well, let us hope so. We do not know at this distance whether Salem needs a new mayor, a new chief of police or a new city government, but we can bear solemn testimony, after careful observation of that old ark at the end of the tunnel, that Salem does need a new railway station, and we hope she will get one.

We should judge from the comments in the English press that there is a cloud in the East which portends serious trouble for the "fight little island." England has troubles enough at home, to be sure, but if the great war cloud that is gathering in India means anything, it means that there is a crisis at hand which may shake the British empire to its very foundation. India is waking up, and every lover of freedom is glad of it.

The republican party is forever prating about its intention to revise the tariff downward, but no sensible American citizen believes a word of it. The long and the short of the whole matter is that the republican party cannot make a reduction in the tariff without wiping itself out of existence. It is upon the inequities of the tariff law that the party has thrived, and to take away their only source of political sustenance would surely result in a sudden collapse of the party. The G. O. P. will not commit political suicide if it knows it.

Already they are beginning to run up against some serious snags in considering the constitutional amendment which is intended to legalize the collection of a federal income tax upon all sources of income. Our law makers have suddenly discovered that their recent legislation exempting town, city and state bonds from taxation would be nullified if they approved the collection of an income tax. The state has already sanctioned the issuance of non-taxable bonds, and if it should now be a party to taking away that right the action might result in numerous law suits against the commonwealth by investors who would refuse to pay either the state or the federal tax. The situation might then become perplexing if not disastrous. In levying an income tax there should be some discretion and the exercise of a little common sense to prevent the hardships of unjust or double taxation. It might be well for the framers of the federal law to try again.

HOW PRICES ARE RAISED.

It is perfectly natural for people to rejoice when their own wages are raised, but we cannot confine all the good things to ourselves. When wages in one industry are increased it is necessary sooner or later to increase the wages in all other industries in order to level things up. So it is in raising the price of the products of any particular industry. To increase the price of our own productions without being willing to pay an increased price for the products of others, which is the raw material we consume, is both unreasonable and impracticable.

It so happens that the finished product of one industry becomes the raw material of another. If the wood-workers receive an increase in wages and thereby increase the price of their product, which is the raw material of the carpenter and builder, they must expect an increase in the cost of building and in the end an increase in rents.

The wire man and the hardware manufacturers finding that they have to pay more for steel and iron increase the price of their output, and the result is that the hardware and the wiring necessary for various purposes is increased, all of which adds to the expense of every industry using these products. When the wages of the iron workers are raised the result is an increase in price of their products, such as iron pipe, structural iron, steel rails, etc. Their product becomes the raw material of the plumber, the railway man, the builder and others, and so we find an increase in the cost of plumbing and piping, as well as an increase in freight rates throughout the country.

The railroad employee is delighted when he gets an increase in wages, but he grumbles when he finds that he has been the cause of an increase in the cost of transportation, and when his coal goes up 50 cents a ton he fails sometimes to see the equity of the situation.

The farmer is anxious to get a big price for his products. He sells his grain, his vegetables, his beef and other farm products at an increased price, and he wears a broad smile until he finds that he has been one of the prime causes of increasing the cost of living, and as a result wages in the various industries are increased, which increases the cost of the finished product of these industries. When he is called upon to pay more for farm machinery, and more for his clothing, shoes and household supplies which he does not produce, he grumbles and says that the country is going to the dogs.

But it all resolves itself into a simple problem of economics. We depend upon one another in the various industries, and we cannot bestow the good things upon any industry without distributing the burdens as well. If the price of any necessary material goes up we are compelled as a consequence to find more money to conduct our business and pay our increased expenses. The only way is to raise the price of the articles which we produce. In this way the whole thing is levelled up so that it practically brings us almost back to where we started. The amount of money which a person receives for wages or material can only be measured by the amount of labor and material and the necessities of life that he can get as a result of his efforts. All this brings forcibly to mind the oft quoted saying of the late Jay Gould to those who seemed to envy him the possession of great wealth. "My good man," Gould would say, "all I get out of this whole thing is my board and clothes, and you are getting just as much in your own way. The only difference is that I am not contented and you are; therefore, you are a mile ahead of me. Good day, sir."

SEEN AND HEARD

"Take off your hat!" Rude men behind her cried. And she (just think of it) complied; But they were still unsatisfied, And yelled with their mouths opened wide, "Take off your rat!"

It isn't death that scares men: It is the suffering and neglect that precedes it.

When a man's fool streak is in control and he makes up his mind to write a letter, the ink pot is never empty and the pen is always in perfect repair.

A good many people who believe they are indignantly protesting against sin are really gossiping.

The man who hasn't sand enough to refuse a leap year proposal deserves the kind of wife he will get.

You can always tell which way an electric car is going, but you never can tell which way the automobile worm will turn.

"He whose ideals are clean, sincere, kindly, and earnest will become what he seeks."

Do all the good you can and make as little fuss about it as possible.—Dickens.

"The first condition of an inner life is that we should leave time for silence and reflection. The soul's vision clears when the golden gates of its inner life are closely shut upon the outside world."

BE USEFUL

Be useful where thou livest, that they may both want and wish thy pleasing presence still.

Kindness, good parts, great places are the way.

To compass this. Find out men's wants and will. And meet them there. All worldly joys go less.

To the one joy of doing kindnesses.—Herbert.

"There is a beautiful and an ugly way in which to say almost everything, and happiness depends upon which way we take. You can upset a person for the whole day by the harsh way in which you may call him in the morning, or you may give him a beautiful start by the cheerfulness of your greeting. So not only in words but in all the little, common courtesies and duties of life, think of the beautiful way of doing each."

Scores of women have started savings accounts in the First National bank of Englewood, a Chicago suburb, with money taken from the pockets of their sleeping husbands. The impetus in this direction is said to have been given by the following paragraph, which appeared in Savings, a monthly publication issued by the bank itself: "One woman's method of saving

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Daniel Whalen of 24 Seaver street, Charlestown, a motorman employed by the Boston elevated railway company was killed yesterday while he was trying to stop the horses of engine 32 on their way to a fire. He was walking on Main street, Charlestown, during his dinner hour, when the engine came along. The traces of the leaders in the four horse hitch were loose and destined on the ground and the driver lost control. Motorman Whalen jumped from the sidewalk as the horses passed him and caught the reins. Just as he straightened himself he slipped in the snow and fell. His clinging to the reins and was dragged a short distance. The rear horse trampled on him and the engine wheel passed over his body. Patrolman Crowley of division 15, who saw the accident, went to Whalen's assistance and carried him to the sidewalk. The injured man was sent to the hospital, but died before arrival and his body was removed to the morgue. The engine, after the accident, proceeded to the fire, which was in the barn of Barney Price on Myrtle avenue, Somerville. Alderman W. J. Smith and Bernard Higgins, a Somerville city employee, rescued a horse. The loss was about $1000.

PRISONER SAYS HE HAS NO USE FOR MONEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—J. Edward Boeck, who is serving a term of six years in Sing Sing prison for a $250,000 jewelry swindle, learned Sunday that he is heir to a fortune of $1,000,000, left to him by his miser uncle. When Boeck was told of the inheritance he became agitated at first, but his face soon resumed the neutral expression of a man who has no more use for the money than the man who is dead. The millionaire prisoner is a highly educated man, a great traveler, an art connoisseur and a jewel expert. He numbered J. Pierpont Morgan, ex-governor Claiborne, the Guzenhains and other men of wealth among his acquaintances before the arm of the law reached him. He also claimed acquaintance with royalty. Boeck referred to his inheritance as his "misfortune" and said that the four years to serve he has no more use for the money than the man who is dead.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The people who have had work done at the BAY STATE DYE WORKS and have not called for their property should call at once as I will not be responsible after thirty days from this date. There are many parcels on the premises that have been here for several weeks and I desire to have the room cleared out. A warning to the wise should be sufficient and now is a good time to bring in your spring work and thereby avoid the rush later on. We can always do better when we are not rushed. Leave your order now at the

HATHAWAY THEATRE

"One of the best, if not the very best show of the season," was the almost unanimous verdict of those who attended either the afternoon or evening performance at Hathaway's theatre yesterday. From our own personal viewpoint the bill is exceptionally good. The high class program is headed by Shep Camp and his Fly-by-Night Minstrels. This is one of the sprightliest, gayest and merriest musicals ever seen in vaudeville in this city. It is a musical comedy in two scenes and there isn't a dull moment from the start to the finish. A feature of the act is "waking up" on the stage, and the character of the music is delightfully tuneful. A real minstrel first part is introduced and it is studded with topical songs and ballads and all else that goes with it. There are twelve people in the cast, including the celebrated Trocadero quartet. The Jolly Minstrels are headed in court for a parade and a permit and then the fun begins. The judge, "Judge Silas Knox," is a comical old soul, and the things that happen are too funny for anything.

Chas. B. Lawlor and his two charming daughters, Mabel and Alice, were highly applauded immediately upon their appearance. They have been here before and their appearance at both performances yesterday took on the form of an ovation. Their act is called "Night and Day on the Sidewalks of New York." There is no gaudy acting, the fact that the Lawlors were allowed the major portion of the applause yesterday, and they deserved all they got. It was one of the cleanest and prettiest acts in vaudeville. First as Italian girls the sisters appear. Mr. Lawlor coming into the scene with a stuffed monkey and a hand organ. Later the sisters show up as street gamins and

For the first time this season motion pictures were seen at the Opera House last evening. The display, however, was not of the ordinary character, but a series that was very interesting and edifying. The presentation is under the management of Lyman H. Howe and the exhibition was of a capable manner. The list shown was of a grand variety. Those taken at the Rheims aviation meet last fall were well produced. The monoplane of Blériot and the other airships of the Count de Lambert, Farman, Curtiss and others, as well as the mammoth dirigible of Count Zeppelin. This was one of the longest films, and if Lowell residents haven't seen real airships some of them have seen authentic moving pictures of them. This was one of the best films shown.

The dash for the "frozen north" was of much contemporary interest. Some of them looked as if they were taken in Lapland, while others might have been run off in Greenland, Iceland, or even Labrador. They were of much interest and, as aforesaid, decidedly interesting. The casting of a 12 inch gun in one of the big steel foundries of Pittsburgh furnished considerable of education, while the trips through the Rockies on a freight train and the scenes in a northwestern logging camp were good. Winter sports in Canada, showed sliding, skating, tobogganing, waiting on ice, snow shoeing and the building of the ice palace in Montreal. Then there were films showing the cutting of ice on the St. Lawrence river, the feeding of tons and a champagne party. ISRAEL
Henry Bernstein, the talented author of "The Thief" and "Samson" has divided his new play, "Israel," which for two months has been the dramatic sensation of the year at the Criterion theatre, New York, into three acts. The first of these acts is placed in the laughing room of a Royal club. The setting is typical and faithful in its reproduction and here are assembled a number of young Frenchmen

THE GIRL FROM RECTORS'

Nell Brinkley, in the New York Evening Journal, declares the gowns worn by the young woman in "The Girl from Rectors'" to be the prettiest she has ever seen on the stage.

There are many mighty scrumptious frocks, said the famous critic and writer, "in 'The Girl from Rectors'." One is a faring rose color, with a startling fanfare of pink buttons; hopping down the sleeves and clear from the wearer's shoulder, till they are submerged in her train. With it goes a whopping big black hat like a turned-up-side-down butter tub of nut, with a big willow plume flattened on its top, and two gallant gilded feathers crooking back over it like golden tongues.

Another is a yellow one, the color of ripened wheat, all glittery and glisteny and curvy, laced across the sides, from under her arms to her feet, with golden braid and yellow stones, and big stones on thin hair chains swinging from her ears like pendulums.

"The pretty little wife in the story wears a little blue frock as winsome as a baby's dress; faint blue chiffon cloth, with white buttons, and a white waist, long tailored skirt, and a big square, homed width of the cloth folded across the back and let hang in deep folds.

"And a little coat, too—a bulle little coat. Little broadcloth, with a great staring black fur collar and cuffs, and the skirt is a little black, with a shoulder blades, and two in front—just the glazing white and the great black spots. And a little 'ood (the little heart cracking theatre hoods that the Bettinas are wearing to the theatre) of gold-bliss blue, tied under her red gold hair by the blue, with her ear, with a bow as big as cabbage.

"And then the big, smiling, yellow haired lady's pale pink and white 'linerie. Like ice cream, that was! Cream purple and raspberry loe!"

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The friends of Miss Helen Pingree turned out in full force to see her in her dainty little sketch, "The Girl and the Coach," at the Academy yesterday, and the chances are that the capacity of that theatre will be taxed as well as she remains. Her support is excellent, and the sketch is one that appeals to all. Miss Dot Davenport is also on the bill, and Mr. Dan McCaffrey is singing the illustrated songs. New moving pictures complete the bill. Amateur night, Wednesday. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

THEATRE VOYONS

The Pathe film d'art production of "Camille," shown at the Theatre Voyons today, is one of the notable pictures of the year. The leading role is played by an Italian actress, the star of the Theatre Du Rome, and she is without a doubt the handsomest woman who ever played the role. Her costumes are many and every one is beautiful. Her acting is as perfect as her appearance. There is an excellent comedy drama and two really laughable comedies, besides the star picture. The musical portion of the program is much different than the ordinary run, a violin being added to the orchestra and four appear in the vocal sections.

STAR THEATRE

"Ride a mule for $500, why sure." With this remark a young man jumped upon the stage at the Star theatre and tried to mount Bessie, the unruly mule, that appears with Torrell's pony and dog circus. He was pitched to every corner of the stage by the mule, while the spectators laughed from the moment he attempted the difficult stunt. However some Lowell boy will ride Bessie yet. The dogs and ponies display almost human intelligence and perform wonderful tricks. It is the highest priced act in vaudeville, but the audience remains at five cents.

MRS. GRAHAM DEAD

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Margaret Collier Graham, the author and magazine writer, died at her home here yesterday, aged 62 years.

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Nicholas Monsarrat of Columbus, O., president of the Rocking Horse Valley railroad who was hurt in a taxicab accident here last night and taken to a hospital was still suffering severely today from his painful but not dangerous illness. His medical attendants said he would probably be all right in the course of three or four days.

A Mystery Solved

Eczema Not a Blood Disease—New Remedy for Every Skin Trouble

For years the medical profession has been seeking a cure for Eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was a result of indigestion. It remained for one tedious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in all its forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist experimented with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to millions of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped immediately. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest as soon as Cadum is used, and in ordinary cases a complete restoration of the skin to a healthy condition is reached in two or three weeks. The soothing, healing effects of Cadum are almost instantaneous. Cadum is sold at all druggists. Trial box 10c; large box 25c. The small box is sufficient for trial purposes, and may be used not only for eczema in all its forms, but also for hives, pimples, blotches, freckles, itchy, acne, herpes, scaly skin, rash, corns, ringworm, chafing, eruptions, sores, scabs, itching, piles, scurvy, etc.

CLOSE CONTESTS

Looked for in British Elections
to be Decided Today

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The radical coalition fought more on the defensive today than heretofore as of the 28 seats for which polling was in progress they held all but ten in the last parliament. The front bench politicians whose fates were decided today were Winston Spencer Churchill for Dundee; Sydney C. Buxton for the Poplar division of Tower Hamlets; Walter Runciman for Dewsbury; Sir William Snowden, Robson for South Shields; Liberals; and Alfred Lyttleton for St. Georges, Hanover square, the former conservative minister. All of these appeared certain of re-election. The representation for Bermondsey, where John Humphreys scored a sensational victory in the by-election of October last, was also in the melting pot, and as Humphreys this time met an undivided opposition the seat quite likely has reverted to Liberalism.

Immense interest attaches to the balloting at Liverpool where nine divisions are polling today. T. P. O'Connor, nationalist for the Scotland division, is regarded as invincible. F. E. Smith, tariff reform stalwart, was having a hard fight in the Valton division while the unionists talk of defeating the Right Hon. J. E. B. Seely, under secretary for the colonies in the Abercromby division.

With the exception of five seats London completed its election with fourteen contests today.

J. Kier Hardie, labor candidate for Morfhyr Tydvil, was among the interesting personalities whose anxieties were over today.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Complete returns from yesterday's election for members of parliament make the standing of the parties as follows:

Government coalition: Liberals 70, laborites 17, Irish nationalists 18.

Opposition: Unionists 96, net unionist gain 30.

SUES FOR $20,000 $20,000 VERDICT

Woman Injured by Fall

HAVERHILL, Jan. 18.—Ellen J. Leighton of this city brought suit to recover $20,000 for injuries received in Lawrence last September when, as she was crossing the planks covering a sidewalk at the crossing of Melgas avenue, the planks tipped up, throwing her to the sidewalk, where she struck on her back and head.

She was picked up unconscious, brought to her home in this city and lay in a comatose condition for several weeks. The attending physicians consider her injuries permanent. One of her suits is against the city of Lawrence for $10,000 and a second suit for a similar amount is against the paving company that was building the sidewalks.

Angelo Mazza of this city has sued the city of Haverhill to recover $10,000 for the loss of his left eye. Mazza was an employee of the water works and while at work relaying pipes near Dustin square last September a piece of a steel chisel broke off and struck him in the left eye, destroying the sight.

Two other suits instituted yesterday follow the double burning accident on Rose avenue March 26, 1909, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Quimby were fatally burned. The suits are brought against the Boston Mutual Life insurance company by Charles A. Quimby, administrator of the estate of his wife, and mother and each is for $500, the amount of the policy. The life insurance company is said to have refused to pay the death benefits.

Two local accident cases were entered yesterday in the civil list of the local district court, one by Barney Premack, who sues a box company following the loss of two fingers in a machine, for which he asks $1000, and the other against a counter company for $500 in behalf of David A. Martin, who wants damages for the loss of three fingers in a machine, the accidents having occurred in August and March last year.

BOSTON RECLUSE

Portland Child

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.—The "Mrs." Julia A. Tuttle, to whom George Silver, a Boston suicide, left two letters, proves to be Miss Julia A. Tuttle, a 13-year-old Portland girl, who lives at 120 Forest avenue. She is made the recipient of his property, funds in four Boston banks to the amount of $7550.

Mr. Silver visited Portland last summer and met the child and took a great fancy to her. Her mother is an invalid, and he asked permission to help on the expenses and also fitted her out with fine garments. He remarked that he had known exceedingly homesome since his wife died. During his stay he treated her as a father would his daughter.

There is an idea that she reminded him of a little daughter he lost.

BANK TELLER ARRESTED

RACING MAN DEAD

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 18.—After a lingering illness from tuberculosis G. B. Sinclair, well known racing man, in recent years prominent in ownership of Canadian track enterprises, died at his home here yesterday.

Returned in Favor of a Widow

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 18.—A jury in the supreme court, after being out for six days, yesterday brought in a verdict for $20,000 in favor of Mrs. Frances Duryea against Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati, the father of the Duchess of Manchester, and M. C. Armon, William C. Herron and Daniel B. McLaughlin, all New York brokers, and Adelaide H. Brown, executrix of the estate of Archer Brown.

The action was originally brought by William Duryea, a New York clubman, who alleged that $20,000 worth of stocks he had purchased were worthless. He got a verdict of $16,000, which was set aside. Mr. Duryea died and his widow continued the action.

MILLS ESTATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The will of the late D. Ogden Mills of New York, disposed of his large estate by division equally between his son and daughter, Ogden Mills and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the ambassador.

The sum of $100,000, however, is directed to be paid to institutions before the division of the estate. The Metropolitan museum or art, the American museum of natural history, and the home for incurables in this city are bequeathed $100,000 each. The sum of $50,000 is left to the New York botanical gardens, and to the American geographical society, and the American National Red Cross, $25,000 each.

Ogden Mills and Mrs. Reid are appointed executors of the will, which was made on Dec. 4, 1908. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid was named as an executor in case of the death of his wife before the death of the testator. The value of the estate is not indicated in the document filed for probate here yesterday.

BURNED TO DEATH

BABY PLAYED WITH MATCHES—

ITS DRESS CAUGHT FIRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Mrs. James Kearny left her children, Rose, three years old, and James, sixteen months, at play in the kitchen of their home, at No. 63 East One Hundred and Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, and went upstairs to do some cleaning.

After a half hour she heard the baby crying, but did not think it could be anything serious, and not until he began to scream very loudly did she rush downstairs. She found her little daughter lying on the floor of the kitchen, her woolen dress now only a slim of black ash from which smoke was rising.

The frantic mother rushed into the street. Her cries were heard by Policeman Dodd who found that the child was dead.

Little Rose had climbed on a chair and set some matches in her play, she had set fire to the woolen dress that dangled up and soon enveloped her in flames. Her baby brother was clutching a handful of matches when his mother found him.

GIRL STRIKERS

Them Fairly

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Striking shirt makers were today inclined to believe that the arrest of Miss Inez Millholland, the Yassar graduate who has been aiding them in their struggle would help rather than harm their cause.

They claim that Miss Millholland was unjustly apprehended and cite Mayor Gaynor's opposition, expressed to two of their number who called on him yesterday, that the police possibly are too drastic in their treatment of the strikers.

Miss Millholland and Lent. Henry Torney, a West Pointer and former football star, her companion, who was arrested with her, were arraigned today. Simultaneously the strike leaders met and declared confidence in victory.

GREEKS

Protest Against Taxation by Home Government

Proposition to Enforce a Per Capita Tax of $12 Against All Greeks in the United States, Under Penalty of Perpetual Exile and Discrimination by Greek Consuls and Agents in This Country

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A formal protest against the proposed tax of $12 a year on every Greek resident of the United States is being framed by a committee from 50,000 Greeks in New York and will be joined in, it is expected, by the 200,000 other Greeks in this country.

Urged by Lambro A. Coromilas, Greek minister at Washington, it is understood here that the Greek government is about to instruct all of its consuls and agents in this country to issue what are to be known as residential certificates to all Greeks resident here. The fee to be collected for such a certificate is $12, and it must be renewed every year. Those who refuse to buy residential certificates will be barred from any help from the consuls in regard to passports or aid of any kind. That means they can never visit their native land.

The money so collected is to be turned over to the Pan-Hellenic union of the Greeks in this country with headquarters in Boston, and after defraying that organization's expenses the balance is to go to the Greek treasury at Athens.

The Greeks here have held several mass meetings in protest against the proposed tax which is expected to raise more than $2,500,000 a year, and Greeks all over the country are joining the movement of protest.

PROFIT OF $30 WERE PAID $500 A CLEVER SCHEME

On Each Woman Sold

PROFIT OF $30
RIGA, Russia, Thursday, Jan. 6.—The office of an international "white slave" agency here have been raided by the police on information from Copenhagen where "young Russian girls" who answered advertisements for young women to work as dairy maids had been sent. Only one of the white slaves was arrested, the others having taken warning but documents were seized showing an average profit of $30 on each woman successfully placed in Europe or America.

SPEAKER CANNON

May Not be a Candidate
Again

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Looking behind the formal announcement of Rep. Deikema of Michigan that he would be a candidate for the speakership of the house to succeed Uncle Joe Cannon, many members of congress attach to the move more political significance than ordinarily would involve in the mere ambition of one member to wield the huge gavel. The fact that Mr. Deikema, recognized as a supporter of the republican organization in the house, should come out at this time and the further fact that friends of Rep. Smith of Iowa say that he will be a candidate, are interpreted by many members to indicate that Mr. Cannon will take steps to make the race a free-for-all before the close of the present session.

THE BOOTT MILLS

Edward W. Thomas is Appointed Agent

Mr. Edward W. Thomas has been appointed agent of the Boott mills. Mr. Thomas was for many years agent of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and is more than well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed. It is understood that he will assume his duties at once. He takes the position made vacant by the death of John J. Whitten, a Manchester man, who had been agent of the Boott mills for the past two or more years.

GLINN CURTISS

San Diego

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—If good conditions prevail today Glenn Curtiss will attempt the feat of an aeroplane flight from here to San Diego. The people of San Diego have offered a purse of $5000 for the flight. The distance is 98 miles by air line. If Curtiss makes it it will be the first time so far as known that a man has flown between two cities so far apart. It is an extremely hazardous undertaking however as the aviator will be compelled to cross a range of mountains or will have to fly over the Pacific ocean for nearly the entire distance.

TO MURDER BRIDE

Her Into a Well

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 18.—Charged with the attempted murder of his bride of three days, Joseph Marock, a young Pole, is held in jail here under $25,000 bail. In an adjoining cell is his partner in the alleged crime, Bartol Laski. Both men were captured early yesterday morning when they tried to claim the bride's trunk with a baggage check at the Springfield (Mass.) station at the New Haven railroad.

The bride, who was Annie Muscol, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., occupies a cot at St. Vincent's hospital. She is still suffering from the ten hours which she spent in the icy waters of a deep well on the estate of James Robinson, near Fairfield, Conn. She declares that the two men, after robbing her of her pocket-book, threw her into the well.

A woman of ordinary strength could not have lived through the long night in the well. But Mrs. Marock is unusually strong from seven years of heavy housework in the Massachusetts village. She was only partially submerged, and an earlier frost had given the well a coating of ice a few feet below the present surface of the water.

The Marocks arrived in Bridgeport early Saturday morning. The husband left her in the station while he went to look for a friend who was supposed to be on a farm near this place. He returned at dusk and took her to Fairfield by train. There they met Laski, and the three set out through the drifts.

When they arrived at a lonely stretch of road Mrs. Marock was struck down from behind, and thrown into the well. She was discovered Sunday morning when James Ferris who is in charge of the Robinson estate, came to examine the well. Ferris and his son succeeded in getting her out with an improvised derrick and she was brought to the hospital in an automobile.

THIRTY STATES

ernors' Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Governors from thirty states of the union, gathered in the national capital to discuss problems of state and national interest, opened their three days' session today. Gov. Wilson of Kentucky, chairman of the committee on arrangements, was in the chair. In a brief introductory speech he referred to the first conference of state heads, invited in May, 1908, by President Roosevelt to meet in the White House. This year's conference is on the governor's own initiative. Gov. Wilson declared that in his opinion no better means of devising uniform state legislation could have been found than for the chief executives of the states to come together and in a friendly way talk over the questions in which they all were interested.

AGAINST SMALLPOX

Supt. Lees Plans to Prevent the Disease Coming From Wakefield

Members of the local board of health and Supt. Lees of the Boston & Northern were in conference yesterday afternoon and discussed plans to minimize the danger of a smallpox outbreak in this city. Wakefield is in the throes of a smallpox epidemic and while Lowell hasn't anything against Wakefield, she considers that the town is in too close proximity for comfort, at the present time and the greatest precautions are necessary.

Wakefield is on the line of the Boston electric which enter and leave Lowell every half hour and just for that there is cause for alarm. When it was first reported that smallpox had appeared in Wakefield the local board of health began to plan against its invasion here and the very first thing the board did was to see that the smallpox hospital in Chelmsford street was made ready for service at a moment's notice.

When the board sought Supt. Lees yesterday they found him ready and willing to do all in his power to protect Lowell. It was decided that all cars on this line, at the close of the day's trips, should be fumigated and sealed for the night. It was also decided to use disinfectant in the waiting room in Merrimack square as a further preventive.

SEVEN DEPUTIES HELD IN $7500

Guard Rockefeller, the Oil King

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 18.—On the request of John D. Rockefeller, Sheriff Scherp of White Plains yesterday appointed seven men on his large country estate at Pocantico Hills to be deputy sheriffs.

Mr. Rockefeller, it is said, since his life was threatened some time ago, has been almost constantly surrounded by a guard, and the action of the sheriff gives his employees the authority to carry arms and make arrests.

Their jurisdiction, however, is to be confined to the Rockefeller premises. It is said that most of the men who have been deputized to guard Mr. Rockefeller are old-time secret service agents, who are employed about the place ostensibly as chauffeurs, grocers, gardeners and attendants.

They are constantly on duty, and before any stranger can approach the home of the oil king they find out who he is and the exact nature of his business.

$10,000 WANTED

FOR THE PURCHASE OF GAME BIRDS

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The fish and game commission transmitted yesterday its report recommending the rebuilding of the Winchester state hatchery as a centre for the distribution of young trout.

The board recommends that a hatchery be located either in Bristol, Plymouth, Norfolk or Barnstable counties. It figures that the total cost of site, building and equipment will be $27,354.

The board advises no special buildings for propagation of useful game birds and mammals, as nothing is necessary beyond fencing, coops, brooders and incubators. It recommends an appropriation of $10,000 for carrying on the work of propagation, purchase and liberation of game birds.

WM. J. BRYAN

WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESI-DENT AGAIN

OMAHA, Jan. 18.—William J. Bryan will be a candidate for president in 1912. The announcement was made yesterday by the Omaha Bee, which attributes the statement to Richard L. Metcalfe, editor of Mr. Bryan's Commonwealth.

Democratic leaders in Nebraska are to be called to the Commemor office and ordered to work for his nomination. Under no circumstances will Mr. Bryan be a candidate for the United States senate.

Mr. Bryan believes this state will go democratic at the next election and thinks he would be the natural choice of the party for United States senator, but he fears this might injure his chances in the next national campaign, and he will refuse to be a candidate for the lower office.

REV. DR. RICE

OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED OF HIS APPOINTMENT AS BISHOP

WORCESTER, Jan. 18.—The Rev. Dr. Joseph J. Rice, pastor of St. Peter's in Northbridge, has been officially notified of his elevation to the bishopric of Burlington by Pope Pius.

The word of confirmation came from the chancellor of the diocese of Burlington. The formal communication from Rome is expected in about two weeks, and will come first to Mr. Falconio, papal delegate at Washington, and thence will be transferred to Fr. Rice.

Word of the appointment came to the chancellor's office at Burlington from the Vatican.

DR. COOK AT HEIDELBURG

FRANKFURT, Jan. 18.—The Frankfurter Zeitung is informed that Dr. Frederick A. Cook has arranged for a strictly incognito stay at a sanitarium near Heidelberg.

The health of the explorer is represented as having been seriously affected by recent events. The paper makes no explanation as to who made the arrangements referred to, where Cook is now or when he will arrive at the sanitarium.

Expected in Salem When Simon B. Harris Becomes Chief

SALEM, Jan. 18.—It is expected that Simon B. Harris of Lowell will assume charge of the police department on Thursday. Mayor Howard will nominate Mr. Harris for city marshal at the meeting of the aldermen this evening and it is reasonably certain that a majority at least will confirm the nomination.

Mr. Harris is well known to many citizens here and is highly spoken of by all. Col. John W. Hart, for 25 years city marshal of this city, says Mr. Harris will make a splendid official. Policemen stated last evening that they knew Mr. Harris and were satisfied that he would make a good executive officer.

All classes are aroused over the allegations made by Mayor Howard relative to the conditions in hotels that hold inholders' licenses. His direct statement that he saw a boy under the influence of liquor borrow money from a chum for the purpose of purchasing liquor has deeply stirred the parents of Salem.

The license commissioners will hold a meeting in the city hall at 8 o'clock this evening to consider the charges made by the mayor. The license commissioners are greatly stirred over the situation and it is known that a majority at least will insist on a strict enforcement of the law.

Inholders Warned

Just before the recent municipal election the license commissioners, in response to numerous complaints, submitted requests to the several inholders not to sell liquor to men and women in apartments other than those regularly used for serving food. This request, said one of the commissioners last evening, was to give inholders an opportunity to live within the law.

Hart the requests being heeded, says the commissioner, no opportunity would have been afforded the mayor or any one else to observe scenes depicted by Mayor Howard in his visitations Saturday night. It is known that the

LIFE OF A PIMPLE

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble

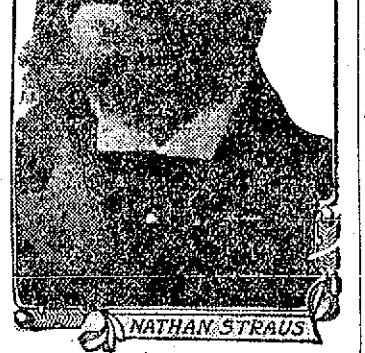

The dispensers of poslam, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Every one who has tried it knows that the fifty-cent box on sale at Fells & Burdick's, Carter & Sherburne's, and all drug stores, is sufficient to cure the worst cases of eczema, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases, on first application. It will also cure acne, redness, blotches, scaly scalp, hives, hives and every other form of skin trouble, including itching feet. Being flesh-colored and containing no grease, the presence of poslam on exposed surfaces, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of poslam, it can be had free of charge by mail of The Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion overnight, and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

TO BE DIVIDED BETWEEN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 18.—Gifford Pinchot's policy in establishing forest reserves in the West has been greeted by the two states themselves and the national forests have been declared to be bars to progress because they held large tracts of timber in a virgin state, denying to all the opportunity of development. But there is another side to the picture that is not generally understood. This is the revenue accruing to the state where the timber is grown when sales of reserve timber are made to lumbermen.

For example more than $1,000,000 will be divided between Oregon and Washington this year and will be used in building roads and schools throughout the two states as the result of sales of timber on government reserves.

The forestry law provides that 25 per cent. of the stumpage revenue shall go to the state where the forest is cut.

Last year sales from forest reserves in the two states aggregated 130,000,000 feet and the revenue to the two northwest states was over $300,000. Sales of reserve timber are constantly on the increase and this year proposals have been made for the purchase of about 650,000,000 feet. The average price for government stumpage this year is about $2 per thousand. Some cutting will be for more and some less but all will average about this figure. This means the usual 25 per cent. that comes to the two states will bring in a revenue of not less than $1,200,000 from sales already in sight. The total may be increased largely before the year is over.

With the coming years the timber sales from government reserves will largely increase, it is expected, and the consequent funds for state roads and schools will bring in the future. As the money derived from these sales is or direct benefit to all the people of the states where the reserves lie, it cannot be said the location of large tracts of timber by the government that are withheld from private ownership are without benefit to the state.

WANTS MEN WHO KILLED AMERICANS PUNISHED

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 18.—President Madriz has sent a message to the supreme court demanding the bringing to trial of all implicated in the "misadventure of justice," which resulted in the shooting of the Americans, Greco and Cannon. This is believed to indicate that prompt action will be taken against Salvador Selva, the president's attorney in the case; General Medina and possibly Zelaya. Medina is said to have documents exculpating himself and establishing Zelaya's responsibility.

Zelaya has been arrested in Leon, but General Medina is resisting arrest here. He has barricaded his home and has declared that he is ill and in no condition to be removed to Leon.

Warrants have been issued for all the members of the court martial.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

The Liberal Party is Assured of a Majority

LONDON, Jan. 18.—At the conclusion of yesterday's polling in the general elections the parties stood as follows:

Unionists, 57.
Liberals, 92.
Labourists, 18.
Nationalists, 13.

Net gain for the unionists, 29. The government forced much better yesterday than their most ardent supporters expected. The unionists gained 19 seats, the liberals four and the labourists one, making a net gain for the unionists for the day of 14, one less than they gained at fewer elections on Saturday.

This practically assures the return of the liberal party, with a fair majority, for among the places still to poll are those of Scotland and Wales, which are always solidly liberal.

There cannot be said to have been many surprises. John Burns, president of the local government board, would be defeated in the Battersea division of Battersea and Clapham, but pessimism has been present in every election since Burns has been a candidate. He himself never had any doubt as to the result.

Other state officials who were successful in the fight for their seats were Augustus Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and C. E. Hobhouse, financial secretary to the treasury, in Bristol, and Mr. T. J. Macnamara, secretary to the admiralty in Camberwell. Their majorities were considerably reduced.

Majorities Badly Cut

This happened all through the country, the huge majorities secured in 1906 showing big reductions in almost all cases. Indeed, many of the liberals, who became members of the house of commons by the grace of the landslide that year, have been sent back to private life.

Among them is Hannu Greenwood, a Canadian, who represented York and was considered a prominent candidate for high office. Another Canadian, Joseph Martin, ex-premier of British Columbia, was more successful, winning the seat for St. Pancras, east.

Other prominent members defeated included L. G. Chiozza Money, the leader of the free traders, who lost his seat for North Paddington, and Will Crooks, the labor leader for Woolwich. Sir H. Roberts, the liberal candidate for North Kensington, failed to get a majority, as did also Sir John Gorton, an ex-minister at one time a member of the cabinet, who was defeated in the seat for St. John's Wood. On the other hand, Lord R. Cecil and G. Stewart Bowles, who ran as free trade unionists, failed in their attempt to oust Philip Snowden, the labor leader, and Sir Thomas Barclay, at Blackburn.

Workers had much to do with the defeat of Claude Hay, unionist, in the Hoxton division of Shoreditch. His opponent was Dr. C. Addison, a famous consulting surgeon. Hay, on the platform, made disparaging remarks about the profession and, as a result, the doctor indignantly turned out to assist Dr. Addison.

The liberals also won back the adjoining constituency of Haggerston, which was represented by Hon. R. Guinness, unionist, who was defeated yesterday by H. G. Chancellor.

The unionist leaders who ran yesterday, including A. J. Bonar Law, Walter Hume and Sir William Bull, Sir William being the man who caused a diversion by engaging in a fist fight recently with a heckler at Hammersmith, held their seats by increased majorities.

The naval question had a great effect in the dock yards ports. Portmouth gave the unionists two gains, Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and E. G. Falle, both being elected by huge votes, 16,777 and 15,592 respectively.

The polling was remarkably close, however, in many constituencies. IL E. Duke, the noted barrister, for example, won Exeter from the liberals by the narrow plurality of 26, while in the Peckham division of Camberwell, Henry Cubitt Gooch, who secured a majority of more than 2000 in the recent by-election, retains his seat by a bare 100. One liberal retained his seat by a majority of 10.

The general view of yesterday's contest bears out the theory. The north is solid for the government, the midlands section, especially in the vicinity of Birmingham, favors tariff reform. The victory of the unionists at Walsall points to an extension of Joseph Chamberlain's influence.

Crowds Watch Returns

The metropolises, which after the by-elections, which all went in favor of the unionists, was expected to make a clean turnover, is displaying a remarkably slight variation in representation, although the liberals are not obtaining the majorities that they did in 1906.

The unionists lay in the home counties, West Cheltenham, Exeter, Colchester and Bedford all returned unionists. The area, however, is too restricted, lacking big industrial centers, to afford them any great chance of success.

With the exception of three constituencies, the results of all yesterday's polling were announced last night.

Great crowds gathered in all the main streets in London, particularly Fleet street and the Strand, where the results were shown in front of the newspaper offices. One of the newspapers, a liberal organ, adopted the novel and striking device of throwing a searchlight on Gladstone's statue in the Strand when the returns showed that the liberals were assured of victory.

In the music halls, theatres and other places of entertainment the results were announced during the evening to big audiences.

John Burns' Victory

Burns of Battersea comes back with flying colors. Although in the great landslide of 1906 he won by 1600 votes, his normal majority is about 200, and in yesterday's hard-fought battle he defeated A. Shirley Benn, the unionist, by 556. The vote was: Burns 840, Benn 788.

Defeat has been predicted for "Honest" John perennially during the past decade, and Mr. Burns and his friends were considerably "dismayed" this year. Since the most picturesque figure in Westminster was sent to the house of commons by the enthusiastic support of the workmen and socialists of his home district as their spokesman, and since he held positions of increased responsibility, he has gradually outgrown his old radical ideas.

John Burns of yesterday is a vastly different politician from the old John Burns who exhorted the workmen in Trafalgar square to rise against the police. He has become one of the most conservative of liberals and is even said to be at heart a good Tory.

"Traitor" and "Renege"

John Burns has so far outlived his famous dictum that no man can honestly earn more than £2500 yearly that he holds a £10,000 position and is likely to be promoted to £25,000, although his style of living remains as modest as ever.

The "workmen of Battersea," as some of the laborers call him, has not hesitated to stand against some of the demands upon the government of some of his old-time friends when he considered them unreasonable. He has opposed the unemployed and has spoken plainly about the workmen's tendency toward improvidence and drink.

While he has gained the respect of all parties in parliament and is considered one of the ablest as well as one of the most interesting legislators, "traitor" and "renege" are some of the mildest terms applied to him in the labor camp.

Threats to overthrow him have been made this year than ever and his defeat was generally expected, but his engaging personality and his thorough canvass pulled him through.

A Shirley Benn, who is a prominent county councilor, made a strong tariff reform campaign and received much outside help, but "Honest" John, in his familiar jacket and "bowler" (derby) hat, he still scores the ministerial side and has been seen everywhere, renewing acquaintance with his old followers.

Campaign in Battersea

Hundreds of motors, bedecked with the unionist colors, purple and yellow, lined the Battersea streets yesterday, taking voters to the polls. A large number of them were drawn up outside the factories, waiting for the workmen to come out.

Benn's placards in the windows outnumbered the Burns' 10 to 1. The socialist posters remind the workmen that John Burns had said that taking votes to the polls was less than taking soup which some outside should have had when he visited the bread line on the embankment.

Another exhorted the voters to "turn the canting hypocrite out." Still another represented him in a court suit, labeled "The Gilded Popinjay."

Thousands of children paraded with Burns emblems on their banners, which said that under protection the father would have to rob the cat of its meat for his dinner.

The excitement in Battersea last night is greater than elsewhere in London. Immense crowds surrounded the candidate's quarters until a late hour waiting for the news. The enthusiasm at the headquarters of the president of the local government board was intense when the result was received.

Excitement in Woolwich

Woolwich was another scene of excitement. At this place the labor leader Will Crooks had a dramatic caption on his return from Australia on the eve of the election. Crooks went about the streets followed by a great crowd.

He was cheered everywhere and frequently stopped and made impromptu speeches from the steps of houses. One of his addresses was delivered in front of the headquarters of his antagonist, Maj. W. A. Adam, unionist, who viewed the scene from a window.

Numbers of the residents of Woolwich employed at the works of Vickers Sons & Maxim at Brith, a few miles out, were brought to town in automobiles to vote. Crooks was beaten by 200 votes, whereas in the previous election he defeated Maj. Adam by 212. The result was no surprise, for the government had turned out many laborers by reducing the work at Woolwich arsenal, and they and their friends were sworn to revenge.

Ten thousand Durham miners marched into Lutethead to oppose J. Johnson, the labor candidate for re-election, who has been against them on the eight-hour act.

On the way they attacked Marley Mill colliery, wrecked the offices and threw the books and other effects down the shaft. Special police were drafted to prevent another riot at night.

ONE WOMAN DEAD

Two Missing and Three Others Injured at a Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—One woman is dead, two others are missing, and three are seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, as the result of a fire yesterday which destroyed the Holmgren apartments at 431-4315 Walnut street, the fashionable section of West Philadelphia.

The dead woman is Mrs. Frances Evans of Baltimore, who died from the shock of being dragged from the burning building.

The bodies of Mrs. David C. Eaton and Mrs. S. L. Carpenter, the missing women, are believed to be buried in the ruins. Thomas Mulligan, a fireman, was also critically injured by falling from the roof of an adjoining building.

About twenty persons, mostly women, were in the rooms when the fire was first discovered. The frightened women were obliged to make their way down a fire escape in the rear of the building. Several of those who were in the front rooms had their escape cut off.

Mrs. Evans, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. S. King, was assisted from the burning building by the elevator boy and her daughter, but died of shock when she reached a neighboring house. Mrs. King was almost overcome with smoke and was slightly burned.

Mrs. Carpenter was a paralytic. Her nurse, Miss Elva Wirth made ineffectual efforts to assist her from the building, but was finally obliged to save her own life by climbing from a window in an adjoining house. It is believed that Mrs. Carpenter perished. Mrs. Eaton was in her room when the fire occurred and she has not since been seen.

LARGE INCREASE

IN IMPORTS AND THE EXPORTS REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The monthly statement of imports and exports issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor today presents figures for the month of and the 12 months ending with December, 1909, compared with like periods in 1908. The December imports were $133,742,292, an increase of $26,321,730 over those of December, 1908; exports, $171,622,157, a decrease of $17,188,717, compared with December, 1908. For the 12 months ending with December, 1909, the imports were $1,478,520,205 an increase of $359,146,116 over last year; exports $1,727,388,123, a decrease of $26,452,319 compared with last year. The excess of exports over imports in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, is $251,867,917, a decrease of $284,658,437 when compared with last year. Dutiable imports in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, were valued at $775,777,953, against $611,720,548 last year, an increase of $164,048,407; imports free of duty in the 12 months ending with December, 1909, $699,742,239 against $554,644,141 last year, an increase of $145,098,098. Dutiable exports during the months of December, 1909, were $1,058,022, against $56,016,657 in December last year; free imports in December, 1909, $77,684,270, against $55,904,906 in December of last year. Imports are 50 millions greater than in the earlier high record year, 1907; exports are about 26 millions less than last year, and nearly 200 millions below 1907. The increase in imports occurs chiefly in manufactures' materials; the decrease in exports occurs chiefly in foodstuffs, breadstuffs alone being more than 57 millions below 1908, and about 75 millions below 1907; meat and dairy products about 28 millions less than 1908, and about 44 millions less than 1907; and food animals 8 millions below 1908, and 17 millions below 1907.

The Charges Made Against Him by Mr. Hitchcock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Secretary Ballinger late last night issued a lengthy statement in which in most vigorous terms he declared the charges made by Representative Hitchcock before the congressional special committee and aimed at the interior department and the general land office were without foundation in fact.

Answering in turn each of the charges made yesterday by Mr. Hitchcock in his statement, Secretary Ballinger asserts that "insofar as they allege any extravagance, wrong doing or favoritism on my part they are absolutely without foundation."

"False, ridiculously false, equally false; equally ridiculous; a peculiarly unwarranted assault upon an efficient government officer" the last referring to Mr. Schwartz, chief of field service, are expressions which he uses in his repudiation of the various charges. In regard to appointing a relative, J. H. Ballinger, as confidential clerk when he became commissioner of land office, the secretary says this was because he was not personally acquainted before coming here with any officers or clerks in the land office and desired to have as confidential clerk some one he knew. He says that Judge Wright was removed, not to make way for J. H. Ballinger, but because Judge Wright's age, he being nearly 80, made him "physically disqualified to perform his duties." The vacancy on the law board, he says, was filled, not by Jack Ballinger, but by Judge Gray.

"He says that the 'certain large brick chimney' to which Mr. Hitchcock alluded 'was erected pursuant to a specific appropriation for that purpose by congress,' that the additional clerks in the land office complained were necessitated by the congressional appropriation of $1,000,000 for protecting public lands; and that the charge in regard to the purchase of furniture 'is on a par with that relating to the employment of additional clerks.'"

The music was by Hibbard's orchestra and when the grand march started the scene was very pleasing one. The galleries were packed and great interest, pleasure and attention were shown everywhere.

THE MILK DEALERS

Deny the State's Right to Fix the Milk Test

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The constitutionality of the milk standard law was argued before Chief Justice Knowlton and Judges Hammond, Bailey, Sheldon and Rugg in the supreme court yesterday. The question is raised in the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Alvah G. Wheeler, William Foss and Harry S. Walcott, who were found guilty of having in their possession to sell milk not up to the standard prescribed. The statute fixes the good standard as 12 and 15-100 per cent solids. Their milk had only 11 and 15-100 per cent.
